

FIVE INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

theft of a suit of clothing and two shirts, July 25.

Mrs. Ollie Blowers is charged with the murder of Tom Montoya, Mexican sheep herder September 1. Montoya's body containing two bullet holes was found near her road house. She was held on evidence purporting to show that her tracks were found leading to the place where the murder occurred.

Not true bills were returned in the cases of Howard Schildgren, charged with larceny of a Ford car from the Comet Electric company, and Pat O'Neal, charged with criminal syndicalism.

The grand jury cited that the present county jail which is also the city jail, is "wholly inadequate in respect to its size and arrangements of quarters, and unfit from a sanitary standpoint," and that in the past and at present "persons of all ages, including boys under 20 are held under all degrees of crimes, regardless of mental moral or criminal development." It also cited that the same conditions held true in the woman's quarters of the jail, and that the jail was insecure as was shown by the number of prisoners that had escaped, "some of which are still at large."

It was urged that steps be taken to provide a county jail suitable and safe, and that temporary quarters be secured for boys and women if it were not possible immediately to provide a county jail.

In the recommendation for strict supervision of dance halls, the grand jury said that in investigating the conditions it has been found, "in some instances at least, the conditions prevailing at, and especially near by such dance halls, are disorderly and detrimental to society, especially to our young people, as well as in violation of the law." It was urged that the sheriff and chief of police and other officers diligently enforce the law in this respect, and that the district attorney diligently prosecute all violations.

The members of the grand jury were: F. H. Cefer, foreman, Martha E. Cowley, Phillip Oden, Charles Axel, R. F. Tuttle, A. H. Newton and R. J. Tucker.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES

Barometric conditions changed but little during the last 24 hours, the Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy recording an unbroken line for over 12 hours. A slight rise occurred this morning but the movement was not long sustained. Indications are that weather conditions for the next twelve hours will be similar to those that have prevailed for the last two days.

Forecast for next 24 hours: Unsettled, with occasional showers. The Tycoos recording thermometer registered maximum and minimum temperatures today, as follows:
High 55
Low 41

SINNOTT HOME AGAIN

Representative From Second District Visiting His District

THE DALLES, Oct. 5.—Nicholas J. Sinnott, representative in congress of the second congressional district, arrived home Sunday night and was busy Monday greeting old friends here. During the time he will be in Oregon, Sinnott will visit the territory embraced by his district. Considering the fact that this district is larger than any of the states east of the Mississippi and some of its counties are larger than Eastern states, he will have his hands full in the next few weeks. Congress, according to Sinnott, is expecting to be called into special session in November in order that it may get a flying start on business and get the appropriation measures for the fiscal year out of the way.

As ranking member of the house committee on irrigation, Sinnott has led the fight for the development of the western lands. The $100,000 appropriation for the Baker irrigation project has added 60,000 acres to the tillable land of the state.

During the ensuing year the following appropriations will be considered: $700,000 for the Baker project; completion of the McKey dam in the Umatilla project and $700,000 for the Klamath project, opening of the Malheur national forest under provision that a railroad shall be built from Crane into Bear valley through Burns. Sinnott will leave Wednesday evening for Bend.
