PRICE FIVE CENTS

AUTO SPEEDER
GETS 5 MONTHS
AND $375 FINEMagnus Bush, Who Wrecked Pool Hall Front, Also Loses License

Magnus Bush, a Scandinavian, who crashed into the Mecca pool hall in a wild drive down Main street Saturday evening, will do no more driving for some time to come.

Arraigned in the justice court this morning, Bush pleaded guilty to the charge of failing to stop and render assistance and was fined $350 and sentenced to four months in jail. On a charge of driving while intoxicated, to which he pled guilty, he was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $25. This with the costs, brings the total penalty to five months in jail and $383 in fines. Also his operator's license was suspended.

Woman Comes to Aid

Mrs. Georgia Fischer, 795 U-ham, at whose home Bush lives, said this morning that she believed she would be able to raise the amount of the fines.

Bush was arrested at Mrs. Fischer's home on the evening of the accident. The police said he was intoxicated and that he appeared to be laboring under the hallucination that some person was trying to run into his car. He said he threw his gears into second and stepped on the gas, according to the police. The car of Jess Siemens, which Bush struck before running into the pool hall, was apparently the object of his wrath. A portion of the front of the pool hall was demolished and fixtures and furniture damaged.

Understudy For Bush

Bush found an understudy yesterday in Fred Gibson, a worker at the Crater Lake Box company camp near Hildebrand, who backed his Maxwell car through a plate-glass window of the Baldwin Hardware company store late yesterday afternoon. Like Bush, Gibson failed in his attempt to escape the consequences. He was arrested on Klamath avenue later by Patrolman McLaughlin, who also apprehended Bush. Gibson was lodged in jail and will be given a hearing with the arrival of his brother, a faller at the Hildebrand camp, whom Gibson believes will be able to raise the cost of the plate-glass and whatever fine may be imposed.

QUEBEC STIRRED BY
MYSTERIOUS MURDER
OF BLANCHE GARNEAUDeath of Two Years Ago Becomes Factor in Present Political Situation in Province

By NEA Service

MONTREAL, Dec. 19.—The mysterious and unavenged murder at Quebec of Blanche Garneau, beautiful young French Canadian girl, is on every tongue throughout the width and breadth of the Dominion.

It has fanned into new flame the old discord between British and French in the Province of Quebec.

It has been debated hours in Parliament.

It has cost the province more than $100,000.

It will very probably be the issue at a coming provincial election.

Meanwhile a royal commission, headed by the chief justice of the superior court, is probing the strange case.

More than two years ago the body of the Garneau girl, assaulted and strangled to death, was found. Police were baffled. No solution could be found.

Reward Offered

John H. Roberts, editor of a Montreal weekly, charged the authorities with laxness, declared rumors had coupled the names of two legislators with the murder, and offered a reward for a solution of the case.

Roberts was seized. The legislature passed a special act sentencing him to serve a year in jail. The act will become law when it has received the signature of the lieutenant-governor. Meanwhile Roberts is in custody.

Public feeling ran high. Agitation of a royal commission to probe the whole matter was demanded and granted. The commission now is sitting.

Denounced Compatriots

Just before the commission sat, Armand Lavergne, leading French politician, delivered a fiery speech, lambasting the British and denouncing his own compatriots as "servile" and "cowards."

With that the Blanche Garneau case definitely was thrown into politics. Both British and French politicians look for a hot fight over the case in the campaign preceding the coming election.

BOND ISSUE UPHELD

Supreme Court Holds Portland's
Bonds Not Invalidated

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 19.—Portland's $5,000,000 school bond issue was validated by the decision of the supreme court today holding that the use of the words "various polling places" instead of "regular" or "usual polling places" in the election notices did not render the bonds invalid.

A bond firm had cancelled the bids on the advice of their attorney that the word "various" made the bonds illegal. The decision today was in a friendly suit in behalf of the school board.

The supreme court in effect upheld the constitutionality of the woman's jury law in the case of the state against J. J. Chase, who appealed from Lane county from conviction on a statutory offense.

CHRISTMAS TO
BE CELEBRATED
APPROPRIATELYBusiness Firms and Lodges
Plan Trees for Employees and Members

Several of the local business houses are planning Christmas trees for their employees this year, most of them to be events of Friday night of this week. The Pacific Lumber company held its annual tree at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Mortenson last Sunday afternoon, due to the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Mortenson will be leaving some time soon on an extended trip.

Phone Company Tree

The Christmas tree for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company employees is an institution first introduced by Mrs. Frank Evans at the time she was chief operator there several years ago, and has been an event every Christmas since. This year about 18 people will take part in the celebration.

Another tree which has become a tradition with an institution is that held each year in the lobby of the White Pelican hotel for guests and employees. The tree this year is a fine large one and has already been decorated for Christmas eve.

The Masons and Eastern Star lodges are holding a combined Christmas tree and celebration for their young folk on Friday night at the Masonic hall and plans are under way for a very elaborate Christmas tree.

Tree For Patrons

The City Library is decorating a small tree for its patrons, many of whom are working men and women spending a great part of their free hours at the public reading room, and men and women who have very little Christmas cheer; not to mention a Christmas tree because they are living in hotels or rooming houses.

Another report says Tsao Kun, with the backing of Chang Tsao Lin, is preparing hostilities against General Wu Pei Fu for early spring with the purpose of placing the pending government completely in the hands of the militarists.

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS

122 Volumes Loaned By State Institution At Salem

A loan of 122 books has been made to the local city library by the state library at Salem and will be left here until March 1. With this addition to the shelves of the library, Mrs. R. E. Wright, local librarian, will try and have special feature weeks when Klamath folk interested in decoration will be invited to make a special effort to visit the local reading room and see the works that will interest them. Sportsmen will be given a week when all the sports magazines and books relating to the subject will be segregated and made convenient for their use.

Mrs. G. A. Krause last week made the library a present of four books of fiction and Professor Plumb, dean of animal husbandry at the University of Ohio, has given his two books, "Farm Animals" and the "Beginning of Farm Husbandry" to the local institution.

The following are newly placed on the three-cent shelf:
"Merion of the Movies," by Wilson; "Certain Persons of Importance," by Norris; "The Return," by De la Warr; "First Person Singular," by Bennett; and "Broken to the Plow," by Dobie. All of the above books are recent publications.

NEW CITY FATHERS
WILL TAKE OFFICE
ON JANUARY SECONDCouncil Disposes of Old Business
Preparatory to Forthcoming
Administration Change

Disposal of unfinished business preparatory to the inauguration of the new city administration on January 2, occupied the city council last night. Two weeks from last night the new mayor and councilmen will take office after the regular business has been disposed of.

Wants Time Extension

A resolution offered by the Warren Construction company providing for an extension of time for completion of paving was referred to the finance committee.

An ordinance was adopted authorizing the mayor to purchase a vertical sump pump, at a cost not to exceed $1042.90 for use at Second and Oak. Since the need for the pump is acute, the ordinance carried an emergency clause making it effective at once.

City to Foreclose

Steps were taken for cleaning up unpaid street assessments when it was agreed that if all payments due in the Eldorado and other units are not paid by January 1, the city will proceed to foreclose on the property affected. This action will apply to property whose owners did not agree to the 16-year-payment, and they will be required to pay the assessment in full.

HAD MANY BATTLES

Kid Herbert Fought 78 Times During Four Years in Ring

BY "RINGSIDE"

Kid Herbert of San Francisco, who will meet Kid Evans in an eight-round match here Friday as the semi-final to the Swindler-Ritchie go, has been in the ring game four years and has had 78 fights. He says he believes he can beat Evans and according to some fans who have watched his workouts he has at least an even chance to do so.

Herbert fought Dick Wallace to a four-round draw, Bull Young and Fred Crow the same. He went eight rounds to a draw with Johnny True, middleweight champion of the navy, and fought a draw with Cavanaugh, middleweight champion of Central and South America. He fought Terry McGowan was welterweight champion of the Pacific fleet, and got a four-round draw with Steve Biss, who held the title in 1920.

Works With Ritchie

Herbert has been working out with Ritchie, who has not been pulling his wallop to any great extent, and is in excellent condition.

The main event of Friday's card is, of course, the center of interest, but the Herbert-Evans match and the Daw-Harmon match have aroused almost equal interest. Since the last Daw-Harmon match was called off when Daw suffered a badly cut forehead, the fans did not get a line on the comparative skill of the fighters, and are as much divided as ever.

A new element has entered into the Swindler-Ritchie match. According to reports, this is taking on the earmarks of a grudge affair, and both scrappers have expressed none too complimentary opinions of one another. A grudge is not needed to make this a lively affair, since Ritchie is determined to regain his lost laurels, but it will do nothing to detract from the liveliness of the go.

ANOTHER HUNTER SAYS COUGAR SCREAMS

S. K. Ogle Says Person Does Not Have to See a Noise to Tell What Made It; Would Ask Authorities' Opinion

Now comes still another hunter who believes cougars scream. He is S. K. Ogle, 722 North Tenth, and he has the following to say:

"Did you ever hear a cougar scream?"

"Yes! Did you ever hear a coyote or a fox, and how did you know what it was? I don't think that a person always has to see a noise to tell what made it."

"I read H. H. Dunn's article on the cougar some time ago, and although he is a great hunter and

YULETIDE MAIL
RUSH PROMISES
TO SET RECORDPostoffice Rush Expected
To Be At Height Thursday and Friday

The Christmas mail rush as far as outgoing mail is concerned will far exceed that of last year in the opinion of John McCall, local postmaster. The big increase in incoming mail is expected to begin Thursday and Friday of this week and will continue until after Christmas. This will entail the employment of a great number of extra carriers and helpers in the office. Up to date four extra men have been kept busy with the outgoing mail which passed through the local office.

Postmaster McCall suggests that it would greatly assist the post office force if patrons would not persist in trying to do all their mailing of packages from eight to nine-thirty o'clock in the morning, but would mail their parcels during the afternoon hours when the force is not rushed to death getting the train mail ready. The office will be open on Christmas day until noon and anyone expecting parcels on that day should call during the morning hours, said McCall. The window closes at noon of that day. All mail arriving here Saturday night will be delivered either that night or Sunday morning.

Herbert Service Christmas
The people living on any of the rural routes should be on the lookout for parcels from now on. There will be rural delivery on Christmas day as that is one of the particular rules of the postal department.

NEW STATE GAME SEAL

Warden Instructed to Tag All Game
Held Out of Season

A new seal has been adopted by the state game commission for use by game wardens in tagging canned venison and all other game where the metal game tag cannot be used, according to instructions received here by Game Warden Marion Barnes. Twenty-five of the new tags were sent to Barnes.

According to the state game laws, all game held during a closed season must be tagged with the official seal, and failure to obtain tags subjects the owner of the game to arrest and prosecution. This applies to game killed in season for canning purposes, including fish, game birds and game animals.
