

EFFORT MADE TO STAY PASSING OF OLD PROSPECTOR

BALTIMORE CITY, Utah, Nov. 7.—An effort to stay the passing of the prospector, his horse and the day of his picturesquie and useful search for new El Dorado has been started by the mining committee of the Salt Lake Commercial club and arrangements are being made for establishing a "grub-staking" organization, with a capital of $500,000. The fund, which would be raised by popular subscription, would be used to finance trained and dependable prospectors in their hunt for minerals within the state.

Members of the mining committee, according to their announcement, entered into the enterprise from a public spirited standpoint, only, believing that Utah, which is the chief silver producing state in the Union, and which has yielded $1,500,000,000 in mineral wealth, is capable of producing several times this total if its resources are carefully developed.

The name of the organization will probably be "The Prospecting Association of Utah," an independent unit would be given to any person subscribing $50 to the fund in ten monthly installments. Mining claims discovered would be shared according to the amount of stock held.

Governor Charles Mabey of Utah is among the many prominent citizens interested in the venture.

Prospecting, while not exactly a lost art, has become one in which few are now active. Nowadays, it is almost impossible for a prospector to get a "grub stake," whereas in the mining boom days of Utah almost any business man, broker or mining operator would willingly put up the money.

CALIFORNIA IS STRONG FAVORITE IN STANFORD GAME

BALTIMORE CITY, Nov. 7.—Fans who like to figure out football scores before the games are played, estimate that the University of California will defeat Stanford University by just about 40 points in the "big game" this year.

The Olympic club defeated Stanford 27-9 but lost to California 25-9. St. Mary's was whitewashed by California 41-0 and Stanford was shocked to beat the Santa 9-0. Santa Clara lost to California 45-14 and to Stanford 7-6.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hanks left on the morning train for Portland on a business and pleasure trip.

Fred Fletcher, who for the past few days has been off on a hunting trip, is back in town working at his law practice once more.

Rice of the Presbyterian church performed the ceremony, which was attended by relatives and friends of the bride and groom. The young couple will make their home on the Gerber ranch in the Horsetail district, where Lyon is employed.

BIOLOGICAL SURVEY
HEAD IS ON TOUR OF COAST STATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Dr. G. W. Nelson, chief of the biological survey of the United States department of agriculture, is at present making a tour of inspection in several Pacific coast states, during which he will discuss with state officials several subjects affecting both state and federal government.

Washington state officials will meet with Dr. Nelson at Seattle to discuss state campaigns being waged for the extermination of sea lions and seals along the coast, as they affect animals living on bird reservations under the jurisdiction of the department of agriculture.

Affairs of the biological survey in Alaska will be discussed by Dr. Nelson with E. P. Walker, chief for warden of Alaska, who will meet him in Seattle.

Oregon state officials will confer with the survey chief regarding the settlement of a long standing controversy over the title of lands within the Malheur lake bird reservation.

Dr. Nelson will also meet California state officials before returning to Washington.

Flapper's Day Is Passing
England Frowns on Bobs

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The "flapper type" of young girl is rapidly disappearing in London. The first signs of waning popularity is the disregard of bobbed hair.

According to West End hairdressers shortened locks are no longer approved, and the coming winter season will see new styles in the art of hair dressing. The most popular color for fall hair is "green almond," and veils will be worn extensively. The small hat with a veil fastened across the front, which was popular during the war, is to be worn again. The hats will be smaller this fall, but huge shapes.

The substitute for bobbed hair is a short pompadour, and the use of a small ribbon or wreath. This is the favorite style of Princess Mary.

The reversion to flat dressing has even gone to the extent that small amounts of false hair will be used this winter.

The new color for fall hair is "green almond," and veils will be worn extensively. The small hat with a veil fastened across the front, which was popular during the war, is to be worn again. The hats will be smaller this fall, but huge shapes.

rivaling the "Merry Widows" of years ago, will be the rage in the spring.

The new evening dresses in the Regent street windows are entirely minus a back, and a cord of white silk has taken the place of a wider shoulder strap. The materials in vogue are dark shades and purple, and heavy silks and satins will be almost the only materials used. Long trains will again grace the ball rooms, and three distinct trains are not too much for one gown.

Rich oriental brocades and bejeweled ornaments are to be seen on all of the gowns.
