CITIZENS MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

THE Ninth Corps area United States Army includes Oregon, California, Idaho, Utah, Montana, Washington, Nevada, and Wyoming.

Thirty-day Training Camps will be held in June and July at Camp Lewis, Washington; Del Monte, California and Fort Douglas, Utah.

Residents of Oregon and Washington should address Chief of Staff, Room 323, New P. O. Building, Portland; California same address, same official, Presidio, San Francisco; other states same official, 104th division, Dooley block, Salt Lake.

These training camps afford a delightful month's outing and opportunity for physical training, and the drill in physical culture that is only afforded by army life.

Young and middle aged men, and especially professional men, who desire 100-per cent physical fitness in a strenuous age, when the efficient individual is at a premium as never before, should get informed.

STATE INSURANCE MONOPOLY

THE agitation started in Oregon to create an absolute monopoly of workmen's compensation insurance raises many issues which go to the foundation of a democratic form of government.

Compensation for an injured workman should be made swift, sure and regular by stringent regulation, if self insurance is allowed, by insurance companies regulated by the state insurance department, or by state fund administered by separate commission.

There is, however, no more of an economic necessity of public welfare advantage in monopolistic state industrial insurance than there is in monopolistic state fire insurance, life insurance, transportation, agriculture or manufacture.

To deny an employer the right to seek as good insurance as the state provides, and which equally protects a workman in accordance with state laws, but at a lower cost, is to deny him the right of contract, the liberty of action, which the constitution guarantees, and to deny insurance companies the right to carry on a legal business in compliance with state laws and regulations.

If both employe and employer are protected in accordance with the principles of compensation laws why should a state monopoly of this line of business be demanded?

The Senate, it will be remembered, was highly indignant when the President took it to task for its performances, but it may be noticed that considerable work has been accomplished by that august body since it was called down.

HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON D. C., May 15.—Rockribbed New England, stronghold of Republican regularity for two generations, is giving Coolidge campaign leaders sleepless nights and days of worry.

For despite the fact that Cautious Cal is an embodiment of those staid virtues that should win the backing and the ballot of every loyal New Englander, Republican headquarters privately concede an element of uncertainty in the result in three of the six New England states.

This is due to conditions in industrial New England—Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut—where the native New Englander has become submerged under the tide of immigration.

In these states the foreign-born and the children of the foreign-born hold enough ballots to blast rockribbed Republicanism to smithereens, if they make up their minds to do it. And reports from Republican scum in the industrial centers of these states indicate that they may choose this year to touch off the dynamite.

Hence the apprehension. "Heretofore," explains a Republican national committeeman discussing the chance that Coolidge and the Republican ticket may be knifed in the very section where it is generally thought their hold would be most secure, "we have managed to hold the bulk of this foreign vote on our side. But there is no question today but that it is slipping."

"This defection is due to two direct causes. Prohibition and restricted immigration."

"That an unassimilated foreign population can thus overrule and endanger the voice and the ideals of native America is, of course, the best proof that immigration should be restricted."

"If these three New England states should swing Democratic this fall, it will be nothing for Democrats to boast about. It will simply be the result of the un-American votes of an un-Americanized electorate. They will not vote Democratic because they believe in Democracy. They will simply vote against the Republicans as the party enforcing prohibition and immigration."

This spokesman declares that the hope of America and—for the purposes of this campaign—the Republican party, is the middle west. There, alone, he maintains, is to be found the pure American stock maintaining fundamental American ideals.

With Indiana, however, probably passed over to the Democrats as the result of the conviction of Governor McCray, a Republican; with Wisconsin, under La Follette, ready to go whosoever he leadeth (which will not be into the Coolidge camp), and with Illinois in the throes of an intrastate Republican battle that puts that state definitely in the doubtful class, little consolation is found even in the middle west.

In fact, the Cleveland convention promises to be the most peaceful part of the program ahead of the G. O. P.

The second cabinet romance of the administration culminates with the engagement of Miss Mary Wallace, daughter of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, to Dr. Charles Bruggmann of the Swiss diplomatic corps.

A Boston man has offered $50 for a nice name than "old maid" to designate a spinster. How about bacchante or seoffman?

STATE OF OREGON

Department of Law Enforcement 1014 Northwestern Bank Building Telephone Main 2869

Portland, Oregon, May 6, 1924.

Mr. J. F. Morley, Klamath Falls, Ore.

Dear Sir—Some months ago I promised to try to get a special investigator down to your city for work which I know needed to be done, but it has been impossible to meet the obligation to this date.

We had a special man for such work hired by this department, but we had to let him go on account of the heavy expense it involved.

Mr. Herwig is billed for Klamath next Sunday, I think it is, and I wish that you would see him at that time and explain the situation more fully. I am handicapped by the lack of funds to properly carry on this work covering the whole state.

I have kept your letter of Dec. 14th in my anxious file all this time hoping that I could meet the complaint; but I am sorry to say that I am unable to do it.

(Signed) Very Truly Yours,

G. L. CLEAVER, Prohibition Commissioner.

To the Voters who do not know my attitude on Law Enforcement, see the above letter in answer to one written by me before I became a candidate for Sheriff.

AN OPEN LETTER TO VOTERS by JOHN J. SHAUGHNESSY

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF, DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Perhaps my ideas are a little old fashioned about the office of Sheriff of Klamath County, but I know that law abiding citizens will agree with me that the county needs cleaning up. That is what I would like to do should the coming election go in my favor. Not only should the sheriff's office function in the daytime but there should be a deputy on duty subject to night duty. The majority of crimes are committed after dark, especially those of violence and to my mind, it is only a very important function of the sheriff that calls from outlying sections should meet with immediate response. The farmers of this county need protection and the calls from the rural districts embrace a great range of needs and diversity. The tax payers of Klamath County should have the most ready response from the office of the Sheriff to their calls for protection and aid.

CRIME PERCENTAGE WILL GROW I believe that every incorporated town should have a deputy paid half by the town and half by the County, who would be on call day and night in his territory. With the building and completion of the railroads that are now under way through Klamath County, the percentage of crime will increase in proportion to the ease with which criminals and questionable characters can make their escape. The big lumber camps and mills with their 4-way exit for the criminals through Eastern Oregon, via Bend and The Dalles, toward the Pacific Highway and south through the lava beds of Modoc and Siskiyou Counties, present a problem and a certain amount of safety for the escaping man if our county is not reliably and thoroughly policed? I would not hesitate to predict that within the next two years the crime wave will exceed that of the last combined ten in this county. There are over four thousand seasonal laborers or men who represent themselves as such, come into this territory every year.

NEW JAIL NEEDED While we have no proper jail, no criminal is going to be very much alarmed at arrest or jail sentences. At the present time they regard it as a joke—and rightly. I should like to lend my best efforts to further the building of a jail which would have at least 20 cells in the men's department and six for women with large exercise corridor, which in emergency could be used for drunks and petty offenders. A garage and storehouse for exhibits and evidence might well occupy the ground floor. Another thing that I believe would tend to make efficient the office of Sheriff, would be the appointment of a lady matron, whose duties might embrace the supervision of some of the dances throughout the County. The majority of people don't want to do wrong. They simply don't stop to think. Do you believe the young man who has a good home and mother, perhaps sisters, would ask the young woman of his own age out to the car to have a drink between dances at some of the countryside gatherings, if he stopped to think? Would the parents of such a couple approve the part their child—for many of them are nothing but children yet—plays in the giving or taking of illicit liquor? Most of them would hotly resent the inference that their boy or girl would do such a thing. That is only natural; they wouldn't be normal parents if they didn't. But just the same that thing goes on and we all know it. The presence of a woman old enough to have comprehension of human nature and dignity, I believe would in many cases have a most telling effect for clean fun and decency, dancing and good times to which every young person is entitled.

COUNTRY NEEDS PROTECTION Times have changed since twenty years ago when Linkville was a village with its "bad man" and gun play. Why blind yourself to the fact that it can't be run along the same lines? As any country becomes settled and cities build therein, the criminal especially the petty criminal, increases. This is not confined to the cities and towns, it extends throughout the countryside. Klamath Falls has a police force and so have some of the other towns in the county. To my mind the sheriff of this county should make his endeavors and protection most especially telling in the country districts and those where the municipal police have no jurisdiction.

The office of Sheriff in this County pays a salary adequate for the support of any man and there is no reason that any sheriff, that the people of this county may see fit to elect should have to divide one moment of his time with other business that would mar the efficiency of his office and the results that he must attain, or that he should accept blood money or other bribes.

CO-OPERATION ESSENTIAL It is only through the cooperation of the complete political machine that efficiency will reach its highest point. I want to see office holders in this county forget they are a personality, forego the limelight and devote their energies entirely to making their offices function as they should, without the petty and personal motives which so often mark the trail of the political officeholder.

I have been a rancher in this county and I know from personal experience that there are many emergencies in which the stockman and farmer in Klamath County would call on a Sheriff in whom he had confidence and from whom he would get a ready response in his need.

I am perfectly frank in saying that I hope to be elected. I want to be Sheriff of this county, I like the county and I can promise that should the people elect me, I will carry out to the letter the oath of office, for the protection of residents in the county and in its administration fearlessly. Those of you who know me I believe cannot doubt this. The law shall be upheld.
