MENNONITES TO CREATE COLONY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 29.—A group of Russian Mennonites now living in Los Angeles and vicinity is preparing to establish a religious colony in northern Mexico. The matter already has been taken up with Leandro Garza Leal, Mexican consul here, and the promise received that the Mexican government will afford the usual facilities to settlers. A committee of five Mennonites soon will leave to inspect possible sites for the colony.

The heads of more than 100 families already have registered for the migration and as many more are expected to take similar action, it is stated. The Russians are said to favor going into Chihuahua, near the colonies of several thousand Mennonites who recently went there from Canada, but if they cannot obtain the necessary land there, they will go into Durango or to the coast of Sinaloa.
