

The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

My auto, 'tis of thee,
Short road to poverty,
Of thee I chant,
I blew a lot of dough
On you four years ago,
Now you refuse to go,
Or won't or can't.

In Persia the wedding service is always read in front of a fire, reports Chas. Moore.

"What's the big idea? To warn hubby that wife will later make it hot for him?"

No matter how homely it may be, any man's name is pleasant to view at the bottom of a check.

Fred Peterson says any how we don't expect any more from some people than they do.

Riding, walking, golfing, motor-ing, aviating, shooting, hunting, fishing—everything, in fact, that women do nowadays, except cooking a meal, they gotta have pants.

If everybody "has it in" for you, that's no reason why you should take it out on somebody else.

Our Cub Office Boy "Writes Up" A Game

The game opened with Molasses at the stick and Smallpox catching. Cigar was in the box with plenty of smoke. Horn on first base, and Fiddle on second, backed by Corn in the field, make it hot for Umpire Apple, who was rotten. Ax came to bat and chopped. Cigar let Brick-walk, and Saw-dust filled the bases. Song made a hit, and Twenty made a score. Cigar went out and Balloon started to pitch, but went straight up. Then Cherry tried it, but was wild. One Ice kept cool in the game until he was hit by a pitched ball, then you should have heard Ice Cream. Cabbage had a good head and kept quiet. Grass covered lots of ground in the field, and the crowd cheered when Spider caught the fly.

Bread loafed on third and pumped Organ, who played fast and pat Light out. In the fifth inning, Wind began to blow about what he could do. Hammer began to knock and Trees began to leave. The way they roasted Peanuts was a fright. Knife was put out for cutting first base. Lightning finished pitching the game and struck out six men.

In the ninth, Apple told Fiddle to take his base. Oats was shocked, and then Song made another hit. Trombone made a slide, and Meat was put on the plate. There was a lot of betting on the game, but Soap cleaned up. The score was 3 to 2. Door said if he had pitched he would have shut them out.

You may be unknown, you may never reach distinction. Still, you can wipe your feet and shut the door.

"The only way the meek will get the earth or anything else, is to inherit it," says Fred Garich two-flat-edly.

"Youth must have love," says one of the popular young ladies who make the musical comedies attractive. That may be what makes some of the tired business men tired.

A Merry Christmas Kiss

A personal touch is added to the postcards sent by Miss Dorothy Southall, of Brooklyn, to her intimate friends this Yuletide. She leaves a kiss upon the card. You may do that too by rouging the lips heavily and then pressing them upon the card.

BISHOPS SCORE U. S. MONOPLY

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Scoring what it terms "unjust accumulation and inequitable distribution of huge surplus profits by financial corporations" and the distribution of "rewards of conquest in the form of governmental monopolies," the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, in a statement issued here, calls upon nations to individual and national repentance for whatever share we may have taken in the defense and support of un-Christian programs of power.

"America," the statement says, "should unhesitatingly accept her full responsibility for leadership in the restoration of a broken world. She should refuse to sanction any war except for strictest self-defense of humanity. She should continue to advocate universal disarmament and should not hesitate in asking that an international conference be called for this great purpose."

The growth of "personal and organized greed has limited and often defeated" the ideals of Christian society, the statement continued. "The first corrective of the world's woe is sincere repentance. The second corrective is the organization of political and social life everywhere upon the basis of the welfare of all."

"We deplore the unjust accumulation and inequitable distribution of huge surplus profits by financial corporations. We insist that Christian principles shall be applied alike to capital and labor."

"We deplore the distribution of rewards of conquest in the form of governmental monopolies and territorial control for personal and selfish advantages."

"We deplore the investment of taxes in armaments and pompous display, and urge the nations of the world not only to limit but to destroy this bulwark of hatred. It is our solemn judgment that nothing short of the actual application of the principles of Jesus in governmental, economic, religious and racial life today will meet the need."

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE LIBERTY

"No Woman Knows," the Universal-Jewel production shown at the Liberty theatre presents the ancient argument "Does it pay to sacrifice oneself for others?" Considering that the story has a happy ending and that finally "Fanny Herself" comes into her own would indicate that perhaps it does pay. "No Woman Knows," is an adaptation of Edna Ferber's famous story, "Fanny Herself."

The sun is expected to shine brightly tomorrow, for "My Old Kentucky Home," the long heralded motion picture named after the famous ballad, will open a limited engagement at the Liberty theatre.

The picture is from an original story by Anthony Paul Kelly, was directed by Ray C. Smallwood and tells a beautiful southern story of mother love replete with homely sentiment. It has an all star cast headed by Monte Blue, one of the country's favorite screen actors. Others in the all star cast are Sigrid Holmgust, Lucy Fox, Julia Swayne Gordon, Arthur Carey, Frank Currier, Matthew Betz and Billy Quirk.

The story deals with the romance of a young man who has been unjustly imprisoned and who is fearful lest his mother learn he has been in prison. For that reason he does not go home but when he hears the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home," coming from a street organ, his spirit is revived and instead of plunging into the underworld he heads for home.

AT THE STRAND

"Everything comes to him who waits, according to the old maxim and for once this came true in the life of Will Rogers, who plays the role of Ichabod Crane in "The Headless Horseman" or "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," the scheduled attraction playing at the Strand theatre Sunday.

It has always been, according to Mr. Rogers, his desire to play certain roles or represent certain characters in modern dramas. One of these was "Macbeth," the other was "Rip Van Winkle" and the last was Ichabod Crane in "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow."—When asked why he liked the first two mentioned, Mr. Rogers replied in his own inimitable way that he always found that a person who was not good-looking could always make a bigger success when heavily disguised. He figured that in Rip Van Winkle the towering whiskers would help cover up what he considers his lack of facial beauty and in "Macbeth," the darkness of the skin would set as a very good disguise.

However, in the role of Ichabod Crane, Mr. Rogers must be his own self, allowing his pleasing personality to hold full sway. The very fact that he likes the role makes his characterization very near perfect.

Mr. Rogers feels that it is quite a coincidence that he would be asked to play role of the grotesque schoolmaster of Sleepy Hollow when it was in fact one of the roles that he was most desirous of enacting.

AT THE PINE TREE

Rupert Hughes' latest picture, a super-production made by the Goldwyn company, should be seen and enjoyed by every member of the family. It is called "Remembrance," and is being presented for two days at the Pine Tree theatre.

The story deals with just such a family as can be found in any American city—a family that has achieved social and financial success and is branching out with an ambitious flourish. Only the father, "Poor Old Pop," the man who built up a small business into a successful department store remains unspoiled.

Pop is expected to work and pay the bills while the rest of the family have a good time. This is the situation when he collapses under the strain and suffers an illness that threatens his life.

First of all Rupert Hughes has written a gripping human story, but back of it there is a warning against selfishness and thoughtlessness that cannot well be missed. Pop is a beautifully sympathetic figure. He sacrifices himself uncomplainingly and the mother and children accept everything regardless of cost. No one can see "Remembrance" without profiting by the story of love it unfolds and the warning against selfishness. Claude Gillingwater, a well known stage actor, gives a memorable portrayal of the father.

FOUR IN DRY NET

Federal Warrants Issued for Arrest Indicted Yreka Men

YREKA, Cal., Dec. 23.—A deputy United States marshal appeared in Yreka Thursday with four federal warrants for the arrest of Charles C. Mathews, Ben Jenkins, Frank Duffly and Fred Thomas on complaints of having violated the national prohibition enforcement act. The complaints were sworn to by District Attorney Allen.

In October the grand jury returned indictments against the four men on the allegation of having sold liquor to a minor. When arraigned they entered pleas of not guilty. The case of Charles C. Mathews, tried in the superior court last week, resulted in a disagreement of the jury. The charges in the superior court are still pending.

Currins, brothers and druggists, Portland and Klamath Falls. 23
