

RECORD CROWD AT HENLEY MEET

The exceptionally interesting program, scheduled for the Henley community gathering Wednesday night, drew a record crowd of over 100 with every seat filled. Prior to the meeting Miss Helen Cowgill, here for the week from Q. A. C. to stimulate and perfect the girls' club organized this year by County Club Leader Frank W. Sexton, met with the Henley Cookery club and delivered a practical talk to its 14 members.

Attorney Breuner supplemented his talk on practical education by a vivid outline of the Oriental message to our farming and land interests in the western states. This is a subject on which Breuner is thoroughly conversant and the anti-Japanese and anti-Chinese measures adopted and proposed in California and other Pacific coast states were cited and the support of every loyal American farmer urged. If our highest producing lands are not to become impoverished through Oriental tenancy.

County Agent C. A. Henderson spoke on the pertinent subject of land settlement and what the systematized colonization of our idle lands would mean to the state as a whole and Klamath county in particular. During the past week Henderson has been showing Daugherty of the Oregon state chamber of commerce about the county, with a view of listing and discussing possible means and locations for colonization, which vitalized his talk last evening with the facts and conditions which the past week's work has disclosed.

Miss Cowgill's address was on the importance of club work in Oregon schools, which allowed parent as well as pupil the opportunity of laying a foundation for future contentment on the farm by the creation of personal interests and occupations in the home and school, rather than allow the often empty lure of the large cities to waste the country youth from home.

Miss Lulu Walton of Merrill gave two clever character readings and the more serious subjects of the program were enlivened by several snappy numbers by the high school students. At the completion of the program chicken pie and coffee were served by the ladies of the Henley Community club.

TRAFFIC COP ROUNDS UP 8

When J. J. McMahon, state traffic officer from Medford arrives in Klamath Falls, something generally happens. McMahon was not a disappointment this time. A number of motorists were arrested yesterday for violating the state traffic laws. The diversity of charges indicates that he is here for a general "jacking up."

All in all, there were eight motorists that McMahon arrested yesterday. They were H. W. Walls, operating a car without proper brakes; H. I. Evans, for not having an operator's license; Lyonel Borough, $5 for having no license plates; Lawrence Horton, no tail lights; G. Meeker, didn't dim headlights on highway; M. S. Redman, speeding in Klamath Falls, $20; and W. D. Neen, didn't dim on the highways.

Later in the year, McMahon predicted, a state traffic officer will be established here permanently. McMahon is a candidate from a strident with rebellious, inflexible sheriff of Jackson county in the May primaries. He said that he had a good chance to come through on top but refused to do any campaigning while holding his present job.

INSECTS CAUSE OF HOUSING PROBLEM

LONDON, Feb. 20. — Dr. G. J. Gahan, of the Natural History Museum here, is faced with a grave housing problem because he has not enough room in his department for all the insects, which people keep sending him.

There are more than three million insects accommodated in his department and, now, he has been placed in a quandary because he cannot find accommodation for an additional batch of 17,000 beetles which has just been sent him.

To people who doubt that there are so many beetles in existence, Dr. Gahan points out that there are roughly 200,000 species, of which the museum has on an average ten specimens of each.

"Some of the beetles are 150 years old—or 150 dead," said Dr. Gahan. "They appear to be as good as ever

At the present time, he said, there are between 600,000 and 700,000 Irish people in the industrial belt of Scotland, while the native population showed a tendency to decrease.

PROGRAM AT KENO TONIGHT

The Busy B's Sewing club held a special meeting at Keno, February 22, to plan entertainment and program in honor of Miss Helen Cowgill, state club leader. President Jesse Puckett presided and the roll call disclosed a full attendance. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Secretary Miriam Grubb. The roll call topic was "Ornamental Stitches" and most effective uses for them were explained by various members.

The chief subject of new business was the Achievement day program on February 29, in honor of Miss Cowgill. In addition to whose talk to the girls and parents, a most entertaining program was planned. This embraces exhibit and judging of work done by club members who have in deference to the earliness of Miss Cowgill's visit this year, completed their sewing in their respective divisions, weeks in advance of the time allotted them; County Club Leader Sexton will show his comprehensive list of lantern slides during his talk on club work in Klamath county. # MACDONALD 50TH PRIME MINISTER

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Ramsay MacDonald is the 50th prime minister to take up his residence at 10 Downing street in the 189 years the building has been the official residence of the head of the government. The historic structure was the residence of Lord Litchfield until George I took possession of it. He presented it as the official residence in perpetuity of the first lord of the treasury.

Sir Robert Walpole was the first occupant, but several premiers did not live there, some preferring to live in their own private homes. However, all held their cabinet councils there and more history has been made in the council room at 10 Downing Street than in any other building in the country. Downing Street takes its name from Sir George Downing, a member of parliament in Cromwell's time.
