

Arctic Denizens Aid Amundsen

A party of Eskimos, dwellers in the frozen wastes on the margin of the Arctic Ocean, reach the schooner G. H. Holmes after aiding Amundsen in landing his vessel, the Maad. Amundsen now is practically marooned on the banks of the Arctic Ocean while he awaits a favorable chance to move on to the Pole.

New Situation Created in Constantinople, Result of Demand

LONDON, Nov. 6.—As a result of a new situation created in Constantinople by the demand of Hafez Pasha that the allied military occupation of the city cease, the peace conference called for Lausanne, November 15th, has been postponed, possibly for a fortnight. An authoritative statement was made here that in no circumstances will the British point of view regarding the presence of allied troops in Constantinople be changed, and that the British intend to uphold the Mudania armistice agreement and remain in the neutral zone with their troops.

Un-American!

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, one of America's great institutions of learning, in a letter to the General Protestant and Non-Profit Education Committee for Freedom in Education, with headquarters in the Connecticut Bicentennial building, Hartford, voices the universal sentiment of educators throughout the world when he says:

"This bill for compulsory education, especially as it is embodied in the American Education Bill of 1923, is un-American in its principle and in its spirit. It is un-American in its principle and in its spirit."

Many colleges and university presidents, after reading the bill, which is to be voted upon November 7, have written the committee, severely condemning the measure, according to Joseph A. Hill, president of the Military and Naval Education Committee.

GENERAL STORM ON

Middle-West Cities Isolated From Wire Communication

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Heavy rain and snow driven by high winds in the middle-west states have practically isolated some cities of that region from wire communication and closed up traffic. Weathermen say high winds have been noted along the coast from Tacoma, Wash., to San Francisco. Snow and rain today showed signs of ceasing in the middle-west after continuing since Saturday.

WHO OFFERS BEST CHANCE FOR TAX RELIEF?

There are two candidates for Governor, both claiming that the vital problem before the people of the State of Oregon is the problem of tax reduction and equalization.

The Republican candidate, Mr. Olcott, made this discovery two years ago, and at that time, in a special message to the legislature, asked permission to appoint a committee for the purpose of making a complete investigation of the situation and devising ways and means for remedying whatever unnecessary tax burdens or tax inequalities that might exist.

The Democratic candidate, Mr. Pierce, was appointed on this committee by Governor Olcott, and it was not until that committee had been at work for over a year, and he had become a candidate for governor, that Mr. Pierce made the discovery that the tax question was a good campaign issue. Mr. Olcott discovered it two years before without any intention of making it a campaign issue.

Which man then is apt to be sincere in his conviction, especially in view of the fact that Mr. Pierce as a legislator is responsible, by his own bills, and votes of approval, for 95 per cent of the state tax burden?

REPUBLICANS ON RECORD

Moreover, the entire Republican party in Oregon is on record through its delegates to a state convention as being with Governor Olcott in his plan to effect reductions and equalizations in the tax burden. The state platform, adopted at that convention, says:

"We believe that the vital issue in this campaign is the question of decreasing and equalizing the tax burden. The Republican party in this state recognized this necessity at the last regular session of the legislature two years ago and, at the request of the governor, Ben W. Olcott, authorized the appointment of a committee to investigate the matter and make recommendations, in order that the next legislature might have something definite and concrete to enable it intelligently to pass generally constructive laws upon this subject.

(1) "We pledge ourselves to legislation which will bring to the assessment rolls vast amounts of property, real and personal, now omitted therefrom, thereby relieving the burden of those who are now paying all the taxes.

(2) "We pledge ourselves to legislation vesting in the state tax commission plenary power to effect equal primary assessments, thus equalizing property assessments between individual tax payers and thus further decreasing the burden of the man who now pays all the taxes.

(3) "We favor the abolition of useless boards and commissions and the consolidation of departments to prevent duplication and we pledge ourselves to a definite and equitable plan for the retirement of the state's outstanding bonded indebtedness where no definite provision for its retirement has already been made and we refuse to submit proposals for further bond issues at special elections."

CANDIDATES ALSO PLEDGED

Governor Olcott and all the Republican legislative candidates are pledged definitely to the tax reduction program. Who, then, is likely to give to the people of Oregon needed relief in this matter—Ben W. Olcott, who originated the tax reduction idea, two years ago, and a solid Republican legislature backing a Republican governor in his plans, or Walter Pierce, with an official record as a salary booster and a tax booster, that has no equal in the legislative annals of Oregon? During his campaign, Mr. Pierce has advanced first one idea and then another, all of which have been proven absolutely falacious, impractical and apparently propounded without any consideration except that as a bait for catching votes.

Mr. Olcott, on the other hand, is standing four-square on the Republican State Platform and will be backed by a Republican State Legislature, working in harmony with him on the state of facts that will be set forth in the report of the tax investigation commission which Governor Olcott appointed and which commission, at the time of its appointment, was referred to by the Oregon Journal as "appointments that are most excellent.

We believe the sane, conservative, thoughtful voters of the State of Oregon will take no chance on any wild ideas advocated during the heat of an election campaign but will trust their problem to the man who first discovered it and who started the machinery in motion to remedy it, two years before there was any campaign in operation and at a time when he was not thinking of being a candidate for re-election.

The hope of the tax payer in getting some relief not only from state taxes but from local taxes, through changes in assessment laws, lies in the election of Ben W. Olcott, backed as he will be by a Republican legislature and a Republican state organization, pledged by a platform to accomplish this end.
