

SAYS OREGON RANKS SECOND IN EDUCATION

Compared with the total amount of taxes levied in the state, Oregon ranks next to the lowest of all states in the Union in money spent for public education.

An investigation conducted by the Russell Sage Foundation, a highly endowed institution of the east, on ten points, five of which are educational and five financial, places Oregon in 19th place.

Concerning the educational comparison of Oregon with other states, it was found that Oregon stood second of all the 48 states.

These statements were given to the county high school board, the city school board, and the county school board by J. A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction in Oregon, Saturday.

Superintendent Churchill was in Klamath Falls, Friday and Saturday, for the purpose of addressing the high school and grade school teachers of the county, of looking into the standardization of Henley high school and of conferring with the three school boards of the county on matters pertaining to public instruction.

The high school teachers were addressed by Churchill in the morning. He said that all teachers should have a mental measuring stick by which they should measure themselves and the school that they teach in. For example, he explained, if the proportion of girls receiving degrees in high school far exceeds the boys, then something is wrong. If the number of those who fail to graduate is high, then the teacher knows that somewhere the high school is not fulfilling its function.

Principals of rural high schools should not give special privileges to those pupils who enter late in the fall and leave early in the spring because they must work in the fields. That is neither fair to the pupil or the school, Churchill averred. It also caused the parents of the children to encourage this practice.

The county school board, the county high school board, the city school board and Churchill were the guests of the domestic science class of the Klamath county high school for lunch Saturday noon. The meal was served in the domestic science classroom.

In the afternoon the grade school teachers were addressed on the ideals a teacher should always keep before her, of the proper administration of grade schools, and of the necessity of instilling into the mind of the child a firm understanding of some of the characteristics that made the nation's heroes what they were. Lives of such men as Lincoln and Washington should be studied and the ideals they stood for emulated.

SURPLUS OF WOMEN NOTED AT OXFORD

OXFORD, Feb. 25.—There is a surplus of 4,500 marriageable women in this town, which has a total population of only 57,000, according to the census returns.

The statistics show that Oxford is a city of youth, leisure and the professions, these three classes making up more than 37 per cent of the entire male population. The largest group of inhabitants is that of the age of 21, and more than one-sixth of the whole population falls within the ages of 18 and 25. Girl students at the university total only 521 against a total of males of 2388. The city has 210 tavern keepers, 38 boat builders, and 482 persons, men and women, engaged in the tailoring trade.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin And Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up. Get a small jar of Towle's Mentho-Sulphur from a good druggist and use it like cold cream.—ADV.

'THINK NOT OF GRAFT' WARNING

SPEYER, Bavarian Palatinat, Feb. 24.—"Think not of graft," is the warning which stands on the desks of officials of the Reparation government set up here by the late President Helzig, and now directed by his successor Adolph Hley.

If the government officials were less dusty and neglected, and the soldiers and officials showed more signs of personal neatness, the warning would be more impressive. Hley's government gives the impression of being a hobo convention. It is a polyglot assembly. All languages are spoken, including English with the accent of the East End of London.

Palatinat residents have little to do with the government. Few visitors pass its portals, and these are chiefly journalists of various nations bent on ascertaining what the row in the Palatinat means.

A visit to the Hley government is an adventure. Its chief function seems to be searching for arms. Guards at the door of the Palatinat government escort an inquiring visitor to a small waiting room, where two unkempt clerks stop munching bread and sipping wine long enough to present a list of questions which all who enter must fill out.

Then they ask: "Have you any firearms?" If the reply is in the negative the visitor is escorted to the head of the defence section. Here there are several young men with revolvers strapped across their chests or lying on their desks. They examine the visitor's credentials and ask many questions about his mission. Then comes the inevitable: "Have you any firearms?" A negative answer is not sufficient to convince the defence section. The pockets of the visitor are carefully searched by the head of the department.

After all these formalities a visitor is free to pass on to the rooms of the cabinet members. These are large offices at the front of the building which is heavily patrolled by General de Meix' Moroccan soldiers. These much-discarded Moroccans shade all the way from pure white to coal black, and are picturesquely attired in mustard-colored uniforms and red fezzes.

There is less disorder in the cabinet chambers than in other sections of the Separatist government building and Hley and his cabinet are better-groomed than the sketchy army and the underlings who are holding down minor offices. But there is the same lack of business. Desks are without papers, stenographers are sitting idle before their machines, and a visitor is a real event.

In the building of automobiles 252 different kinds of work are required. The industry has created many heretofore unknown kinds of work.

RHEUMATISM

Cannot Exist in the Human Body if You Will Use Trunk's Prescription.

It is preposterous; in fact, it is a shame to suffer with inflammatory, muscular, sciatic or any form of Rheumatism.

This Prescription does not ruin the stomach. It does not depress the heart. Eat all the meat and good food you wish while taking Trunk's Prescription. Contains no mercury, salicylate soda, oil wintergreen or narcotics, but positively overcomes any kind of rheumatism or gout on earth. What more do you want? There is nothing just as good, and it is impossible to get something better. The greatest uric acid solvent known and also a superior Liver Medicine.

Trunk's Prescription sells for $1.75 or $3 for only $5.—Star Drug Co.—Adv.

WRITE ME ABOUT YOUR CASE

If you will write me about your condition, I will send you my FREE illustrated book which tells many things about Piles and other rectal troubles which YOU should know.

It also explains my non-surgical treatment which, without pain or confinement, is GUARANTEED to cure your Piles—or fee refunded.

It also lists hundreds of former patients, both men and women, who testify as to my skill.

CHAS. J. DEAN, M.D. AND HIS HUSBAND PORTLAND, OREGON

PARENTS URGED TO TAKE INTEREST IN SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—If the school is to accomplish anything more than the transmission of technical knowledge from one generation to another, the existing attitude of indifference toward the child's education must give way to the realization that the visit of the parent to the school is an opportunity, Mrs. Edith E. Bristol, dean of girls at Soldan High School, St. Louis, told members of the National Association of Deans of Women, in convention here today.

"Educators alone cannot direct the mind of the child in the proper channels, technically and socially," Mrs. Bristol said. "We must realize that preoccupation with school affairs tends to keep us from envisaging the community which we serve. Out teaching of single subjects endangers the main object of education, forming well informed and useful citizens to carry on the world's affairs. If we can see the futility of too much faith in our single handed methods, we shall make use of the criticisms expressed by parents, to build up a better mutual understanding and to encourage democratic participation in community life."

In discussing the duties of parents and teachers in relation to schools, Mrs. Bristol urged more visits by parents and an active interest in school life, both educationally and socially.

"The teachers need the suggestions furnished by the parents as much as the parents need them to give the child a technical education. The dean can be the connecting link between the teacher and the parent and on her depends the success of the school. To bring fruitful relations between the school and community, which results in raising the standards of civilization among the younger generation, is one of the many problems confronting educators.

"We have lost sight of the fact that without close co-operation between the school and community, the parent and the teacher, the best results cannot be obtained in advancing civilization.

"If a frequent interchange of opinion could take place between the school and the community through participation on the part of students in a democratic management of school affairs and through a similar organization of parents and teachers, we should not be laboring under misunderstanding."

An Even Break
Townly—"Do you often have to rush to catch your morning train?"
Stubbs—"Oh, it's about an even break. Sometimes I am standing at the station when the train puffs up and other times it is standing at the station when I puff up."

Tires give best service when kept at the proper inflation.

TRAIN SERVICE IN ALASKA IMPROVED

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Feb. 26.—One more through train each way and a special Sunday train each way between Anchorage and Seward, will be a feature of the summer schedule adopted by the government's Alaska railroad.

The new schedule, designed to handle the 1923 tourist traffic, shows three trains each way a week, instead of two as at present. Trains will leave Seward, the southern terminal, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, arriving at Fairbanks, the interior terminal, on the following day. Trains will leave Fairbanks southbound on the same days.

Lee H. Landis, general manager of the road, announces that in addition to this service special trains will be run for the benefit of travelers, on short notice, if 100 or more passengers request them. The government is preparing to give, besides the train service, adequate pack transportation into the Mount McKinley national park.

A good salesman is a person who can tell a prospect from a suspect.

TRAIN SERVICE IN ALASKA IMPROVED

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Feb. 26.—One more through train each way and a special Sunday train each way between Anchorage and Seward, will be a feature of the summer schedule adopted by the government's Alaska railroad.

The new schedule, designed to handle the 1923 tourist traffic, shows three trains each way a week, instead of two as at present. Trains will leave Seward, the southern terminal, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, arriving at Fairbanks, the interior terminal, on the following day. Trains will leave Fairbanks southbound on the same days.

Lee H. Landis, general manager of the road, announces that in addition to this service special trains will be run for the benefit of travelers, on short notice, if 100 or more passengers request them. The government is preparing to give, besides the train service, adequate pack transportation into the Mount McKinley national park.

A good salesman is a person who can tell a prospect from a suspect.

NEW BIG PACKAGE

111 Cigarettes 24 for 15¢

Dress Up-- Attend The Auto Show

Copyright 1924 The House of Kuppenheimer

There's a Feeling in the Air

Its a Dress-up Feeling particularly. Truth to Tell we weren't going to sing any spring stuff in this ad, but it's hard to stick to humdrum facts when everything is buzzing with life and color

Kuppenheimer Spring Suits Are Arriving and They are Alive with Color- Pep and Style. Don't Forget that There is a Kuppenheimer Suit For Every Type of Figure -- That Means a Perfect Fit

The spring suits Are

$30, $35 $40 and up to $60

Step in and select Yours

Spring styles in "Knox" Hats , New Nettleton shoes for spring

K. K. K. S T O R E

"Leading Clothiers"