What Does America Need?

CAN YOU ANSWER?

Ever since the war, Americans have sensed unrest throughout the country—ardent, but nevertheless unsettled conditions, uncertainty, everywhere.

Try to analyze the cause. Every person will give you a reason—but each reason will be different. We all feel something is needed—but meantime, construction, business enterprises, new industries are being delayed by this uncertainty just at the time when the world looked to America to take the lead in reconstruction.

To thoroughly analyze this mass of conflicting beliefs and find out just what the country really thinks about it, the Evening Herald in cooperation with several hundred other representative newspapers, clients of NEA Service, will conduct a national poll on the question: "WHAT DOES AMERICA NEED?" Through letters from newspaper readers all over the country, a constructive, comprehensive survey of opinion will be made.

What do YOU think America needs? Write your opinions, discussing any matters you may think connected with the present national situation. Send your letters to Editor of the Herald, these letters will be sent on to the Nea Service for listing in the national compilation, results of which will be carried in this newspaper.

More Consideration

Editor Evening Herald: You ask "What Does America Need?"

That is simple—a return to the old Golden Rule, a decent regard for law and the rights of others.

All is selfishness now. The old spirit of "love thy neighbor," which was the very backbone of American life in the hardy pioneer days, has perished.

Two automobiles collide. The occupants of the cars rush together. To help any injured person? No, no, to try to avoid damages by putting the blame on the other fellow. In many cases, this selfishness has reached the point where fist fights are indulged in to decide who had the right of way.

A pedestrian crosses the street. An auto approaches. The autoist expects the pedestrian to hop out of his way. The pedestrian wants the autoist to stop for him. The result is an exchange of heated language. It happens millions of times a day in America.

The same is true even of our laws. A crowd of people to be benefited raise a lobby fund, send representatives to Washington or Salem and work for passage of laws benefitting this group. Another crowd, who are hit by some proposed law, start lobbying or agitation against it—not because the law is unjust but because it will cost them something.

What does America need? A revival of the old American spirit. America, bodily, has grown wonderfully. America's soul however, was dwarfed in the process.

WALTER POSBERG.

LITTLE BOY BLUE

The little toy-dog is covered with dust.

But sturdy and staunch he stands; And the little toy-soldier is red with rust.

And the musket molds in his hands;

Time was when the little toy-dog was new.

And the soldier was passing fair; And that was the time when our Little Boy Blue Kissed them and put them there.

"Now, don't you go till I come," he said,

"And don't you make any noise!" So, toddling off to his trundle-bed,

He dreamt of the pretty toys;

And, as he was dreaming, an angel sang—

Awakened our Little Boy Blue—

Oh! the years are many, the years are long,

But the little toy friends are true!

Ay, faithful to Little Boy Blue they stand,

Each in the same old place—

Awaiting the touch of a little hand.

The smile of a little face;

And they wonder, as waiting the long years through

In the dust of that little chair,

What has become of our Little Boy Blue.

Since he kissed them and put them there.—Eugene Field.

American Legion News

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 25.—The popular American Legion Drum corps at the national convention in New Orleans was tendered a rousing reception on their return to Racine that reminded them of the welcome home from the war.

When National Vice Commander Edward J. Barrett announced that the first official act of the new executive committee had been to designate the corps as the official American legion drum corps, and as such the boys would be sent to the next convention in San Francisco, the members forgot their blisters received in New Orleans, stood up on their hind legs and yelled. It warmed the hearts of the Junction merchants, who made this honor possible.

The dinner to the corps was given by the Elks, long a sort of adopted daddy to all legionnaires. The city considers that the trip of the corps to New Orleans gave the community thousands of dollars worth of valuable advertising.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Relatives have requested the American legion to assist in finding the whereabouts of Fred Hanniford Goodwin, of 546 East Market street, Indianapolis, who disappeared Oct. 28. He is 31 years old and weighs 145 pounds. His hair is light brown and eyes are blue. He is 5 feet, 9 inches tall. When he left home he wore an army shirt and trousers, a faded blue serge coat and a faded green cap. Goodwin served 18 months with the 150th Field artillery of the Rainbow division. Relatives fear he has suffered a mental lapse.
