PRICE FIVE CENTS

G. O. P. VICTORY IS GENERAL IN PRIMARY VOTE

Only 14 Out of 259 House Members Defeated; 2 Senators Fail

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—Chairman Adams of the republican national committee has submitted official figures of the party primary results to set at rest definitely and for good, false impressions that dissatisfaction with sitting republican members of the senate and house of representatives had resulted in "revolts" at the polls this year.

Only fourteen out of 259 republicans who sought re-nomination by the voters of their districts were defeated in the contests for house seats and but two republican senators. The Beveridge and Frazier victories in the party primaries in Indiana and North Dakota were hailed by administration critics as indicative of a "general unrest" among voters of all parties and "widespread dissatisfaction" with the Harding regime within the ranks of the president's own party. Chairman Adams cites the results of the party primaries to establish the contrary.

Defeat Due Local Causes

In the cases of the fourteen republican "lame ducks" Chairman Adams points out "the causes which contributed to their defeat were local" and the voters of their respective districts were not intending to repudiate the president or his administration.

After citing that with the exception of Rhode Island all states have their primaries for choice of congressional candidates. Chairman Adams said the "results clearly show that the rank and file of the republican party are satisfied with the work and personnel of the republican majority in the present congress."

Illinois Contributed Two to the List of Republican Congressmen Defeated for Re-nomination

Adams continued, "Kansas one, Missouri one, New Jersey two, New Mexico one, New York one, Pennsylvania four and Wisconsin one."

Four Get Senate Change

"Four republican incumbents of the house did not seek re-nomination as representatives, but asked for and received the nominations of their parties as candidates for the United States senate. There were Congressman Mundell of Wyoming, Haddock of Montana, Fess of Ohio and Greene of Vermont."

BOY SHOT BY HIS BROTHER WHILE ON HUNTING EXCURSION

Raymond Hilton Suffers Injured Eye; 15 Shots Hit Body; Wounds Not Serious

Raymond Hilton, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hilton, was accidentally shot by his elder brother, Marvin, during a quail hunt at Bonanza yesterday. His injuries were slight.

The boys were accompanied by their father and had stirred up some birds. Raymond and his brother were 75 yards apart, when the former became the accidental target for Marvin's gun. Two of the shot pellets lodged in the left eye. Examination by a physician, however, determined that sight will not be impaired. Three shots struck other parts of the face and 15 hit the boy's arm and body.

RIVAL REFERENDUM

Expressions of Opinion on Rail Un-merger Being Sought

Addressed to the "entire membership" of the chamber of commerce, another referendum is being taken to determine public opinion on the rail unmerger question. Letters and ballots were mailed out Saturday by Wm. Marx, who states he is acting for a committee of the chamber of commerce whose expression of opinion has not been sought.

The referendum is based on the allegation that the chamber mailed ballots only to those in good standing, some 202 out of a possible 400, according to Secretary Stevenson. The letter alleges that ballots were mailed to "152 of its 452 members." The voter is asked to signify on the card whether he desires control of this territory by one railroad or would prefer competitive lines.

STORE'S 'BIGGEST' DAY

Sugarman Claims Sales Saturday Broke 17-Year Record

"The biggest day in the history of the store," said K. Sugarman, speaking of the results of Saturday, the opening day of the Yon Kippur sale. "We have had some big sale days in the last 17 years, but Saturday's receipts eclipsed them all."

Saturday night was reserved as far as possible for workmen and women and workers jammed the aisles from 7 to 9 o'clock. The cash registers flagged without an intermission and the sales slips on the cashier's spindled mounted by inches.

Despite the addition of a dozen extra clerks, the sales force was unable to cope with the crowd and many left empty-handed, to return later when the congestion was less great.

ANOTHER RAISE IS GRANTED BY U. S. R'Y BOARD

2,300 Yardmasters Get 25 Per Cent Increase and Eight-Hour Day

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—An eight hour day with overtime, said to amount to nearly 25 per cent pay increase, were granted approximately 2,300 yardmasters on 26 class - railroads and at six switching terminals by the railroad labor board today.

This is the first time a board has established rules and working conditions for yardmasters who now are classified as subordinate officials and are subject to the board's jurisdiction under the transportation act.

SEEK MISSING PLANE

Search Instituted for Men on Photographic Expedition

PORTLAND, Oct. 16.—Airplanes, radio and searching parties figured in plans today for a search for W. R. Gordon, air pilot, and Charles S. Woodruff, photographer, missing since Friday when they started for Mount Hood to photograph the highways of that vicinity.

Wireless was invoked to get into touch with landing fields where the men might have landed. An aviator planned to fly over the country, and searching parties to start if other means fail.

Reports from upper Hood River valley say residents there saw no plane last week.

MAUGHAN WINS RACE

Aviator Unconscious Part of Time, Makes Terrific Speed

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., Oct. 16.—Unconscious at times, due to the terrific speed at which he rushed through the heavens, and during his conscious moments haunted by fears for the condition of his wife, who momentarily expects to become a mother, Lieutenant R. L. Maughan, an army aviator flying an army Curtiss high speed pursuit plane, won the Pulitzer trophy aerial race here late Saturday. He traveled the 160-mile course at an average speed of 296 miles an hour.

When he brought his plane to earth, Lieutenant Maughan was so exhausted that he leaned against the ship for several minutes until he revived.

AMERICAN LEGION ANNUAL CONVENTION OPENS, NEW ORLEANS

Meeting Held Within Rifle Shot of Square Made Famous by Andrew Jackson

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16.—Declarations that the American Legion regarded the interests of disabled service veterans as first responsibility, and that "with regard to the adjusted compensation act we have just started to fight," were the outstanding points in the address of Handford MacNeider, national commander, before the fourth annual convention opening today. "Adjusted compensation legislation is right—we know it is right and right always prevails in America," he said.

The meeting is being held in a converted warehouse on the river front, decorated with flags of the allied nations, and red white and blue bunting, delegates were clad in uniforms, civilian clothes and costumes adopted by state delegations.

The request for a $19,000,000 appropriation to equip hospitals now being constructed and to build additional hospitals for neuro-psychiatric patients was contained in a report of the rehabilitation commission. The report criticized government achievements to date in caustic language.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 16.—The American Legion opened its national convention here today, within a rifle shot of the historic square where Andrew Jackson mustered a sharpshooting army of frontiersmen and gulf pirates to fight British veterans of the Napoleonic wars, somewhat more than a century ago.

New Orleans, graceful product of three civilizations—Spanish, French and American—made its guests welcome, and in the narrow streets and wrought iron balconies of the old French quarter, there was more than a hint of the French towns with which the veterans of the A. E. F. grew familiar overseas.

Buddies Lost Heavier

The Legion "buddies" are a bit roomier around the waist, some of them, than they were four years ago, when the fighting in the Argonne was drawing to a close, and they are distinctly more comfortable today than they were in those war-harassed French towns, where quarters were scarce and even stables were at a premium. But they were the same old A. E. F. gang—the same hurrah and noise, the same spirit of "Let's go" pervaded their 1922 assemblage.

The Legion will be the guest of New Orleans for five days. During that time, it is expected it will once more declare itself with some excitement.

Advertisers

Copy for display advertising must be in this office not later than 3 o'clock p. m. on the day preceding publication in order to insure insertion in the paper issued next day.

Deviation from this rule in an attempt to accommodate advertisers results in several evils. It causes delay in distribution of the papers. When the paper is late from the press it is late in reaching subscribers—sometimes it is not delivered until next morning—and the value to the advertiser is impaired. It is to the advertiser's own interest to co-operate by getting his copy in early.

Attempts to handle late copy disrupt our organization and so heavily increase the overhead cost that we find it absolutely is a losing proposition. We ask the co-operation of the advertiser in remedying this condition, for mutual advantage.

PIERCE LOANED FRAUDULENTLY GAINED FUNDS

Another Chapter Added to Manipulations of Democratic Candidate

Another chapter was added to Senator Walter M. Pierce's fraudulent manipulations in connection with the state school fund today when Claude E. Ingalls, secretary of the Republican state central committee, issued a statement charging that soon after the senator had borrowed 25,000 from the fund at 6 per cent through dummy applicants he loaned a portion of it out at 8 per cent says the Portland Telegram.

The senator used his two brothers, a sister, and two business associates as dummy applicants to secure the loans, and several days ago Ingalls made public facsimiles of their applications, and mortgages to the state.

Under the rules and regulations of the land board no one individual can borrow more than $5000 from the fund, and to circumvent it the senator deeded his lands to his relatives and business associates, had them apply for the loans, and after they had been made he had the land reconveyed to himself.

Pierce Loaned Money

Since making this exposure Ingalls has been probing further into the transactions and he now charges that the Umatilla county mortgage records show that shortly after the loans had been fraudulently secured from the state, the senator loaned out a portion of the money to several individuals.

Admitting the transactions in a speech at Bend the other evening, Senator Pierce declared "if his was the first act" he had ever committed he could expect "to go to heaven in a white sheet."

Borrowed at 6 Per Cent

"I believe that Pierce was correct when he said in his speech that this was not the worst act he had ever committed," said Ingalls in his statement today. "He has done other things worse than borrowing money from the school fund by sharp practices."

"For example, if Pierce had been hard up and had made these dummy sales of his lands to his relatives and business associates because he needed money there might, at least, have been the excuse of necessity for his action in thus defrauding other farmers of the opportunity to secure farm loans at 6 per cent.

Made Loans at 8 Per Cent

"But the records show that Pierce was loaning out this money thus secured from the state land board at a higher rate of interest. For instance, volume XXVIII, page 162, of the Umatilla county mortgage records for 1903 show that within a few days after he secured this money from the state land board he loaned a portion of it to George M. Lightfoot and wife on a farm mortgage at 8 per cent. The records also show that at this time Pierce loaned to Marie E. Cooley and husband $20,000 at 8 per cent, and that when the loan expired it was renewed by a demand note, a most unusual kind of a note for so large a sum of money on a mortgage.

Made Many Loans

"There are numerous records of loans made by Pierce during this period and all that time farmers in Eastern Oregon and in Western Oregon were besieging the State Land board for 6 per cent money which they were unable to get because the supply was exhausted.

"It will be noted, too, that in his own application for a loan, Pierce gives his occupation as 'attorney at law.' Evidently at that time he hadn't started in on the 'we farmers and grangers' line of talk.

Lugs in Chamberlain

"Pierce endeavors to squirm out of his predicament by saying that he had talked the matter over with Governor Chamberlain, giving out the inference that Chamberlain approved the transaction. I have no way, of course, of knowing whether Chamberlain was a party to this sharp practice or not, but it certainly would have been better taste on the part of the non-parian candidate for

RETIMBER ARGONAUT

40 Feet of Shaft of Ill-Fated Gold Mine Repaired by Workmen

JACKSON, Calif., Oct. 16.—Workmen have completed the retimbering of forty feet of the main shaft of the Argonaut mine which was recently destroyed by a fire resulting in the death of forty-seven miners.

For several days last week a great volume of water was hurled down the Argonaut shaft to extinguish all fire. As soon as the retimbering is finished, the work of drawing the water out will be started.

The adjoining Kennedy mine has laid a pipe line connecting its 3,600 foot level with the 4,200 foot level of the Argonaut to carry off water that might flow from the Argonaut through the connecting shaft between the two.

This for Politicians Only Here's a Red Hot Tip

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Mr. Politician Candidate, if you use Uncle Sam's mails to garner in the sheaves, be sure your stumping letters and other mail matter are sent correctly. Be sure the addresses you use are correct. Don't use ancient mailing lists or city directories to get the home addresses of those you desire for your followers.

Such is the warning of the post-office department, in announcing that the amount of dead letter material received at the dead letter office during the months of June, July and August in which many primaries were held, showed an increase of approximately 25 per cent over the amount received during the same months of last year. The greater portion of this matter, it is believed, is political, although, officials said, the ten per cent increase in general postal business may account for a similar increase in the dead matter.

Department officials believe that use of out-of-date mailing lists and city directories accounts for so many undeliverable letters. For, it is repeated, if there is no return address upon a letter incorrectly addressed, or if the address cannot be reached, the letter goes into the dead department ultimately to be destroyed.

As many as seven and eight thousand such letters have come in from one city alone, it was declared.
