Personnel of New Pine Tree Theatre Guarantee of Good Management

Overshadowing all other considerations in anyone's estimate of an enterprise with which they are more or less unfamiliar, is the natural seeking after the human equation, predicated upon this sort of inquiry: "Well, who are the men behind it?" It is the natural instinct of mankind to judge business institutions by standards of personality-the general reputation and the character of the persons who found and conduct institutions.

In introducing the official family and directing heads of The Pine Tree Theatre, Incorporated, this article probably presents to a majority of people the most sought for information in connection with the enterprise.

The flawless grandeur of the brick and steel and stone pile that will house the new institution will not avail to make it a permanent asset to the community if there is a flaw in the combined character and ability of its personnel.

Here they are, and the reader may judge what qualifications they have for success.

Romeo C. Hughes, president-Assistant district attorney of Sacramento county, California.

Hugh B. Bradford, vice president-District attorney of Sacramento county for the past eight years, and a member of the firm of Hughes, Bradford & Cross, Inc., attorneys.

W. S. Hart, secretary-President of Hart Lunch, Inc., proprietors of a chain of prosperous California and Nevada restaurants, and member of the firm of Hart Bros., owner of the property at Seventh and Main streets, which houses the theatre.

Wish You Continued Prosperity

The opening of this new Theatre, as beautiful and modern as any theatre building in even much larger, cities, adds to our city a needed improvement. Working as I have for the past seventeen years for the progress of Klamath Falls, I gladly welcome the Pine Tree Theatre and wish it many years of ever increasing business.
