NEW BOX FIRE ALARM SYSTEM IS INSTALLED

Citizens Urged to Become Familiar With Use; Locations Are Given

Klamath's new box fire alarm system has been installed and is ready for use, it was announced today by Fire Chief Ambrose. Twenty-six boxes have been erected in various parts of the city. The system will be accepted and paid for when approved by the state fire marshal. "People living in the vicinity of boxes are urged to use them in case of fire," said Ambrose. "I would also urge that citizens practice fire prevention in their homes."

Huge Fire Loss

"Last year in the United States the fire loss reached the enormous sum of $485,000,000, with a loss of 15,000 lives and injuries to 16,000. Of the lives lost 83 per cent were women and children."

"In this city last year from January 1 to September 1 the insurance loss was about $60,000. This year the loss has been $29,000 over about the same period of time, and every fire that has occurred during the past year has been preventable."

"The present city administration has spent considerable money to insure first class fire protection and the public is invited to inspect the new system and see just what has been accomplished along lines of fire prevention. Instructions for use of the alarm boxes are printed on the boxes or will be gladly given to anyone on request."

Box Locations Given

Following is a list of the alarm boxes, with numbers and locations: 13, Shippington; 14, Octavia and Cypress West Side school; 15, South Riverside; 16, Conger avenue; 17, Payne alley and Main street; 18, Third and Jefferson; 23, Third and Main; 24, Fourth and Pine; 25, Fifth and Washington; 26, Fifth and Main; 27, Sixth and Klamath; 32, Sixth and Oak; 34, Sixth and Spring; 35, Seventh and Main; 36, Ninth and Main; 37, Eighth and Jefferson, Catholic school; 42, Ninth and Grant; 43, Prospect and Upham; 45, Worden and Donald, Fairview school; 46, East and Crescent; 47, Ninth and High; 52, Main and Esplanade; 53, Eldorado and Esplanade; 54, Pacific Terrace and Esplanade; 56, Main and Spring; 57, East Main and Orchard, Mills Addition school.

DAN RYAN MARRIED

Dan Ryan, Fort Klamath stockman and one of the county's best known residents, surprised his friends yesterday by coming quietly into town for his wedding with Mrs. Amy L. Colahan. They were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Keller at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by the Rev. Johnson, with Mr. and Mrs. Keller as the only witnesses. Soon after the ceremony they left for their home at Fort Klamath.

KILLED THIRD WIFE, CHARGE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26.—Henry J. Burns was booked on a murder charge today accused of killing his third wife, whose mutilated body was found in a shallow grave in the woods of Mentor marsh late yesterday.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES

The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy registered another fall in barometric pressure this morning, indicating that high winds will prevail for the greater part of the night, unless conditions are relieved by a shower.

Forecast for next 24 hours: Cloudy and warm followed by unsettled weather. Brisk winds tonight. The Tycoos recording thermometer registered maximum and minimum temperatures today, as follows:

KLAMATH PRAISED IN SAN FRANCISCO NEWSPAPER STORIES

Reception Here Declared Best of Ever Trade Extension Tour; Local Men Thanked

In the accounts of the San Francisco chamber of commerce trade excursion published in San Francisco newspapers, Klamath Falls has figured largely, special emphasis being laid by the writers on the reception accorded the visitors here.

Elford Edye, in The Call says, "The biggest surprise of the excursion was the reception accorded the visitors at Klamath Falls. It was the best I have seen anywhere during this year's three-trade extension excursions."

Klamath Men Thanked

"Resolutions were passed thanking W. C. Dalton, president of the American National bank, who entertained the visitors Sunday on his ranch; E. B. Hall, chairman of the smoker given by Klamath Falls business men to the San Franciscans last Saturday night; M. S. West, president, and T. A. Stevenson, secretary of the Klamath Falls chamber of commerce."

Walter G. Swanson, Chicago staff correspondent, had the following to say: "Klamath Falls, the last city on the itinerary of the trade excursion, with its streets placarded with signs welcoming the San Franciscans and a chummy banquet prepared by the wives of the citizens, brought a wonderful climax to the trade extension trip. The spontaneity of the frequent and riotous applause that occurred during the talks of the San Francisco speakers told of the feeling existing for the Bay city."

Banquet Made Impression

"The banquet, in the opinion of the trade envoys, will never be forgotten in San Francisco. It was one of those affairs in which a friendly townspeople can excel. The sort of a love feast where the representative citizens of both the cities sing 'Sweet Adeline' simply because they feel like singing and not because they have any propaganda to spread. Its success was jointly based upon the sincerity of the diners and the quality of the food presented by the wives of the community and announced by Chairman Hall as a simple home cooked meal for our intimate friends from San Francisco."

Journal Story Complete

L. P. Boyce of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, who acted as correspondent for the San Francisco Journal, was equally laudatory in his account of the visitors' stay here. In an excellent article of some length, Boyce related in detail the events transpiring from Saturday until Sunday night, when the special train left.

JUNIORS WIN CONTEST

Other Classes of High School Out-classed in Ticket Sales

As a result of the Junior class of the high school having defeated the other three classes in sale of tickets for the Medford-Klamath football game, the Junior pennant will remain in the assembly hall until the present student ticket contest ends. Both Seniors and Juniors are determined to win the next contest, as is indicated by the meetings they have held to discuss plans.

SLAYER KNOWN TO WITNESS IN DOUBLE MURDER

Mrs. Gibson Says She Has Identified Man Who Fired Shots

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 26.—Mrs. Jane Gibson, a pig raiser, who claims to have witnessed the murder of the Rev. Hill and Mrs. Mills, today told a newspaperman she had identified the man who she says shot the rector as well as identifying the woman who, she asserts, was with the slayer.

Mrs. Gibson, who was on the Phillips farm on the night of the double murder looking for corn thieves, and who claims to have heard the slayer's name called by his woman companion, said she did not know the identity of the slayer at the time, but that she recently recognized him in the prosecutor's office in New Brunswick.

Mrs. Gibson, who it was learned yesterday had told the authorities the name of the slayer's companion, said today she had once met her at a rummage sale and instantly recognized her at the scene of the murder on the Phillips farm. She added she had seen her since the double killing and was sure of the recognition.

DUST CLOSES SCHOOLS

Storm Held Worst in History of City; Housewives Aroused

Closing of the city schools was one result of the dust storm that enveloped this city in clouds of volcanic ash particles which filled the eye, ear, nose and throat, and aroused the wrath of housewives.

The worst dust storm in the history of the city, was the opinion of old residents.

"Probably the end of the world," offered Lloyd DeLap, circuit court clerk. "I was reading in a magazine only last night—the Pictorial Review, it was—that the world was going to be brought to an end by dust storms."

"In that case," ventured Balliff Mattoon, "you will have no further use for your tobacco. Let's have yours."

"My goodness!" ejaculated one irate housewife. "Here I have just cleaned house, and now I've got to do all over again. If this don't beat all!"

WOMAN INSPIRED KEMAL WITH DREAM OF REVIVED TURKEY

Halid Edib Hanoum Is Credited With Being Power Behind Throne of Powerful Moslem Leader

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The woman behind Kemal.

That's what they call Halid Edib Hanoum, one of the first Turkish women of all time to make her mark in history.

She is said to be the person who has inspired Kemal Mustapha with his grandiose dreams of a revived Turkey astraddle of the straits of Bosphorus, with one foot in Europe and the other in Asia. It is she who is supposed to be constantly whispering in his ears the battle cry—Turkey—all Turkey—for the Turks.

Romantic legend is already busy with her story and it is already hard to sift fact from fiction. It is known that she is the daughter of a Turk who was an official at the Yildiz Kiosk, the home of the sultans at Constantinople. It is known that she was one of the first real Turkish women to be graduated from the American College at Constantinople. She has absorbed both Turkish and European cultures.

Highly Cultured

She is quoted as saying: "In the most approved Turkish housewife fashion, I can go to market and pick out a female for the household and know the price to pay for her. As to a European butcher she can select any European woman and select the proper joint of beef or mutton."

For the purpose of interview all disabled world war veterans, this community relative to government compensation, vocational training, hospitalization and war insurance, W. F. Loomis, special contact representative of the United States Veterans' Bureau, will arrive in Klamath Falls, October 30, and will remain for a period of 2 days, according to an announcement received here today.

UNMERGER HEARING WILL AID VETERANS

IS SET BY I. C. C. FOR NOVEMBER 21, 22

Official Announcement Received by Southern Pacific Headquarters at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The interstate commerce commission has set November 21 and 22 as the dates for a hearing at Washington on the petition of the Southern Pacific company to continue unification of the Southern and Central Pacific lines. This is according to an official announcement received by the Southern Pacific headquarters here.

J. D. Allen, of the shippers' committee against dismemberment, advised the chamber of commerce of Walnut Creek, Contra Costa county, today, that the shippers would be represented at the hearing. The chamber adopted resolution protesting to the interstate commerce commission against the dissolution.

market and pick out a female for the household and know the price to pay for her. As to a European butcher she can select any European woman and select the proper joint of beef or mutton.

a Turk I can select a dancing girl and know what her services are. As a European, I can select a dress, play tennis, play western fashion, play the latest London and Paris successes and hold fluent conversations in French, Italian and English."

When very young—she is only 22 now—she married a Turkish journalist and they have several children. During the war she was a friend and confidant of the ill-fated Turkish triumvirate—Enver Pasha and Djemal. And it is at this point that romantic legend steps in. There are three separate yarns about how she happened to join the Angora forces.

Legend No. One—For her connection with the anti-Armenian activities of Djemal Pasha, she was exiled by the allies to the Isle of Malta whence she escaped to Angora.

Legend No. Two—The Turkish government at Constantinople suspecting her sympathy with the Nationalists under Kemal, was preparing to arrest her for treason. But

WITNESSES ARE CALLED IN MRS. BLOWERS' TRIAL

Defense Objects to Testimony Relative to Words Heard Night of Murder

What did A. A. Lowry hear voices saying the night of Friday, September 1, when Tom Montoya was killed on the Knott ranch at the juncture of the Fish Lake and Diamond Lake roads where Mr. and Mrs. Lowry were camped? Whether Lowry will be permitted to tell the jury was being determined this noon after objection to the question had been entered by counsel for the defendant, Mrs. Olive Blowers, who is charged with having shot and killed Montoya that night.

Brooman Found Body

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lowry and Dan Brooman, a sheep herder acquaintance of Montoya's, were on the stand this forenoon. Brooman testified of finding the body of Montoya that morning. Mrs. Blowers is having her man arrested near the scene of the murder.

Lowry's testimony coincided with that of Mrs. Lowry, except that he testified to having heard the words spoken by the man and woman. Counsel for the defense objected to his telling what was said, however, and Judge Leavitt called a recess from 11:30 until 1:30 to argue the point of law involved.

Opening Arguments Made

With the completion of the jury early yesterday, a large part of the day was taken in the opening arguments of counsel. Counsel for the defendant scored the officers for not having more closely questioned Mr. and Mrs. Lowry, intimating that they might be drawn further into the case than at present. The district attorney in his argument said that after the fourth shot was fired Lowry had heard a woman's voice say, "Come here, Tom."

Map Is Introduced

The first witness on the stand was E. B. Henry of Bly, who surveyed the country adjacent to the scene of the murder. His map was introduced and was referred to frequently by the state. Henry was on the stand until court convened yesterday afternoon.

H. S. PLANS RECEPTION

Royal Time to Be Given Visiting Ashland Football Squad

Preparations are being made by the students of the high school to give the Ashland football squad a royal reception while here for the football game Saturday afternoon. The reception includes a rally Friday night, a duck feed Saturday evening for both football squads and a dance Saturday night.

Twelve boys were excused from their classes today to go duck hunting. Eighteen girls in charge of Miss Olive Wilson, domestic science instructor, are going to prepare the feed which is to be given in the high school cafeteria at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, for about 25 hungry boys.

Although the rally last Friday night was an entire success, the students intend to surpass it, and to make the rally Friday night one that will never be forgotten.

A dance will be given at the Elks Temple Saturday night by the Junior Elks with the Ashland football squad as guests of honor.

When the Ashland boys return home Sunday morning, whether victors or losers, the Klamath high school students are certain they will never forget their reception.

GETTING READY FOR THE BIG SHOW

GRID INTEREST HIGH

Football Fans Looking Forward to Fast Game With Ashland

A great deal of interest is being shown in the coming football game between Klamath high and Ashland high Saturday afternoon at Modoc park. Ashland has two victories to her credit and one defeat while Klamath has been defeated twice. Ashland won over Klamath high two weeks ago, 19 to 0. This score cannot be depended on as a means of comparison between the two teams since it was the Klamath eleven's first game besides being played on foreign territory, and the team was handicapped by lack of practice.

Ashland's alumni defeated Ashland 43 to 0 in their first game of the season. Her next game was against Klamath which she won. Last Saturday she played at Grants Pass and won by a large score, although this does not add a great deal to their record since Medford defeated Grants Pass 74 to 0 the previous Saturday.

Klamath's lineup will be about the same as that of last Saturday with the exception of Christy, left tackle, who is out of the game for the season with a broken collar bone. Lloyd Bunnell, Harry Peltz and Buford Hargus are considered the most likely candidates for the position.

Bearing in mind Klamath's exhibition of fighting spirit in the game with Medford last Saturday, when, outweighed 15 pounds to the man, the boys dug in after the first quarter and held the visitors scoreless in the second quarter, football fans are promised a real gridiron battle Saturday.
