

MINERS THREATEN TO STRIKE SEPT. 1

Only Intervention By Government Can Prevent Walkout, Says President Lewis

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 21.—The parley of anthracite operators and miners broke up today when the operators definitely refused to grant a wage increase. President Lewis of the miners said unless something unforeseen intervened the miners would consider themselves out of employment September 1. Both sides agreed that only government intervention could avoid a strike.

MEREDITH SUES FOR 30 CENTS FOR LIBEL

Charges of Senator Brookhart To Be Made Basis of Suit, Declares Former Secretary

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 21.—Charges by Senator Brookhart that E. T. Meredith, while occupying the office of secretary of agriculture "sat in the Wall street game and helped produce the greatest panic in farm prices in the history of agriculture," prompted Meredith to instruct his attorney to file suit against the senator for libel and damages of 30 cents. Meredith declared in a statement to the Associated Press today.

WATERLOO SHRINE NO LONGER MECCA OF TOURIST HORDES

BRUSSELS, Aug. 21.—Waterloo, until 1914, was the most frequented spot in Belgium. Victor Hugo's "dreary plain," dotted with monuments commemorating the armies taking part in the battle, topped by its colossal lion on the historic hill of Mont Saint-Jean, attracted countless foreign visitors, and on Sundays citizens of Brussels journeyed there in caravans.

Ancient mail coaches clattered up and down the streets of the Belgian capital, and their conductors, to the discordant tunes of obsolete brass instruments, invited tourists to Waterloo, 11 miles distant.

Guides fought and cursed at the Waterloo station for the remunerative privilege of escorting over the battlefield the numerous visitors which every train disgorged into the town.

Cafes, restaurants, hotels were doing a huge business. Today gaunt and sad guides await visitors in vain. Waterloo is desolate. Deserted inns are closing up. A great souvenir is being wiped out; an industry going bankrupt.

Devastated Flanders fields are monopolizing the curiosity seekers. Nieuport, Dixmude, Ypres and the Yser, the most thickly populated war cemeteries of Belgium, also provide its greatest attraction for the living.

The great war has killed Waterloo, and by half-destroying Flanders has reusciated it.

Some of our farmers are becoming so well educated they can't tell when it is going to rain.

THIEF THANKED FOR RESTORING LONG LOST VOICE

PARIS, Aug. 21.—In a secluded spot just outside the walls of Paris there stands a small and select infirmary where diseases of the throat are treated. Patients suffering from chronic laryngitis go there for medical attention.

The attention of the police was called recently to a series of daylight hold-ups occurring in the vicinity of the sanatorium. It seems that ingenious crooks watched prosperous looking visitors enter the institution, noted the worst cases—those so unable to utter a sound that they had to make signs to the doorman—and then set upon them when they left and robbed them of their money and valuables.

One of the stick-up men received the shock of his life the other day, when an intended victim, upon being attacked, suddenly shouted "help, thief!" in a voice which would have been a credit to a side-show barker. Fear had brought back the sick man's voice. "You have cured me," he said to the crook, "it's ten years since I have been able to shout like that. Here is a hundred francs; I would much rather give this to you than go on paying doctors."

VALUABLE VIOLIN FINALLY RECOVERED

Instrument Believed To Be Stradivarius, Loaned By Owner, Is Found By Deputy

A violin, said to be a Stradivarius, made in 1818, and belonging to Roy Patch of Keno, was recovered Saturday by Deputy Sheriff G. B. Cozad, three months after Patch had lent it to a friend. The friend went away and left the instrument with his room-mate in a house near the Spencer creek station. Previous trips by Patch were unsuccessful, since he could find no one at the place. Saturday he obtained a search warrant, and the assistance of a deputy sheriff, and succeeded in getting back the violin, which has been in his family for several generations. It was cleverly hidden behind some lumber when discovered.

No warrants were sworn out for theft, since Patch felt that it was only because of carelessness that his violin had not been returned, and that it had been hidden in the house for no other reason than that of safe keeping until it could be returned to him.

This is the worst I ever got into, said the fly as he slowly climbed out of the preserves.

All About the Mine Conference

Coal operators and miners met in conference at Atlantic City. Oral L. Garrison—that's the young man in the picture—is secretary to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers. There wasn't much being done at the conference, so Garrison went back to Springfield, Ill., and married Miss Lucille Hunter and took her to Atlantic City on their honeymoon. Yes, this is all about the mine conference.

ENGLISH TRYING TO PERFECT NEW ENGINE

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The aim of British airplane builders, for some time past, has been to produce a powerful multi-cylindered engine which would cool itself merely by reason of its own swift passage through the air. This would eliminate radiators, water-jackets and other impediments in water-cooled engines. Some of the best brains in the air world have been endeavoring to solve this problem.

The duke of Sutherland, in presenting the prize to the winner of the recent English aerial derby, remarked, "This day has seen the triumph of the air-cooled engine," and it is now believed that he was revealing the official significance which is attached to the result of the race.

The Winship Wardrobe is as superior to the old-fashioned center-opening wardrobe, as the latter was to the original box models.

Winship Wardrobe
The Trunk with Doors

Has no heavy halves to push and pull apart and injure floors or rugs. It opens with two easy swinging doors and either section can be opened, packed and locked independently. It stands square in a corner, and takes no more floor space open than when shut. It will not tip over backward while being packed, as it does not stand on two narrow spread halves. Its one piece base and solid central partition give it unparalleled durability and resistance. Every Winship is ready for a lifetime of efficient service.
