THE LIBERTY

One of the most brilliant casts of the year, including such noted players as Pauline Starke, Ross Dione and Tully Marshall; a story of uncommon interest laid to that most pleturesque region on the American continent, the St. Lawrence River valley, and the superb direction by Louis J. Gasnier all combine to make "Silent Years," an attraction of the greatest appeal. It's the current feature on the bill at the Liberty theatre.

The cast of "silent Years" is one of unrivalled merit. Pauline Starke is one of the most popular leading women on the screen today. Her delicate, whimsical beauty, her skill in the interpretation of such roles as she portrays in "Silent Years" makes her stand forth as virtually a star in her own right.

Madame Rose Dione was one of the foremost actresses on the French stage before she came to this country to win further laurels on the screen. And she does so in "Silent Years," in which she plays the part
