

SALE MEETS SUCCESS

Perkins Does Largest Business in History of Store

The sale which started a week ago at the Perkins Furniture House has developed into the biggest thing of its kind ever put on here. Perkins stated this morning that he did more business last week than he ever before transacted in any one week in Klamath Falls, and that he had many good weeks too.

While the sale is scheduled to continue through this week, the arrival of new shipments is the only thing which has kept the stock from a very material depletion, according to Perkins, who says he is busy sending in orders. Another thing which is of interest to buyers is Perkins' statement that the wholesalers and jobbers are advancing prices right along but there will be no advance in the store here until after this sale.

The success of this sale is credited to the advertising in the Herald by Perkins, who says that without advertising his business would be pretty slow. He has tried both ways and knows.

ALGOMA

Clarence Pingree has been building a garage for his car.

John Hagelston and Ray Cox have been burning the rye stubble off of their land so they would be able to disk and plow the soil.

D. L. McLemore has been driving large numbers of cattle through here recently.

THE STRAND

Those who love the pictures of the great Northwest should be at the Strand tonight and see "Go Get Him," with Big Bill Fairbanks as the star. It is a story of love and fights which combine in a setting of wonderful scenes in the territory of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police.

Tomorrow night will be ten cent night to everybody. Manager White says that these low priced shows are the most popular entertainments ever given in Klamath Falls. A program is given each evening just as good and just as long as when a higher price is paid. Three shows are given each evening to accommodate the crowds.

THE LIBERTY

"Carnival," the long awaited international photoplay which is being shown at the Liberty theatre Tuesday is a picture gorgeous in production and beautiful in setting. Harley Knoles who produced it so out-distances any picture ever made abroad by an American technical staff that there is nothing with which to compare it. The picture was made in Venice, the picturesque canals forming no small part of the film's attraction. The carnival scenes of revelry are truly magnificent; so magnificent and so prolonged that you forget the object of the play almost, the real interest of which is crowded into the last half-hour or so of an exhibition that lasts for the better part of two hours.

WE want to thank the Klamath public for their expression of good will and the wonderful patronage given us at our Opening Saturday. We offer an apology to those who were unable to get waited on. We hope with Quality Merchandise, Courteous Treatment and Right Prices to merit a continuance of a share of your valuable patronage
