AERIAL SURVEY OF ANCIENT CHINESE CITY IS MADE

PEKIN, Feb. 7.—Following the example of investigators who recently added to their knowledge of Stonehenge by viewing the site from the air, Carl Bishop, of the Smithsonian Institution, has made an aerial survey of the remains of an ancient city located near the present town of I-Chow, 60 miles southwest of Peking.

The place, according to Bishop was the site of a city of considerable importance antedating authentic history, which later became known as Yen, capital of the kingdom of that name, and which was burned by Chin Shihwang in 222 B. C.

There are 39 mounds traceable which Bishop designates as burial places, while others of greater dimensions he believes to be sites of temples and public buildings.

SAYS 'LOVE ONE ANOTHER' CORE OF RELIGION

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—When doctors disagree and tongues wax vehemently, confused in their disputations regarding dogmas, the mass of common people for whom the Christian religion was revealed by a God of Love will fall back upon the simple and sure maxim of love and out of the smoke screen of many words about numerous nothing will emerge scholarly conclusions approaching nearer to the sound conclusions of the masses of men.

Such was the declaration of Dr. A. Holmes, professor of psychology of the University of Pennsylvania, speaking before the Chicago Sunday Evening Club, in pointing out that the thing the common people felt in Jesus and would always feel in His religion was the "simple quality of Love"—which he termed the core of common-sense religion.

"While the tumult and the shouting rises and falls in the high councils of the experts in religion, the common man may go his way unafraid that the foundation of religion will be shaken," Dr. Holmes asserted. "In the uproar of the theological controversy now raging in many religious quarters it is not surprising to find that a great many people unacquainted with the niceties of the points at issue are confused and fearful. They fear that such confusion seriously affects the religion by which the common-sense man orders his life.

"Little need a man worry if his head be confused so long as his heart is right. Amid the uproar of opposing ideas on vague and far-away matters, business, family life and public affairs may go on, all guided by the one solitary and inflexible precept of Love.

"Religion is not a set of doctrines, not a scholastically worded epitome of boiled down truths simmered out of the minds of word whittlers, but a living, loving, seething power innate in mankind and directed in its outworkings by the revelations of God, the father, through his prophets. 'Hark ye shall men know you are my disciples because you love one another' was the decisive mark Jesus mentioned for knowing his believers from all others. That is the core of common sense religion and always will be."

FRENCH NAVY IS BEING REDUCED

PARIS, Feb. 7.—When France completes the reduction of the fleet of her navy program, elaborated in conformity with the Washington disarmament agreement, the fleet of the republic will consist of nine battleships, 14 cruisers, 60 torpedo boats and destroyers, and 64 submarines. This will be done by the spring of 1926.

Of the nine battleships, however, two are now obsolete and are not even today carried in the parliamentary reports as effective weapons of offense. Six of the 14 cruisers will have passed the age limit, and 17 torpedo boats and destroyers are admitted by naval experts to be unequal to the task that would be allotted to them in present naval warfare. Twenty of the submarines which saw service during the late war, according to a parliamentary report, would be useless.

Thus France could bring into line for effective naval operations seven battleships, eight cruisers, 43 torpedo boats and destroyers and 40 submarines.

Minister of Marine Flaminius Raiberti, expressing his conviction that such a reduced fleet would be unable to ensure the security of France's naval frontiers and the liberty of her naval lines of communications, recently introduced a bill in the chamber, asking authorization to proceed immediately to work on the second section of the naval program, as agreed upon at Washington.

The bill provides for the construction of six cruisers of 10,000 tons; 15 destroyers of 2,400 tons; 25 torpedo boats of 1,450 tons; four submarine cruisers of 3,000 tons; 50 submarines of the first class, 1,300 tons and four tankers of 10,000 tons each. According to the government's program work on these various units was to commence in January, 1925, and be completed in 1929.

Deputy Paul Denais, secretary of the Naval Commission of the Chamber, in submitting his report endorsing the program of the government, recommended that "owing to the precarious condition of the French Navy," the entire program be completed between 1924 and 1928.

This program as amended by the Naval Commission will come up for discussion during the present year, probably a few weeks after the new chamber meets next May. It involves an expenditure of 2,350,000,000 francs, while the present chamber is unwilling to saddle upon the country just previous to going to the polls.

BOYS WILL BE LEAGUE STARS

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—Boys who were too young to enter the World War are going to be the major league baseball stars within a year or two, in the opinion of Judge Emil Fuchs, one of the owners of the Braves.

"There will be some careful scouting for this material," he said, "because the big leagues are crowded with veterans who are fading. I believe the time is fast approaching when there will be a fresh crop of the natural flow of

MALAYS FAIL TO BECOME MODERN

HEIDELBERG, Feb. 8.—All races of the world have shown more or less predilection toward civilization, excepting a tribe of Malaya in the wilds of one of the Celebes islands in the Dutch West Indies, asserts Professor Baseler, an anthropologist of Vienna, writing in a German medical journal. These natives, living in unexplored sections of the island, are gradually slipping backward, says Professor Baseler, and if their decline continues it may go to prove eventually that Darwin, after all, was right.
