

OIL COMBINE IS CHARGE BY U. S.

50 Companies Attacked on Anti-Trust Moves of Government

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Fifty or more principal oil companies in the United States are attacked in anti-trust proceedings by the government today in the federal court at Chicago. Attorney General Stone asked an injunction to restrain the companies from future violations of the Sherman act which he charged against them. The complaint charged combination and conspiracy in restraint of trade among the several states and with foreign nations in gasoline, kerosene and other petroleum products.

The oil suit constitutes one of the most sweeping anti-trust moves by the government in many years. Besides the principals the attorney general named as parties a number of "secondary defendants" whom he charged were in combination as a result of accepting licenses from one or more of the primary defendants. Nearly all important companies, including all of Standard Oil companies, were cited. The attorney general charged them with having combined to control production of gasoline by the pooling of asserted patent rights in violation of the anti-trust act.

DALY TRUSTEES TO MEET AT LAKEVIEW

On his way to Lakeview to attend the annual meeting of the trustees of the Marcus Daly estate, Carl Onthank, secretary to President P. L. Campbell of the University of Oregon, was in Klamath Falls today. The trustees of the estate will meet tomorrow. The estate provides funds for boys and girls of Lake county to attend the institutions of higher learning of the state. About 29 students are now benefitting from the provisions of the will of Mr. Daly. The educational fund amounts to about $1,000,000. Mr. Onthank states:

There are about 10,000 known varieties of fish and often a man at a small summer resort thinks he is all of them.

CATTLE BUYER HAS COMPLIMENTS FOR HERD OF KLAMATH

A tribute was paid to the Klamath cattle industry yesterday by Butch Smith, manager of the Chewaucan cattle company of Paisley, Oregon, said to be the largest cattle company in Oregon, when purchasing a number of thorough bred short-horn bulls of Durham stock from Tom Watters and L. A. West who operate the Ankeny ranch. Mr. Smith stated that the short-horn bulls were the finest he had bought for some time and that if 65 head were available, he would have purchased them without a question.

This, cattlemen say, from a man who is managing the biggest cattle concern in Oregon and one of the largest on the Pacific coast, is a tribute by an expert to the cattle raised in Klamath county.

Mr. Smith purchased all the short-horn bulls available on the Ankeny ranch.

You can't be too careful about ordering goods correctly, says our office boy. Look at those oil men down in Washington. They didn't really want Tea Pot Domes—they wanted Domes of Silence.

Even if she does rouge nicely, find out if she can cook. Two can't live on rouge alone.

ALTAMONT PARK MUCH IMPROVED

Grounds Remodeled and New Buildings Are Being Erected

In ten days the old Altamont city auto park, across from the county fair grounds, has undergone a transformation that astonishes the oldest residents. Under the supervision of Fred Garich, who purchased the property to build a modern auto park, the grounds are being remodeled, buildings are in process of construction and the old Altamont race house is being torn down.

Sixteen tent houses have been constructed on the east half of the property. A building is near completion which will be used as a grocery store, an office and a four-room apartment which will be occupied by Mr. Garich and his family.

By Rodeo time, Mr. Garich hopes to have a dance pavilion completed. A crew of workmen started yesterday to tear down the old race house. This job will be completed this week.

The property includes eight acres with a frontage of 350 feet and a depth of 700 feet. The entrance was in the center of the front boundary facing on the highway, and a road will be built extending from the frontage to the rear line of the property. Branching from the main entrance road Garich plans on building a road extending south to the eastern boundary of the property, from that point west to the southwestern corner and north to join the terminus of the main road.

In like manner a road will be constructed branching north to the northern boundary and from there following around the boundary of the property to join up with the terminus of the main road in the center of western boundary line.

Before fall, Mr. Garich plans on constructing 20 bungalows on the southern half of the property. This can be done he says by cutting only one tree from the grove of poplars.

Already tourists are patronizing the park. Between 30 and 50 cars arrive every day.

CHERRY CROP GOOD IN WEST DISTRICTS

EUGENE, June 25.—Notwithstanding dry weather in western Oregon

this spring and summer the commercial cherry crop in this section is the largest for a number of years past, according to the manager of the local farmers' co-operative association which operates a large fruit and vegetable cannery in Eugene. The crop of Royal Anne, Blings and Lamberts is estimated to be of such proportion that the association has announced it will not handle the earlier and smaller varieties in any quantities as the capacity of the plant will be taken up with the three varieties named.

An Announcement by

THE CALIFORNIA OREGON POWER COMPANY

The California Oregon Power Company announces the completion of arrangements for the immediate investment of several million dollars in Southern Oregon and Northern California.

This new investment will become a permanent asset of the entire territory served by the company, as it will be converted into new power plants, dams, transmission lines, equipment and other productive additions to its properties.

This announcement is made to our customers in appreciation of the wide public interest in constructive developments of such magnitude.

Its Real Significance

The California Oregon Power Company points out, however, that the importance of this construction program to the communities with which it is a "Partner in Progress" does not lie in the mere investment of millions of new capital in the territory which it is privileged to serve.

The chief significance is found in the cold facts that justify the investment; in the continuously increasing use of electric power and light; in assurances and contracts already in the possession of the company which guarantee the profitable absorption of this increased production of electricity.

The Company is also pleased to be able to inform its Preferred Stock holders that as soon as the new construction is placed in service the financial strength and net earnings of the company will be even more satisfactory than at present.
