The DeLaval milks as cows should be milked

Look at the above illustrations showing how the De Laval Milker is made to suit the temperament of the cow. Everything is just right for the greatest production of milk in the shortest time. The master pulsator on the Pulsator Pump assures an absolutely uniform pulsation speed year in and year out; self-adjusting teat-cups fit comfortably over any size of teat; pulsator is close to the udder to assure vigorous milking, and the alternating action is such as the cows have become accustomed to during hand milking. We will gladly tell you more about "The Better Way of Milking."
