

OLDEN RULE OPENING

Will Celebrate Move to New Quarters With Entertainment

The Golden Rule store has virtually completed moving from the quarter at Fourth and Main, occupied by the Klamath Falls store was 13 years ago, to the new from which the K. K. K. store recently, on Main near 11th street, and the formal opening take place tomorrow.

Entertainment program has prepared for the afternoon and evening, in charge of Miss Char. Huntley, accompanied by Miss Huntley on the piano. To further the day memorable in the eyes of visitors, the store is making ten per cent refund on all today's purchases.

Number of wholesale distributors of drygoods and clothing show interest in the opening by congratulatory messages, accompanied by floral pieces. Among them were Winkelspiel company, San Francisco; Fleischer & Meyer of Portland; Harts, San Francisco; Coopers and Casey, and Lewis & company, San Francisco.

A new department in Klamath Falls, is the downstairs, or basement, where reduced prices prevail on certain articles. Just now the basement store is a veritable toyland, and will be until Christmas. Santa Claus is on his way, the store management announced, and will arrive in a few days to remain until Christmas.

"Thirteen years' experience in merchandising in Klamath Falls gives us abundant faith in the continued prosperity of Klamath county," said E. W. Vannice. "We are satisfied with our new location, and confident that we are going to have a larger business from now on. Service to our patrons has always been and will continue to be our foremost aim, and we expect to make the Golden Rule store the leading drygoods store of Klamath Falls."

AT THE THEATRES

PINE TREE

More persons are said to appear in "The Loves of Pharaoh" than in any other motion picture ever made. The spectator sees 112,000 persons in this most tremendous production directed by Ernest Lubitsch announced at a luncheon in New York, that 112,000 persons appeared in "The Loves of Pharaoh," some of those who heard him were frankly skeptical. That was far more than were used in "Passion," "Deception" and "The Birth of a Nation" combined.

Mr. Lubitsch turned for corroboration to his manager, Paul Davidson who showed a receipt from a theatrical agency for its commissions for furnishing 112,000 extras during the filming of the Paramount picture "The Loves of Pharaoh", which is the feature at the Pine Tree tonight and tomorrow.

"We'll need 18,000 extras tomorrow," Mr. Lubitsch used to telephone and the agency delivered them F. O. B. at the steamship landing at Lubitsch city, where the sands of the desert stretched as far as the eye could see between these reconstructed pyramids and sphinx and temples.

THE STRAND

"Table Top Ranch," showing at the Strand theatre tonight, is the story of a little sheep ranch on a high isolated mesa, presided over by Kate Bowers whose father had been foully dealt with by an unknown assassin before the story opens.

Catholics favored Miss Bowers but one day, complaint is entered against her sheep by one Powell, for ulterior motives as it develops, and it is then that John Martin, a young cattle owner, (played by Neal Hart) comes into the story demanding fair play. Well, the story goes on with action, including fighting and riding as only Neal Hart can fight and ride, making a wonderful picture.

Tonight there is the usual Friday night country store with fifteen prizes and a great entertainment is awaiting for anyone who goes to the Strand this evening.

Sunday the great wrestling match between Joe Stecher and Earl Cadock will be shown, also Jack Hoxie in "Barb Wire."

PRESBYTERIAN PARTY IS POSTPONED

The party to be given by the Christian Endeavor at the Presbyterian church tonight has been postponed.

WOLF LAW

A story of mystery in an older day that thrilled the readers of one of America's most popular magazines and was pronounced a top-notch work of fiction, comes to the Liberty theatre today in its screen form presented by Universal.

"Wolf Law" was written by Hugh Pendexter. Charles Sarver prepared it in screen form for Stuart Paton to direct.

The logical star for a story of manliness and courage under terrible and fear-inspiring circumstances was Frank Mayo, Universal executives thought. He was thoroughly in accord with Paton's directorial methods, also a thing established in many mutual efforts of the past such as "The Man Who Married His Own Wife," probably their greatest success.

The story dates back to 1870, and "Wolf Law" is just exactly what was established in a rough mountain community by one "Samson" Brender, who ruled mountaineers with Playing At The Liberty. You all like a real red-blooded man—such is the versatile FRANK MAYO who stars today in "WOLF LAW" a strong story of the days following the Civil war. You'll like this one—just as we all like Frank Mayo. Coming Sunday to the Liberty is the acknowledged super comedy-drama of the year. "Grandma's Boy" is admittedly the best of the season and when we tell you that the star is Harold Lloyd we know you will want to see it.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MAYOR-ELECT ARTHUR WILSON. Klamath Falls, Ore. Dec. 1, 1922. Mayor-Elect Arthur Wilson, Klamath Falls, Ore. My Dear Arthur: We want to ask a favor. Will you put HAROLD LLOYD on the police force? Single handed he will round up at least five thousand people in Klamath Falls and take them to the Liberty Theatre to laugh at "Grandma's Boy." He is a Deputy Sheriff in the picture. Did you ever hear of a deputy, single handed, capturing that many people? Neither did we. Come in and be one of the captives—you can serve your sentence in an hour. It's all day Sunday. Sincerely, H. W. POOLE.
