

The Evening Herald

Issued daily except Sunday by The Herald Publishing company. Office, 110 North Eight St., Klamath Falls, Oregon

F. R. SOULE President and Manager RUTH SOULE Secretary-Treasurer

Member of the Associated Press The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and to all local news published herein.

F. R. SOULE Editor H. R. HILL City Editor P. S. WAITE Advertising Manager M. W. REYNOLDS Mechanical Superintendent

Subscription Rates Delivered by Carrier ONE YEAR $6.50 SIX MONTHS $3.50 THREE MONTHS $1.95 ONE MONTH .65

Information for Advertisers Copy for display advertising must be in this office not later than 3 p.m. on the day preceding publication in order to be inserted in the issue of the paper of the next day.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1924

THEY HAVE THEIR USES

A ton and a half of mail order catalogs already arrived in Klamath Falls and distributed. Two and a half tons more on the way.

Four tons! Eight thousand pounds! This is the bid of mail order houses for Klamath county money. And for every catalog received a certain sum of perfectly good Klamath county money will take wing and never be seen here again.

Mail order houses pay no taxes in Klamath county. Nor do they have any interest in the county whatsoever—except in the money they drain out each year.

Citizens whose library tables are graced by a voluminous catalog of mail order houses will do well to consider, before succumbing to the lure of the attractively pictured goods, whether they are winners in the long run by sending their money away.

Fancied—or real—savings now mean a loss later. The loss may not be readily apparent, but it is no less real.

Support of home town merchants means they are enabled to buy goods in larger quantity at a time, thus obtaining a better price. Merchants are anxious to sell their goods at fair prices. Local competition is keen. The prosperous merchant can discount his bills, promptly pay his notes.

Still, catalogs have their uses. They should not be wasted. To provide entertainment for kiddies they are worth more than expensive toys. Whole families of paper dolls, houses, automobiles, and countless other things that delight the childish heart, may be obtained from their pages.

They are valuable to start fires on chilly mornings. The crisp paper lends itself readily to this purpose. Keep a catalog or two near the kitchen stove.

But first burn the order blanks, lest the temptation prove irresistible.

ROMANCE NOT YET DEAD

There is romance left in the air, on the sea, even if romance on land seems at times to the reader of the newspapers to have disappeared. It would have been a thrilling sight to see Pilot Panghorn turn over the control of his machine to Freddie Loon, who got on board from another plane a mile from the ground, crawl out on the rigging, lower himself to the landing gear and help Diavato, the acrobatic airman, pull up to safety the Houston chorus girl who was suspended in an entangled parachute.

Efforts have been made to prosecute a wholesaler in Minneapolis who bought a lot of old potatoes in Chicago and sold them as "Florida new potatoes" at a profit of 6,000 per cent. The effort failed because, the city law department explained, no statute or ordinance had been violated. Evidently the legal attitude is still the old attitude of trade. "Let the buyer beware!"—Woodland Mail.

You never can tell what a loving cup will lead to. In New York a riot in which bricks were thrown, three men badly hurt and the loving cup smashed was the sequel to awarding such a trophy in a club where other members dissented in the award.—Stockton Record.

Friday is Washington's birthday, and all the barbers will lay down their hatchets.—Medford Mail-Tribune.

A Texas chemist says the elements contained in the human body are worth just 98 cents. The fellow who was guessed wrong as to his hostess' age would cheerfully sell out for a third of that.—Eugene Register.

IMPROVING THE MASTERPIECE

The Office Cat

She lets me kiss her now and then and that is nice. She does the same for other men, I get advice.

Of course I kiss a friend or two or maybe three. A common thing for men to do, but why should she?

An optimist, thinks Joe Brett, is a man who is just starting a lively stable business.

"I believe," said the impatient Klamath Falls man, as he put aside the telephone, "that I'll go fishing."

"I don't, ordinarily, but it's the only chance I have of finding myself at the end of a line that isn't busy."

Another thing that puzzles me is why do the writers of popular songs do that for a living when they could live in asylums at the expense of the state?

Every time anyone smiles it makes a warm glow in the heart. Why not save gas fuel by smiling often?

My placed his arm around her waist. She laid her head upon his breast. The car went crawling through a fence.

An undertaker did the best. Shallow rivers and cheap flippers make the most noise when running.

"Good-bye, I'll give you a ring to-morrow." "Oh, you dear! Do you mean it? This is so sudden!"

John McCall says when my child asks help with her lessons, I want to know how much I have forgotten.

E. L. Elliott declares there should be two national spanking days: the day after Halloween and the day after daughter returns home from college.

Most persons, snaps Doc Mancey, will have to go on working—only a few are able to write songs silly enough to bring riches.

Walter—"Walter, is your corn tender?" "Very sir, and the sooner you take your foot off the better it'll be."

School teachers, thinks A. M. Cysol, are people who will get reported if they don't treat your kids better.

The evening dew was falling fast, As through an Oregon village passed

SHORTER BIBLE IS OPPOSED

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 21.—Opposition to any efforts to compile a "shorter Bible" or to eliminate as non-essential any part of the Scriptures is expressed in a statement made public by R. L. Edmiston of this city, president of the Bible Fellowship of Washington.

"There is no power in the organic government, federal or state, much less in any person, sect or committee, to in any manner divide, add to or take from the Holy Bible without impairment of the national foundation and sovereign rights," the statement declares.

The federal constitution, it asserts, forbids congress the power to enact religious laws, "and the complete Holy Bible is approved by the kiss of each president on behalf of the sovereign and of each citizen, when taking the oath in the constitution on behalf of the organic government."

"Every citizen and both the sovereign (union of citizens) and the government of our nation are most vitally and sacredly bound to use every power necessary to inculcate and replenish common knowledge of the Holy Bible revealed laws," the statement continues, "undivided and unimpaired, to each sovereign citizen, born or made, free and distinct from clergy and personal profession, to the end that national Christian citizenship be protected and replenished in yielding allegiance first to the fundamental law of the Holy Bible and declaration of independence, second to the supreme organic law of the constitution and third to rules of personal sect, church and society."

"Therefore we hold that the Holy Bible cannot be divided, reduced or added to, except by the clearly expressed will of the sovereign by means of the ballot, exercised as provided by the constitution under the unchangeable declaration pledge and compact, all in harmony with Christ's command, 'That ye love one another.' Otherwise, the talking from or adding to the Holy Bible would to that extent be sectarian and not within the national scope of Christian citizenship."

The Bible Fellowship is an organization of representatives of Protestant denominations of the state, the primary object of which, according to its constitution, is "to remove the legal barriers to the reading of the Bible in the public schools of the state of Washington."

Chicago teamsters are striking. When teamsters fall out chauffeurs get more than their due.

These days a moth keeps one eye on the calendar and the other on your winter clothes.

The world would be much better if you could whistle with a pipe in your mouth.

You will find that three cheers beat six jeers.

Henry Ford danced a jig at Way-ville Inn proving the lie is not up.

In Los Angeles, a man stole a radio and got six months on it.

Many boys have probably quit looking for Easter already.

Henry Ford danced a jig at Way-ville Inn proving the lie is not up.

In Los Angeles, a man stole a radio and got six months on it.

Many boys have probably quit looking for Easter already.

Ten Years Ago Today

Feb. 21, 1914—Delightful Party—The Non-Regal Whist club will be entertained tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coker. Members of the club are Mr. and Mrs. Carey M. Ham-berg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. English, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whitlock, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Packer, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bergelt, Mr. and Mrs. Orb Campbell.

has been attained not merely by The Herald's large circulation, but by the fact that all of its readers are

NEWS OF THE KLAMATH COUNTRY

SECTION MEN HAVE CLOSE CALL WHEN TRAIN HITS SPEEDER

MIDLAND, Feb. 21.—(Special)—"Shorty," the section boss of Midland, and his crew worked 15 minutes overtime last Friday. The crew were on their way home on the speeder when a freight train came around the bend and was nearly upon them before they realized their danger. The men jumped for their lives from both sides of the speeder, narrowly escaping death. The train hit the speeder and reduced it to splinters. "Shorty" left Saturday morning for Dunsmuir to explain the matter.

CHILOUQUIN

CHILOUQUIN

Alvin Farnsworth and Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Davis returned Tuesday from Portland where they have spent the last week on business.

Mrs. ALVIN Farnsworth left Sunday for Yreka where she will attend the funeral of Erno and Harp which was resumed after an interval of several days caused by illness in the family of one of the attorneys.

Walter Nelson and wife were business visitors here over the week end. They expect to return to Chiloquin to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Shuler spent Tuesday in town on their way to Lamma's camp at Kirk where they will spend the summer.

Mr. Katherine West and daughter arrived in Chiloquin from Klamath Falls Wednesday. Mrs. West is the owner of the New Commercial hotel there being built in East Chiloquin.

Jim Norred who has been making an extended trip in the east and south since last September returned to Chiloquin yesterday and expects to stay here during the summer.

W. W. Winningham was a business visitor here Wednesday on his way from Klamath Falls to Kirk where he will be employed this summer at Lamma's camp.

Henry Shadley spent Tuesday in Chiloquin from the Klamath Valley hospital where he is still receiving treatment for his hand.

R. V. Mallory of Stockton, Cal., was a business caller in town yesterday.

BLV

O. W. Howard made a business trip to Klamath Falls last Thursday.

Gilbert Brown, Norman White and L. Frazzel, all of the Fremont national forest service and located at Lakeview, were in Bly this week en route to Klamath Falls, to bring back two cars from there to be used in the forest work this season. They were the first to come over the mountain from Lakeview since the crash of a few weeks ago and made the trip successfully.

Miss Jacquiline Weaver has returned to Bly and has accepted a position with the Bly Mercantile company. Miss Weaver has been employed at the Golden Rule in Klamath Falls the past few months.

Jack McAuiliffe spent a few days in Bly this week looking after sheep and cattle that he has here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Givan and family went into Klamath Falls on Thursday of last week. From there Mrs. Givan and children will go to Salem for a month's visit with her mother, Mrs. O. D. Power.

Mrs. Hazel Peters went into Klamath Falls Thursday.

Mrs. J. S. Watts has been ill the past week and at this time is slightly improved.

James Edsall has returned from California where he spent the winter months. Mrs. Edsall is expected home within a few days.

J. N. Givan made a trip to Klamath Falls the past week to meet with certain business men relative to the Klamath Falls round-up for the coming year. Plans for the co-operation of the business men and merchants of Klamath Falls with the promoters of the Round-up was one of the main issues of the meeting.

Glenn Parker of Klamath Falls is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Parker for a few days.

Marvin Stephens has returned to Bly to live with his grandmother, Mrs. W. T. Garrett.

Roads out from Klamath Falls and Lakeview are in fair condition now, cars being able to come either way, the few remaining mud holes are drying up very fast with the warm weather we are having.

The Bly hotel which has been operated the past six years by Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Howard was sold by them to Mrs. Nancy Warren and Marvin Cross last week. The hotel will now be under the management of Mrs. Warren.

Scott Warren has returned to Klamath Falls to resume his studies in high school.

MALIN

A large delegation of water users attended the mass meeting at Henley Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Voss and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Myers, Andrew Johnson, Jacob Styskil, Mr. and Mrs. McComb were among the visitors at Klamath Falls Tuesday.

Mrs. Krupka and little granddaughter Marie Van Meter were in Klamath Falls Tuesday for medical advice. Marie fell from a horse about two weeks ago. Serious trouble has developed from an injury to the bone at the time of the fall. A doctor took X-ray pictures at Malin. Mrs. Van Meter was sent for from Jerome where she was visiting. An operation was performed Wednesday at Klamath Falls.

Mr. J. A. McComb has been appointed as acting postmaster of Malin. Henry Krupka who has been postmaster will go into ranch work.

At a meeting of the building committee of the community hall, plans were made for the heating and lighting of the hall and for finishing the interior of the building. It is hoped to have the building ready soon for use.

Mr. and Mrs. Fogle and daughter Oriane returned from Sacramento Saturday from a visit to Mr. Fogle's sister.

POLAND TAKES OVER AMERICAN Y.M.C.A.

WARSAW, Poland, Feb. 21.—One of the romances of American welfare work abroad has just reached its climax in the formal transfer of the Y. M. C. A. in Poland from American to Polish administration. This action means that only five years after its introduction into Poland as a welfare service for the Polish army, Y. M. C. A. work here has grown into the permanent form so familiar to the people of America.

The formal transfer, which took place in the Warsaw Y. M. C. A. building, was the occasion for a ceremony attended by the President of Poland and many other of its notable citizens, Paul Super, National Y. M. C. A. secretary for Poland, says:

"After the Great War the American Y. M. C. A. conducted work for the Polish Army at nearly 100 points, employing in this work 63 American secretaries and expending $1,700,000. All this war work has, of course, been discontinued and the enterprise now is on a civilian basis officered and directed by Poles. It begins its new status with some 7,500 members in 17 cities and many thousands of friends in government, university, civil and military circles. Seven American Y. M. C. A. secretaries remain in Poland as technical advisors and instructors in the work of the association, loaned as an expression of the cooperation of the American Y. M. C. A. with the Polish movement."

The prestige of Herald Want Ads has been attained not merely by the fact that all of its readers are interested in their Want Ads

Silk and Twill

This dress of silk and twill shows the beautiful style in a unique effect. The material is of figured silk, the tone of twill or ruy. There is a dash here that you may tie on the side or in the back as you wish.