TREE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

An amusement event of exceptional interest to those theatre-goers who delight in good theatrical enof Oliver Morosco's newest comedy

'Able's Irish Rose," which he will offer at the Pine Tree theatre on next Sunday and Monday evenings. A special matinee will be given on New Year's Day.

Oliver Morosco has an ideal--and an obligation-to reflect in its truest phrases the art of the theatre, and only the highest qualities of entertainment are ever offered the theatre-going public under the Morosco bapner. A full height of this ideal and the full measure of this obligation have been fulfilled in "Abie's Irish Rose." This Irish Hebrew mirthquake is one of the biggest laughing creations of the past ten years. This does not seem to be at all unreasonable when one considers the title of the new comedy. It is a story of a young Jewish lad who marries a pretty little Irish girl, and then tries to introduce her into the home of his strictly orthodox Hebrew father. This starts things but when the irate Irish parent thrusts himself into the proceedings the proverbial fun begins to fly in earn-

It takes everything from a priest and Julia Faye, who has won high and a rabbi to a large boiled ham at a kosher feast to finally untangle the mixup which follows the young lovers' secret marriage.

Critics and the public everywhere have ventured the opinion that it is Boardman is the mother, and it is dangers confronting the modern girl one of the greatest comedies seen
