

PROHIBITION IS MAKING GIANT STRIDES IN EUROPEAN NATIONS

TWO MEN WHO ARE HELPING BY EXAMPLE TO MAKE EUROPE DRY: PRESIDENT MICHAEL HAINISCH OF AUSTRIA, ABOVE AND PRESIDENT MASARYK OF CZECHO-SLOVAKIA.

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—When at the recent session of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Philadelphia, that organization re-stated its aim of a liquorless world, a loud laugh probably went up in some wet quarters in America.

"You'll never make Europe dry!" these words were probably exclaimed.

But the "pusyfoot" movement, as it's called here, is making progress in Europe. It's not accomplishing much in the way of making countries bone-dry but it is bringing to restrictions and local option—and that was the way nation-wide bone-dryness started in America.

See for yourself what progress the dry movement has made on this continent.

Austria—Wet, but poverty of people is making for temperance, President Hainisch is a teetotaler.

Baltic Republics—Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia are wet because they're rye and potato producing countries where much vodka is distilled, producing rich revenue. But temperance movement is on foot in Estonia.

Belgium—Distilled liquors cannot be sold in public houses.

Bulgaria—Local option law adopted under which many villages in rural sections have closed saloons.

Czecho-Slovakia—Still wet but prohibition sentiment is growing because President Masaryk is a teetotaler while Premier Benes writes articles in favor of temperance. But good Pilsener beer is still obtainable.

Finland—Europe's only bone-dry country since June 1, 1919. Having trouble with booze smugglers. Poorer classes said to have been benefited.

France—Absinthe prohibited.

Great Britain—"Pubs" only allowed to stay open about nine hours daily. Before the war they were open all day and night except from 1:30 a. m. to 5 a. m. Scotland has local option law.

Hungary—No temperance movement.

Iceland—Passed a bone-dry law but Spain protested that if Iceland's markets were closed to Spanish wines, Spain would close her markets to Iceland's fish. So Iceland had to admit wine or face national bankruptcy.

Italy—No prohibition movement. Yugoslavia—Ministry of health is fighting alcoholism and tuberculosis, coupling them together.

Norway—Has prohibited distilled liquors and strong wines since Christmas, 1916. This was introduced as a temporary law but Parliament and the people later ratified it as a permanent law.

Poland—Has local option law under which some rural districts have voted themselves dry.

Rumania—Worst of all Balkan countries from the standpoint of drunkenness and absence of temperance activities.

Russia—Distilled liquors once prohibited. Reports as to their present status vague and contradictory.

Spain—No restrictions whatever.

Sweden—Prohibition sentiment is growing. Plebiscite on prohibition Aug. 27 resulted in small majority for wets. Majority all came from cities while country districts voted dry. Local option law now asked. Under this 12 of 24 provinces probably will vote dry.

Switzerland—Law adopted which suppresses the right of free distilling which peasants had enjoyed from earliest times. Strong temperance movement under way. Next year people will vote on local prohibition for distilled liquors.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy. Adv. 66
