

In the Garden

MUCH-NEEDED BLUE FLOWERS

Blue annuals are none too plentiful and they are much needed in every garden as a foil to both reds and yellows. One of the handsomest of the blue annuals for cutting or for beds is an old-timer that has been allowed to lapse into obscurity, only to be rescued under the name of the Blue Lace Flower, Dideliscus Coeruleus. It is now a favorite with florists for growing for cut flowers. Its delicate lacey, flat-topped clusters being of a most delicate shade of pale blue.

For fall growing display, the annual larkspurs give the finest material ranging from pale to deep indigo. They are the easiest of annuals to grow and will flourish almost anywhere, but do not transplant as easily as many other annuals and are best sown where they are wanted. Drop two or three seeds in a hill from eight inches to a foot apart and pull all but one when the seed germinates and allow them to grow along and a feathery mass of foliage surmounted by big brilliant spikes of bloom will be the reward.

Among the dwarf bedding and edging plants there is the Little Blue Star Ageratum, the delicate Swan River daisies, and the annual lobellias in light and dark blue.

The browallias are beautiful blue bedding plants and easily grown. They need rich soil and good cultivation and may be lifted for blooming in the house in the winter. Another fine tall blue annual is the cornflower or centaurea. The double blue is a beautiful subject for cutting and will bloom all summer. If seed pods are not allowed to form. It is of the easiest culture and has no particular soil requirements to give a good crop bloom.

The old-fashioned Love in a Mist or Devil in the Bush, Nigella, particularly its modern form, Miss Jeckyll, is one of the daintiest and most attractive of the blue annuals with its feathery foliage surrounding the azure double flowers resembling the cornflower, somewhat in shape. It, too, is a very easy grower and readily raised from seed. The blue flowered stocks and verbenas also add valuable material for the blue annual garden.

YOUNG BROOK TROUT PLANTED LAST YEAR MEASURE 9 INCHES

In July, 1923, Game Warden Marion Barnes planted in the upper reaches of Yamsey river 12,500 eastern brook trout about two inches long. Yesterday, nine months later, Herbert Darry, clerk of the Hall hotel, returned from a fishing trip on the Yamsey with a basket full of these same trout all about nine inches long.

"All of which," Barnes explained, "indicates that the Yamsey river is eastern brook trout water. Such a growth is remarkable."

In reality the Yamsey river is the headwaters of the Williamson river. It empties into Big Marsh as the Yamsey and when it runs out changes its name to the Williamson.

Over 200,000 eastern brook trout fingerlings have recently hatched at the Crooked Creek hatchery and the greater part of these will be distributed in Klamath county streams. Planting of the fish will start about the first of June and will be carried on the entire summer.

CHARLEY F. MURPHY DIES

NEW YORK, April 25.—Charles F. Murphy, who succeeded the late Richard Croker as leader of Tammany Hall, died today. He was born in New York in 1858.

TWO PAY FINES

B. Moore and William Henry were each fined $20 in the police court this morning for being drunk on the city streets.

A hydroelectric project now under consideration contemplates the sending of power by wire from Isle on the Saguenay river in Canada, a distance of 550 miles, into New York City. It is believed that 2,000,000 horsepower will be developed here.

WEATHER AID TO HIGHWAYS

Continued fair weather and maintenance work have improved the condition of state highways throughout the county considerably during the past week, according to the weekly report of the local state highway office given out today.

The Green Springs Mountain highway to Ashland is in excellent condition. In fact the road will never be in better condition. It was announced, until the highway is completed. The portion of road from Spencer ranch to Hayden mountain which has been so rough during the winter is not impeding traffic in the least.

The Dalles-California highway north of Klamath Falls to six miles north of Sand Creek is macadamized. From that point to Crescent the road is of dirt and slightly rough. Automobiles are making the trip each day with ease.

South of Klamath Falls to the state line, the highway is in excellent shape.

While still rough in sections of the road from Bonanza to Drews valley in Lake county, the Klamath Falls-Lakeview highway also shows improvement. Autos are making the trip daily in good running time.

Rock creek road which follows up the western side of Klamath lake and terminates at Fort Klamath is passable but very rough and muddy in spots. Autos are forced to ford Rock creek.

Top surfacing of the Green Springs highway from Hayden mountain is progressing. According to Harness and Colby, contractors who are handling the job, the work will be completed before July 1.

COOLIDGE TO HAVE WEAK OPPOSITION IN MASSACHUSETTS

BOSTON, April 25.—The only straight contest between President Coolidge and Senator Johnson in the presidential primaries in Massachusetts on April 29 will be in the first congressional district. Dwight B. MacCormack of Westfield, pledged to Johnson, is a candidate for district delegate in opposition to John H. Waterhouse and William F. Whiting, pledged to Coolidge.

MacCormack is a second year student at the Harvard Law School and was graduated in 1923 from Amherst College, President Coolidge's alma mater. The first district is in the western part of the state and includes a part of Hampshire county, the President's home county, although Northampton, his home city and Amherst are in the second district. In the first district are the cities of Holyoke, North Adams, Pittsfield and Westfield.

There will be no contest for the seven delegates at large to the Republican national convention. All will go pledged to Coolidge, the list including Senator Henry, Charles Lodge, Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, Governor Channing H. Cox, and William M. Butler, national committee men and manager of the Coolidge campaign. There will be Republican contests in seven districts, where individual candidates with preferences unexpressed are seeking the nomination over the Coolidge candidate. The state will send 27 district delegates to the convention.

Nine candidates have filed for the eight places as delegate at large to the Democratic national convention, each with half a vote. The organization date is headed by Senator David I. Walsh and is unopposed.

The only opposition candidate is Brigadier General Charles H. Cole, who filed papers as a protest against the omission of the name of a veteran from the slate. General Cole has announced that if elected he will support Governor Smith of New York for the presidential nomination. Joseph C. Dillier, former district attorney of Suffolk county and removed from that position by the supreme court, filed as a candidate, but died March 25.

For the 64 places as Democratic district delegate, each with half a vote, there are 133 candidates, with contests in all but three of the sixteen districts. Their presidential preferences are unannounced except in two instances, George F. Monahan of the fourth district being pledged to Governor Smith of New York and Edward J. Bennett in the eighth district expressing a preference for William A. Gaston, pro-Democrat, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator against Senator Lodge in 1922.
