KLUXERS ARE SCORED

Medford Citizens Refuse to Vote
For Klansmen or Supporters

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 25.—Several well-known citizens of Jackson county, who style themselves as Independents, have attacked the Ku Klux Klan. In a published communication they say:

The self styled leaders of the republican and democratic parties in Jackson county, through published resolutions, have attempted to rebuke the action of lifelong, active and honored members of both parties who have condemned the influence of Ku Kluxism in politics.

We are loyal to the principles of the great political parties with which we have been affiliated, most of us from our first votes. But we have declined to be kluxed. As loyal American citizens we must uphold constitutional government and orderly execution of law. We denounce the effort of the leaders of the Ku Klux Klan to overthrow the former or to interfere with the latter.

We decline to vote for any candidate at the fall election in Jackson county, or the state of Oregon, who will avow or practice greater allegiance to the "invisible empire of the Ku Klux Klan" than to the constitution of the state of Oregon or of the United States of America, no matter upon what ticket his name may appear.

We shall likewise endeavor to defeat the election to office in Jackson county or the state of Oregon, of any candidate who is affiliated or in sympathy with, or apologetic for, such an organization.

We have organized for this purpose alone.

The communication is signed "executive committee," as follows:

Emil Britt, P. E. Bybee, Miles Cantrell, R. H. McCurdy, G. M. Roberts, Guy W. Conner, F. E. Merrick, Dr. J. M. Keene, Dr. R. W. Clancy, E. G. Brown, William Bays, A. E. Reames, D. F. Linds, Earl H. Meadow Larks Shot, Alleged

Six aliens had their hunting trip brought to an abrupt termination at Aspen lake yesterday when Marion Barnes and H. E. Meads appeared on the scene and arrested them on charges of killing protected birds and with hunting without a gun license, which is required of aliens.

The men arrested were Tony Mezzini, G. Marchionni, A. Forneri, C. Pardi, E. Pinelle and L. Sanguinetti. They were slated for a hearing in the justice court today.

According to the game wardens, the hunters had amused themselves by killing meadow larks. The remains of woodpeckers were found, indicating that they had also been killed. In addition to this they are charged with having gone away and left their camp fire burning.

A. Piernicini, an Italian, was arrested yesterday by Game Warden Barnes, charged with hunting without an alien gun license. He did have his hunting and fishing license, but these are not sufficient for an unnaturalized foreigner. CONTROVERSY OVER SCHOOL BOARD IS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Bradbury, Hessig and McCullom
Appointed By County, Tender
Their Resignations

Settlement of the controversy as to who constitute the board of the Klamath county school district was apparently reached this afternoon when R. E. Bradbury, J. H. Hessig and C. J. McCullom, members of the board appointed by the county court, passed a resolution tendering their resignations.

A recent count of the June election, under a mandamus order of the circuit court, showed that the highest number of votes were received by C. R. Bowman, G. W. Offield, Charles Mack, R. W. Towler and F. J. Bowne, who will probably constitute the new board.

The resolution makes no declaration of election of successors. It expresses intention of the resigning directors of escaping "any liability or any question of liability that might be incurred against us."

Antone Petrask, one of the original members appointed, who is absent from the state and Oscar Campbell, the other member, who filed a separate answer to the mandamus proceeding, did not join in the resolution.

YOUNG HUNTER IS KILLED BY HIS COMPANION

Emerson Fish Is Victim of Tragedy: Is Mistaken By
Friend for Deer

Emerson Fish, 22, was accidentally shot and killed by his hunting companion, J. Harry Hesse, near the Kesterson Lumber company camp, 11 miles west of Dorris late yesterday afternoon. Both young men were from Bandon, Oregon, and had driven over here to work in company with L. B. Hesse.

Coroner Whitlock, who investigated the tragedy together with Sheriff Barnes when it was reported here by Hesse early today, said the accident occurred about 9 o'clock last night. Fish and Hesse had been deer hunting and had separated to go around a knoll. Hesse came upon some deer but failed to bring one down. He had sat on a rock to await their coming when he heard them returning, apparently frightened by Fish who, unknown to Hesse, was approaching from another direction. It was then about dark, but Hesse saw something move and fired. He heard the deer going through the brush and, concluded he had missed, returned to camp.

When Fish failed to return some time later a search was instituted which resulted in the finding of his body about 50 yards from the place where Hesse had shot. The bullet from Hesse's 30-30 rifle had penetrated his neck, killing him instantly.

The body was brought to this city and Coroner Whitlock will hold an inquest at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

CAVEMAN DAYS OVER

Old Time Idea of Perfect Lover Is No Longer In Favor

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The old-time cave man idea of a perfect lover has been supplanted by the modern version of "Faint Heart Always Wins Fair Lady," now in feminine favor along with bobbed hair, short skirts and rolled hose.

In the scenarios of 19,000 women submitted in a contest conducted by a large Chicago newspaper, the bashful hero outnumbered the bold and fearless one eight to one, according to James Shryock, director of the competition.

"This was a revelation to the judges who were famous authors, directors, educators, dramatic critics and actors," he said. "They, with conventional literary opinions, believed women in real life worshipped the leonine, dashing, confident type of hero, choosing him for her husband when his assurance and possessive manner had captured her heart."

"But the stories showed unmistakably that women, when given a chance to express their real likes and dislikes as they did in this contest, many of them writing under non de plumes, prefer the stammering, wishful, bashful lover rather than the cave man type."

They were careful to draw the distinction between timidity and fear, Shryock said. The great majority of heroes were retiring in manners and backward in approach but brave in morals and, when aroused, courageous in physical combat.

This was attributed by some judges to the fact that women prefer being worshipped to being mastered. Others were of the opinion that this showed women want husbands who would be too bashful to flirt with other women. They men don't desert their wives, they said. Still others declared this signified woman's natural desire to mother and protect timorous men.

FIRE CHIEF IS VICTIM OF HOT MAIN ST. BLAZE

Falling Floor Precipitates
Two Firemen Into Flames:
Ambrose Will Recover

Fire Chief Kieth Ambrose narrowly escaped death in fighting fire of undetermined origin which almost totally destroyed the two frame buildings at 534-535 Main street shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Ambrose and Roy Biehn were holding a hose on the second floor when the floor collapsed, precipitating both to the ground floor. Biehn managed to extricate himself but Ambrose was held down by fallen timbers and was unable to move. When rescued a few minutes later he had been overcome with smoke and was unconscious. At the Warren Hunt hospital this afternoon it was said he was resting comfortably and that his speedy recovery was expected. He was not burned nor internally injured, it was said.

Six lines of hose poured steady streams of water into the building, which was a roaring furnace within a few minutes after the fire had broken out in an upper back room, and within three-quarters of an hour, when the fire was extinguished, the building was completely gutted. Brick walls saved the American National Bank building on one side and the Klamath Packing company building on the other.

The main building is owned by Chas. Swingle and the other by Henry Bolvin. The Eagle pool hall occupied the ground floor of the latter's building, while the other was vacant. The whole upper floor was occupied by the Star rooms, under lease to Mrs. Etta Moore. Some insurance was carried by the lessees and owners, but the exact amounts had not been determined today.

This was the first fire of a serious nature to occur here in a long period, and was the first time the new fire truck has had an opportunity to extend itself. The truck proved entirely satisfactory, it was said.

The water supply proved ample, according to J. C. Boyle of the California Oregon Power company. At the rate the water was being used with six lines of hose, he said, the supply in the reservoir would have lasted six hours longer.

Officials of the American National bank today were warm in their praises for the work of the firemen, to which they attributed the fact that the fire failed to spread to adjoining structures.

"The fire department is deserving of a whole lot of credit, in my opinion," said E. M. Bubb. "I believe the city owes them a vote of thanks."
