Doing Fine

"I hear your wife is quite a marksman. Has she made any records?"

"Yes; three guides, five windows, and a cow."

"Another question: Why is it the busy man has time to shave every day or every other day while the street loafer cannot find time to shave once a week? Inquires Jim Givans.

A Chicago man bought a wife for $135 and now reports say that she has run away. Our suggestion to a man with $135 who wants something that won't run is to invest it in a second hand motor car.

His Fix

"Senator, what about summer heard?"

"Guess I'll have to pay for it. Nobody seems inclined to send me to a peace conference.

Naturally Endowed

The woman said she wanted a book to give her little boy on his birthday, something useful and instructive.

"Here's an excellent one on 'Self Help!'" said the clerk.

"Self Help!" she exclaimed. "He doesn't need any instruction in that line—you ought to see him at a party."

John Keller says after a man finds out he can make a speech he begins to on the slightest provocation.

Jack—What is it when you're married twice at the same time?

Ed—Polygamy.

Jack—And when you're married only once?

Ed—Monotony.

"I'll see you!" cried the strip-poker fiend, as he slapped down four aces.

Dear Office Cat—Here's one, all done in nice gold letters, on a loan office in Marion, Ind.:

Unmarried Life

Tim—"How are you getting along at home while your wife's away?"

Jim—"Fine, I've reached the height of efficiency. I can put on my socks now from either end."

Luther Burbank has produced a new porch but we suppose it would be too much to expect that it hasn't fazed on it.

Where the Trouble Lay "Did you have any difficulty with your French in Paris?"

"No—but the French people did."

They Can't Get Away

"Did Highlee succeed in obtaining a divorce?"

"Yes, and he has already been revamped."

"But few girls have a dignified carriage," snorts Chief Wilson.

Aw, cheer up, said Sheriff Low, that's just the fashionable debutante slouch.

Few Ball Players Are Being Developed Now By John McGraw

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—In late years Manager John J. McGraw of the Giants has almost ceased to develop young ball players, and due somewhat to the local competition of the Yankees for the city's patronage, has been forced more and more to go into the market and buy his pennant winners with the coin of the realm.

McGraw has developed marvelous players and has combined them effectively in his time but of the present team only four of those who can be classified as "regulars" received their tutelage from John J. The others were bought or traded from other major league clubs or picked up as virtually finished products from the minors.

Of the first string pitchers Arthur Neff and Jess Barnes veterans of last year's series, and Hugh McQuillan were obtained from Boston. Catcher Frank Snyder was taken from St. Louis several years ago. Earl Smith made a record in the International league but he bears the trademark of a McGraw product.

At first base George Kelly learned most of what he knows from McGraw, as did Frisch, the regular second baseman. At shortstop Captain Davy Baneroff came from Philadelphia and at third base, Heine Groh, once of the Giants, has spent too much time in Cincinnati to be included among the home-grown.

Nor is McGraw's record bolstered by the insertion of Johnny Rawlings into the infield. He has been there much of the summer, due to the series of injuries to Groh. Frisch has gone from second to third and Rawlings has subbed at second, but, like his mate at shortstop, Rawlings came from the Quakers.

In the outfield only Ross Young is considered a McGrawite. "Irish" Muesel came with the troop from the Quaker City, as did Casey Stengel.
