An Explanatory Statement

Messrs. Greenberg and Abrams, proprietors of the Dorris Mercantile Co., having decided to quit the retail merchandising business have called to their assistance F. N. Almstead & Co., adjustors of Los Angeles and have placed their entire business above described in their hands for quick disposal. In view of the fact that the Dorris Mercantile Co., has been in business for better than a quarter of a century this sale will be a major event in the annals of merchandising history in Siskiyou Co.

After carefully considering the losses to be incurred in taking this step, Messrs. Greenberg and Abrams have decided to close out their store to the people, giving the citizens of this community the advantage of the low prices—Let the merchandise bring what it will. Those are their orders—costs and profit must be lost sight of—for it is a case of must sell and everything must be turned into cash in the shortest possible time. Every shelf and every counter must be swept clean of every last dollar's worth of stock. The store will be closed on Thursday and Friday of this week at which time the stock will be invoiced and appraised an every article marked in plain figures with the sale price, so that one may wait upon one's self if they so desire. Every article is marked not according to what it cost but for what it will sell for on sight. Cost means nothing to the undersigned. Our orders are to sell and we will stop at nothing to dispose of this stock. It will be the most drastic, ruthless sacrifice ever seen in the northern part of this great state.
