

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

Returns From North—

After an absence of a week in Salem, Oregon City, Portland and other Willamette valley points, Sheriff Lloyd Low returned to Klamath Falls yesterday noon. He left with three Mexican prisoners for the penitentiary and put them in charge of the warden.

Herald Editor Ill—

Suffering with a slight attack of influenza, F. R. Soule, editor and publisher of the Evening Herald, remained at home yesterday and today.

Here On Business—

M. F. Parker, business man of Redding, Calif., was in town yesterday on business. Parker with his family moved last fall to Redding on account of the lower altitude there. The high altitude of Klamath Falls proved detrimental to his health. Redding, Parker asserted, is a live town and all the people are on their toes, but Klamath Falls is in a class by itself. An almost continuous rain of 10 days in the upper section of Sacramento valley has assured the farmers of good crops this year, he said. Previous to the period of rainfall there was a dry period that did not bode well for this year's crops. There is considerable highway activity Parker said, particularly in the work connecting up the link from Redding to the Oregon line.

Visit City Yesterday—

Among the many county visitors who visited Klamath Falls yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. M. Pedigo of Asprrove, E. J. Lawrence of Merrill, Roy P. Stiffler of Worden, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schmidt of Sprague River; C. W. Warren, stockman of Bly, and Jesse Drew a farmer of Dalry.

OLDEST PRINTERS IN U. S. WORKING EVERY DAY IN WEEK

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 14.—Two Illinois printers, Mrs. Tillie Hodge, 50, of Tiskilwa, and Col. W. N. Bates, 84, of Pekin, claim the distinction of being the oldest active printers in the United States. Both are hand compositors and both are at work over their cases every work day in the week. Mrs. Hodge in the offices of the Tiskilwa Chief, a weekly newspaper, and Col. Bates in his own print shop in Pekin.

Mrs. Hodge has been connected with newspaper work ever since her teens when she worked in the office of the Bureau County Republic where she learned to set type by hand. Later she went to Chicago, and when President Lincoln was assassinated she helped "hand pick" the story of the event for a Chicago morning newspaper.

Since that time Mrs. Hodge has worked in the South and in several parts of the middle west. She was married in 1865, but returned to her trade when her husband died in 1888. Mrs. Hodge is remarkably active for her age. She is a student of physical culture and is a busy reader, keeping well informed on current questions.

Col. Bates learned the printing trade in La Fayette, Indiana, at the age of 13 working on a morning paper and setting the type by the light of tallow candles. He still has the stick in which he set his first type.

In those days there was not a sharp division between the work of the editorial staff and the composing staff, and the same men that wrote the newspaper often set it up, printed it and delivered it. Mr. Bates has done considerably reporting in connection with his work on various newspapers. After working on several papers in Chicago and downstate Mr. Bates enlisted in 1861 and fought through the Civil War. At the end of the war he returned to Pekin where he established his own shop in 1870.

Mr. Bates is commander of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic, which he organized and is considered an authority on local history.

FEDERAL LAND BANK BUSINESS IS GOOD

SPokane, Feb. 14.—Notwithstanding a seasonal slackening last month, the federal land bank of Spokane continued to forge ahead steadily in the total amount of farm mortgage loans contracted since the bank was opened in 1917, according to a report issued by D. G. O'Shea, president of the institution.

At the close of January, 1924, more than $95,000,000 for the seven-year period had been distributed in the district controlled by the bank, which includes the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. During January, 238 loans amounting to $871,000 were made, the statement said.

According to the report, approximately $8,000,000 or in excess of $1,000,000 a year annually, has been paid back by the borrowers on their principal, either in whole or in part. This money constitutes a revolving fund with which additional loans are made.

Idaho farmers have availed themselves of the bank's resources to the extent of $24,000,000, it was reported. No new additional farm loan associations were organized by the bank last month, the figure standing the same as reported for the year 1923, slightly in excess of 600.

IRISH POPULATION SHOW GAIN

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—An official return puts the estimated population of the Free state at the middle of 1923 at 2,165,000. These figures are approximate, but they show an increase in the population in ten years of more than 20,000.

LINVILLE COLLEGE SOUGHT BY EUGENE

EUGENE, Ore., Feb. 14.—Eugene is desirous of obtaining the Linville college of McMinnville, Oregon, if any change in the location of the institution is to be made, according to Rev. C. E. Dunham of the First Baptist church here, and one of the leaders in a move to bring the college to this city. Recently it was reported a movement had been started to remove the college to a larger city where advantages for the students would be greater.

Linville college, formerly known as McMinnville college, is one of the oldest educational institutions in Oregon, having been established in the early days by the Baptists. Two years ago the name was changed to Linville college.

Belief that facilities offered by the University of Oregon would be of great advantage to the students of Linville college was expressed by Reverend Dunham.

TRIBESMEN BALKED AT PAYING BILLS FOR CHIEF'S TRIP

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Saboza, paramount chief of Swaziland, the African potentate who visited England last year, occupied a "bath" at residence in the British capital and paid his respects to King George at Buckingham Palace, returning to his home land only to find his cool black tribesmen would not approve their big chief's bills for travel and entertainment. A nine-months drought occurred in Swaziland and the Swazis thought Saboza had caused it. In fear and terror they came through with the money for the chief's debts—and then it rained. Saboza had relented. Now the chief is planning another European trip.
