QUAKE HORRORS ARE INCREASED BY NEW SHOCKS

Casualties Reach 2,000;
Banditry Occurs; 600
Bodies Burned

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 14.—Reports of banditry and disorder in the earthquake district, together with news of additional earth shocks and indications that the calamity had reached appalling proportions, caused the Chilean government today to consider the advisability of sending troops to Coquimbo and Atacama to reinforce the regular garrisons, which are too small to cope with the situation, and to aid in relief work.

The casualties are estimated at between 1,500 and 2,000 dead, with large numbers injured and homeless.

Six hundred bodies were burned in the public square at Valparaiso after being identified.

The report of the Seismological Institute says the apparent focus of the earth shock was 200 kilometers from Santiago.

The total duration was 3 hours 40 minutes, and the estimated radius 1,200 kilometers in a transversal direction to the Andes.

The meteorological institute says that the earth shock coincides with the passage of a sun spot over the central meridian of the sun. The earth shock commenced at the termination of a day of abnormal heat. The sun spot referred to made its appearance on November 5 and was the largest observed this year.

In addition to heavy casualties of dead and injured at Copiapo and Coquimbo, it was reported that 500 were killed at Valparaiso and the surrounding district. Valparaiso was virtually destroyed and the survivors are in a critical condition. It seems certain that there have been casualties in other towns and villages around Copiapo; to the south, concerning which no news is yet available.

WOUNDED BY BANDIT

Attempt to Save Hotel Payroll May Prove Fatal for Guard

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—George McMullin, guard for the cashier of the Fairmont hotel, was shot and seriously wounded by a bandit who boarded the street car on which he was riding with the hotel payroll, and attempted to take the money from him.

McMullin was accompanying Frank Terry, cashier, when the bandit leaped upon the car and snatched the sack containing $2400. McMullin grappled with the man, who shot down McMullin as he leaped from the car, escaping with the money.

Local feeling ran high and the almost equal division of the town is indicated in the official vote figures, which give Spink a lead, over his opponent of five votes.

The vote stood: Spink 133, Snook 128.

MISS FAY WEST WEDS

Marriage to Kenneth Gordon Klahn Surprise to Friends

The wedding at 9:30 this morning at the home of Mrs. W. P. McMullan, of Miss Faye West to Kenneth Gordon Klahn, came as a surprise to wide circle of friends of the two young people here in Klamath Falls and the surrounding country. The ceremony was performed in the presence of two witnesses, Mrs. McMullan and Miss Seefeld, by the Rev. Arthur Hec. Closest friends of the couple were kept in ignorance of the event.

Miss West has lived for the greater part of her life in Klamath county. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. West, who are among the county's most progressive farmers and live stock raisers. She is a graduate of Klamath county high school and for the past two years has been employed in the office of the California Oregon Power company. Klahn is a Californian who came here a few years ago to take charge of work in the office of the same company, and it is there that the romance developed. They left on the morning train for Portland where they will pass a brief honeymoon.

Tribute is paid to the Klamath high school and business men of the city in a recent issue of Rogue News, Ashland high school's official school paper, which says:

"The Klamath boys displayed a good fighting spirit, and the yell rally held the night before the game showed that their student body was back of them to a man."

"Klamath Falls gave us an exceptionally fine welcome and extended its hospitality and kindness throughout our visit. The rates given us by the White Pelican hotel and Club cafe indicated their splendid interest and co-operation in promoting the bond of friendship which exists between the two high schools."

"The dance music furnished by the high school orchestra at the dance given for the boys cannot receive too much praise for their exhibitions of talent."

I. W. W. TRIALS ARE POSTPONED ON PLEA OF SIX DEFENDANTS

Defendant Would Have Klamath County Pay Expenses of Witnesses Here From Portland

On plea of counsel for the defendants, the I. W. W. trials set for November 13 have been postponed by order of Judge Leavitt until January or February, 1923, the exact date to be determined later.

Louis Davis, Maurice Daly, Adolph Vagness, Leonard Bolton, William Fischer and William Burk, the I. W. W. members involved, are now out under bond.

Subpoenas Asked

William Fischer filed motion for the court to subpoena Floyd Hyde, Harold Haynes, Joe Weight, P. J. Welinder and Walter Smith, all of Portland, as witnesses for the defendant. Fischer made affidavit that the witnesses named are "familiar with the teachings of the Industrial Workers of the World," and, to the best of his knowledge, "the nearest persons competent to explain to this court and to a jury matters necessary to be explained in my behalf and in my defense."

Wants County to Pay

The defendant alleges that "each and every one of said witnesses and persons is poor and without funds, and it is necessary that the county treasurer of this county advance funds to each and every witness to defray his expenses, as well as their witness fees, and it is necessary that this be done forthwith, in order that they may be in attendance upon the court at the proper time."

Clothes Ban Is Enforced

H. S. Girls Sent Home

The dress regulations inaugurated at the beginning of the term at the high school are still in force. Girls appearing in other than middie, low-heeled shoes and ordinary or garden variety coiffures are courting trouble.

This was realized by two girl students yesterday when they appeared with sweaters. No more had they entered the school portals when the infraction was observed. Ensued a lengthy argument, wherein the girls sought to show that a perfectly harmless sweater should not come under the ban.

The girls at length obeyed the order to return home and changed their garb. They appeared at noon wearing overcoats over their middies.

VOTERS DECIDE BIG ISSUE AT ELECTION POLLS

Many Important Measures Passed on in States of Far West

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—California's adoption of prohibition enforcement, Oregon's restrictions upon nearly all church parochial schools and other private schools, Nevada's decision not to change its divorce laws, and Montana's probable authorization of the Pari Mutuel system of betting on horse races, are among the outstanding decisions on legislation taken by the voters in far western states at last Tuesday's election.

California's measure makes the 18th amendment to the federal constitution and the Volstead act, or whatever other enforcement legislation may be passed by congress, part of the California statutes, changing automatically should the Volstead act be amended or repealed. Despite the fact that grape growing interests and others fought against the step and that cities of San Francisco and Sacramento voted "wet," all the other large cities, all of Southern California, and most of the great interior San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys combined to carry the measure.

Supervision By State

Oregon's new law requires all children between the ages of 5 and 16 years to attend public schools, except that those physically incapable, those who have completed the eighth grade and those who live at inconvenient distances or are taught by parent and private teachers are exempt. Those exempted, however, must have their education supervised by the state.

A majority of more than 15,000 was given this act, despite vigorous opposition of Catholic societies and laymen and many Protestant clergymen and representative citizens of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faith. The Catholics termed it a direct blow at their denomination and its educational methods. The Masonic order took no stand in the controversy, but many champions of the measure were Scottish Rite Masons, while the Ku Klux Klan admittedly was in favor of the proposed law.

BASKETBALL SEASON GETS OFF TO FLYING START, HIGH SCHOOL

40 Boys Turn Out for Practice First Night; Girls to Be in Game With Two Teams

Basketball at the high school started in earnest last night when about 40 boys turned out for practice in the hall as Fourth and Klamath, which has been engaged by the high school for the season.

The girls of the high school here will compete with the girls of Bonanza and Merrill. They have two teams, making four teams in the league. This will be the first time in about five years that the girls of the high school have been given an opportunity to represent the local high school in athletics.

A Good Turnout Expected. Since there is such a large turnout of boys and an equally large turnout of girls expected, and the floor space limited, a schedule for practice has been arranged. Practice for the boys will be held on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday afternoons, and every evening in the week except Saturdays and Sundays. The girls will practice Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

The squads assigned to the different times of practice will soon be regulated so as to get the boys into good condition, and give the numerous candidates a chance to be game experienced before the first games in December. There will be 16 men picked to represent the school on the two different teams, and as a result of this there is great rivalry among the boys.

Many Candidates

The candidates who have reported so far among the boys are: Clifford Hogue, captain of first team and a last year's letter man; Frank Peyton, letter man; Pete Hotschenbacher, Albert Moorland, Ralph Turner, Floyd Tingley, George Dow, Herbert Landis, Roland Cantrall, Harry Peltz, Bruce Jeffers, Harry Malatore, Walter Short, Jennings Washington, Arthur Peck, Louis Sabo, Robert Cornish, Kenneth Maier, Oran Miam, Charles Chastain, Wm. Clark, Matt Obenshain, Herbert Riesbel, Vernon Moore, James Manning, Dale Soule, Dale Drew, Russell Crandall, Erdis Smith, Henry Gerber, Frank Hall, Lester Cofer, Buford Hargus, Sylvester Smith, letter man at Agency high school last year; Weaver Solomon and Frank Upp.

Delos Mills and Charles Graves, both letter men from last year's team, will be unable to practice for a few weeks on account of injuries received during the football season. This list, although incomplete, gives a good representation of the material on hand.

MADE BEETLE SURVEY

A. J. Jaenicke Finds Further Control Work Not Necessary Now

A survey of the timbered areas of Klamath and Lake counties not included in the pine beetle control project to determine the necessity for control work has just been completed by A. J. Jaenicke, forest service entomologist.

Jaenicke said it was decided that no control work is needed in the areas at present, but that patrol of the areas at intervals will be necessary.

Jaenicke will complete his work for the season here within a few days and go on to Portland.

PEACE NEAR EASE WILL AMOUNT PAPER

Means Sought for Ending Hostilities at Conference at Lausanne

PARIS, Nov. 14.—The official opening of the Lausanne peace conference has been postponed from November 13 to November 20 at the request of the British government.

LAUSANNE, Nov. 14.—The complicated Near East situation, which constitutes perhaps the most difficult now remaining in European political affairs, is to have what promises to be a thorough airing in the diplomatic gathering of prime importance which was to have opened here Monday night.

Invitations to the party, which has come to be known as the Near East peace conference, were sent in the names of Great Britain, France and Italy to the governments of Japan, Rumania, Jugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and the United States. The same governments also invited Rumania and Bulgaria to send representatives here "at a later date" to participate in discussions concerning the straits of the Dardanelles—one of the most important subjects on the agenda.

Seek Near East Peace

Primarily, the plenipotentiaries will seek to end the war in the Near East between the Greeks and the Turks, which has been stalling, and at times assuming more menacing proportions, ever since the Treaty of 1920 informed the world that his presence was no longer desired in Europe. Actual military operations, in fact, were halted only a month ago, when the British commander-in-chief of the allied army, connected to an armistice following the complete defeat of the Greeks.

The attitude of both Russia and the United States toward the conference has presented many interesting aspects, not the least of which is the Russian contention that she must take a leading part in any negotiations centering around the straits, in which she has a tremendous commercial interest.

"We are not making threats and are not rattling the swords," Foreign Minister Tchitcherin said recently, "but we do insist upon proper consideration in all questions relating to the Near East, and particularly the commercial freedom of the straits."

The United States, on the other hand, has declined to participate officially in the conference, holding that as it never had been at war with Turkey, it did not believe it could appropriately take part in framing a treaty of peace with that nation in association with the allied conferees.

U. S. Observers

The Washington government did say, however, that it had sufficient interest in the conference to send observers here for the party, and outlined the subjects which particularly concerned it. Among other things, the United States is on record as favoring unqualifiedly the freedom of the Dardanelles; the sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus, as well as the protection of racial and religious minorities.

It also is recognized, according to the American secretary of state, that the United States has certain very definite rights under the so-called capitulatory treaties, pertaining to extra territorial concessions granted foreigners; and again that the Washington government is not disposed to see Americans discriminated against in favor of the nationals of other nations.

Another side-light on the conference, and one which has played a small part in the preliminary interest, is the attitude of the United States as regards the allied endeavor to exclude Russia from participation in the general deliberations.

It is understood here that the American government is strongly inclined toward the belief that a permanent solution of the Near East problem can be hoped for unless steps are taken to conserve and protect the legitimate interests of Russia in any settlement that may be attempted.
