WORLD'S TRADE IN CAVIAR SUPPLIED FROM HAMBURG
HAMBURG, March 13.—What is said to be the world's largest store house of caviar is located in Hamburg and administered purely as a Soviet Russia government monopoly. It is from this warehouse that virtually all shipments of this favorite delicacy of kings and czars of olden times are sent to New York, Paris, London and other centers. The fish roe, pressed and salted, is shipped from Petrograd in barrels, packed away here in a central warehouse, and then sold according to the demands of the trade.
Caviar today is one of the most expensive luxuries of European tables, that is outside of Russia. In Berlin it retails at about $22 a pound. In Petrograd or Moscow it is one of the favorite dishes of the working man, who takes home a mess of it two or three times a week at a dollar or so for all that he and his family can consume at the evening meal. The roe is eaten with bread and washed down with wines aged in cellars of the wealthy long before the Soviets came into power.
