DIVIDE HONEY STOCK.

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Thirty tons of honey are listed as community property in a divorce suit on file in the superior court here in which Mrs. Cornelia L. Larinan, alleging her married life with George B. Larinan was for from sweet, asks her freedom and an equitable division of the products of their apiary.

PASADENA BRIDES TO BE GIVEN SCHOOLING.

PASADENA, Calif.—Married women under 18 years will be compelled to attend school if they live in Pasadena, according to a ruling made public by John Harbeson, director of child welfare. Special classes for such brides will be conducted beginning April 24, it was announced.

BEND POPULATION
ESTIMATED OVER 7,000.

BEND, Ore.—The count of Bend's population this afternoon stood at 7,532, with the possibility that 150 or 200 more names will be added before the official count is made. It now appears certain, according to those in charge of the census work, that the final count will not reach 8,000.

OFFICERS SEEK MISSING RED BLUFF BOY.

RED BLUFF, Calif.—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McDonald are deeply distressed over the disappearance from their ranch home in Red Bank section of their 16-year-old son, Harold McDonald, a sophomore in the Red Bluff high school, who left a note saying he was "going somewhere" to obtain work. The boy had less than a dollar in money when he departed and evidently started without a coat.

Young McDonald took with him an alreadale dog and a 12-gauge shotgun. He wore tan shoes, blue overalls, a checkered cap and blue or tan shirt. He has blue eyes and brown hair.

CONSERVATION OF GAME SOUGHT

MEDFORD, April 14.—Advocacy of fish and game protection with more water at Elk Creek hatchery and intelligent fish propagation with the united backing of sportsmen were the main features of the largely attended annual spring banquet of the Jackson County Game Protective association at the Hotel Medford Friday evening, which had among its honored guests Ben F. Dorris of Eugene, member of the state game commission; H. C. Mitchell of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries; A. E. Burghdoff, the state game warden; Otto Jones, educational director of the commission; Mat Ryckman, state superintendent of hatcheries; Lloyd Crocker of Roseburg, president of the Douglas County Rod and Gun club; and E. V. Carter, of Ashland, former chairman of the state game commission.

Ed Morris, also of Portland, was the witty toastmaster and the gathering, which began at 6:15 o'clock was over at 9 o'clock.

The new officers elected were Hugh B. Rankin of Medford, president; V. J. Emerick, of Medford, vice president; and Louis Dodge of Ashland, secretary and treasurer. District vice presidents were also elected for every section of the county.

MARRIED CASEYS DEFEAT UNMARRIED

Matrimonial ties are not so strong but what married men can still wield an effective bat, as was shown yesterday in the Knights of Columbus baseball game held yesterday afternoon at Modoc Park between married men and single men in which the former were the victors by a score of 11 to 5. The game was replete with thrills, although both teams showed need of practice, particularly in fielding.

The Eskimos use the inflated skins of the leopard seal as bumpers and fenders for their water craft to prevent the fragile craft from being injured by the sharp, jagged edges of ice floes.
