Speaking For His Own

"How do you like your new car?" asked the Lizzie driver.

"Great," replied the Big Six driver. "It runs so smoothly you can't feel it. Not a bit of noise; you can't hear it. Perfect ignition, you can't smell a thing. And speed—why it whizzes! Can't see it."

"Must be some car," ventured the Lizzie driver. "Can't feel it, can't smell it, can't hear it, and can't see it. How do you know it is there?"

Which is Right

"What happens when a man's temperature goes down as low as it can go?"

"He gets cold feet," answered a small pupil.

If autumn comes, can winter be so far
Removed that fear will not creep in to jar
The nonchalant householder to his soul
And make him wonder where He'll get his coal?

A New "Wan" On Pat

Patrick Callahan, the well-known plasterer, was discovered standing before a local store which displayed a large sign, "Nut Sundae."

Pat gazed at the sign a long time and then said to Hennessey, who had come to the door.

"Ash Wednesday, Shrove Tuesday, Good Friday—say, this is a new wan on me.

MOVIES

THE LIBERTY

"The Saze Brush Trail" the new western which appears at the Liberty theatre today only is a picture which carries the utmost in adventure and romance. Written by H. H. Van Loan, the well known author of such screen successes as "The Virgin of Stamboul," "The Great Redeemer," and "Fightin' Mad," he declares it to be his greatest western, even surpassing the last-mentioned picture in points of interest. It takes the spectator on a fascinating journey to the heart of the West and offers him a story of rapid action and suspense.

The cast is of all-star proportions —including such popular favorites as Roy Stewart, Wallace Beery, Johnny Walker and Marjorie Daw. It is a tale of a fearless sheriff who reforms the toughest town west of the Mississippi through the skill of a trigger finger, but who is frightened by a pair of petulant lips.

THE STRAND

Tonight at The Strand "Black Sheep" will be shown and it is said that it is one of the most realistic pictures now being exhibited. The fight between the sheep herder and the cattleman is such a true likeness to some of the old time scraps that a cattleman in Chicago, seeing Neal Hart as the sheepherder winning the fight took a couple of shots at the picture.

Maybe that story is a little strong, but anyway you'll enjoy the picture. It will give you thrills from start to finish. There are riding and roping scenes that cannot be beat.

Sunday the wonderful animal picture, "The Four Seasons" will be shown. That is said to be the greatest animal picture ever produced and takes one to all parts of the world and at all times of the year. It interests old and young and entertains as well as instructs.

DEFECTS ARE NOTED IN INDIAN SCHOOLS' PLAN OF INSTRUCTION

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The greatest defect in the present Indian educational program is that it does not carry the Indian far enough along civilized ways, in the opinion of Dr. Elmer E. Higley, Chicago superintendent of Indian work of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"Our schools for Indian children do not take them far enough," he said. "Open for them the best schools afford them the opportunities of college training and the problem of 'going back to the blanket' will be solved. It is estimated that not three per cent of those receiving high school education ever go back to their native customs.

"Many object to the evangelizing of the Indian because of sentimental reasons. 'The Indian in his primitive condition is so picturesque,' they say. 'Leave him alone against the background of his colorful paganism and his untutored savagery.'

"Certain Indians have resented the intrusion of the white man's religion. The cause of this resentment has not been so much in the intuitive desire to hold to pagan rites as it has been long hatred engendered by cruelties and injustices which the red men have suffered at the hands of their white brothers.

"The Indian's earlier contact with white men and the Christian religion was unfortunate. His opinions were based largely upon what he saw of the borders of our civilization. To these borders came the white traders, usually a class having no scruples against taking advantage of the red man.

"The false impression has been and is now rapidly undergoing change. The educated among Indians especially are recognizing its superior merit. They know the old faiths are false and now are calling for preachers and teachers to direct them the way of the 'Jesus Road.'"

The final test

The real value of a motor lubricant can be determined in only one way—through its use in the engine for which it is intended.

Hence this company maintains an engine-testing laboratory, equipped with a Sprague dynamometer, in which Zerolene and other lubricants are constantly being tested under actual operating conditions.

This dynamometer laboratory is in charge of competent trained men, who spend all their time in conducting comparative tests of Zerolene and other lubricants in automobile, airplane, marine, truck and tractor engines.

Correct Lubrication Recommendations

On the results of these tests, supplemented by equally careful tests in the field and on the road, our Board of Lubrication Engineers bases its Chart of Recommendations.

Close attention is given to the design and construction of the engine. It is necessary to know, first, the speed of the bearing surfaces; second, clearance between bearing surfaces; third, temperatures at which bearings operate; fourth, pressures exerted in each bearing; fifth, the means provided for the distribution of the oil to each bearing.

The recommendations embodied in the Zerolene Chart are calculated with the greatest precision, and if Zerolene is used in accordance with them, correct lubrication and maximum fuel mileage are assured.
