EUGENE PLANS FOR CIVIC AUDITORIUM WITH BOND ISSUES

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, July 10.—Eugene citizens have voted $500,000 in bonds to provide an auditorium on the University of Oregon campus.

There is now no campus where all the University students and faculty can be gathered together at one time. The present auditorium is a room in Villard hall seating only a thousand persons, in which less than half the students can meet together.

The new auditorium, provided by the city, will have a seating capacity of 5,000 at its largest, and will be so arranged that the seating capacity can be reduced for smaller meetings.

The five year building program includes buildings for which funds must be provided within the next five years to meet the needs of the library, science building, and various other class room buildings.

"Broken Hearts of Broadway" Picture With Moral

Siren voices in all their magic lure can almost be heard singing through the glamorous scenes of "Broken Hearts of Broadway," the Irving Cummings photodrama which shows tonight at the Liberty theater.

"Broken Hearts of Broadway," is a picture with a true moral. It teaches that no human power can overcome that clean, ambition strain of Americanism which battles so gloriously for the victory of right over all its foes.

LOOKS GOOD TO HIM

E. C. Pentland, of Portland, arrived here today, by auto. In speaking of our city he said: "I cannot do better than quote the late Theodore Roosevelt, who in answering a similar question said: 'I had heard a great deal about your prosperous city, but the realization far exceeds my expectations'."

Men are known by the company they keep; women by the clothes they keep on wearing.

BLAZE MENACES KENO IS REPORT

Forest Fire Approaches West of Town This Afternoon

A fire on the outskirts of Keno is menacing the town according to long distance reports received here at 2 p. m. today.

The blaze, fanned by a light west wind, is on the west and south side of the settlement.

Originating from a back fire yesterday, the blaze became serious this noon.

The main forest fire south of Keno is completely under control according to word given out by the Klamath Forest Protective association.

A small spot fire started by lightning during the thunder shower yesterday afternoon, was located northwest of Oatman lake this morning. Several forest fighters were sent to the scene.
