The funeral of Alec Lafrance who died at a Klamath Falls hospital Sunday was held at the community hall at Malin Tuesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Hulet officiating. Interment was in the Malin cemetery. This was a doubly sad occasion as the young man expected to return in a few weeks to his native home, Switzerland, where his mother lives of whom he often spoke in most endearing terms. He had made numerous friends during the short time he had spent here and the many beautiful flowers and attendance at the funeral showed to some extent the esteem in which he was held. Rev. Hulet in his remarks brought out the fact so plainly that our words and attitude always has an effect on every one with whom we come in contact and how careful we should be to make this for good as this is the least we can do for those we meet or associate with and strangers coming among us should have the best we can give as well as our neighbors and friends, as we little know how far we are responsible for their future life, here or hereafter.

Germanis Again Blame America BERLIN, April 25.—American prohibition is responsible for the high price of coffee in Germany, in the opinion of many contributors to newspapers. Since the Americans cannot have alcoholic drinks they use more coffee, it is argued; hence the high price of coffee in Germany.

Germany now uses only about 25 per cent of the amount of coffee she used to drink. Coffee which cost 1.50 marks before the war now costs 3.20 marks.
