The Weather—

The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy shows quite an improvement in barometric conditions although a slight fall commenced about noon today.

Forecast for next 24 hours: Generally fair, with moderate temperatures.

The Tycos recording thermometer registered maximum and minimum temperatures today as follows:

High 47 Low 31
Father Ricard predicts the heaviest storm of the month beginning tonight.

U. S. Weather Report—

Oregon: Fair and colder tonight. Wednesday generally fair. Light westerly winds.

Down From Rock Creek Ranch—

Despite poor roads, D. E. Alexander, owner of the Rock Creek ranch, formerly the Book ranch, came to town yesterday with A. G. Bockover and Billy Reynolds, to attend to business matters. The party from Rock Creek registered at the Hall hotel last night and were in the city today.

Livestockman Visits—

George M. Kelley, prominent livestockman of Alturas, California, is in town for several days to look over the Klamath livestock market. He is stopping at the Hall hotel while here.

Word Of Death Received—

Word of the death of Mrs. J. E. Swansen's mother was received here yesterday in a wire from Mr. Swansen who is now in Pasadena, California. Mr. and Mrs. Swansen and children will attend the funeral and plan to return to Klamath Falls by next Sunday. They were called to Pasadena by the sudden illness of Mrs. Swansen's mother.

I. O. O. F. to Meet—

Members of Eudora encampment of the I. O. O. F. lodge will meet at the hall this evening to put on the royal purple degree for members of the order.

Has New Offices—

Dr. E. D. Lamb has changed his offices in the Slough building from suite C to suite B. The new suite of offices has been greatly improved.

Rotarians to Banquet—

Members of the Klamath Rotary club will hold their annual banquet this evening at the White Pelican hotel with wives of the members as guests. Solos will be given by Mrs. Francis R. Olds and Mrs. Fred Cofer. The principal talk of the evening will be given by Gordon Hart, president of the Grants Pass Rotary club.

Start Football Practice—

The football squad of the Klamath high school engaged in light spring practice yesterday and will continue it for several weeks. Nothing but the lighter work will be done, according to the coach.

Predicts Good Year—

This will be one of the best years the lumber industry has enjoyed for several years, in the belief of F. C. Dalley, Pittsburgh lumberman, who is a visitor in Klamath Falls. He expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the outlook in this section.

U. S. Marshal Here—

C. C. Wells, deputy United States marshal working out of the department of justice, arrived in Klamath Falls last night to spend several days here attending to government business matters.

Drive To Yreka—

Starting out on Sunday morning, the M. L. Johnson family decided they would drive till nightfall, working on the theory that if they drove as far away from Klamath Falls as possible in one day that it would only take them one day to return. The Ford sedan carried them to Yreka where they spent the night. They returned to Klamath Falls last night and reported the roads between Klamath Falls and Ashland rough in several spots where base failures had occurred, but easily passable.

Back From California—

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Evans, returned last night after spending several weeks in California on a vacation.

Inspects Shasta View—

Fred Peterson, county school superintendent, left this morning for Shasta View school on one of his regular inspection trips.

177 Head Lost—

J. P. McAuliffe, well known cattle operator, returned last night from Red Bluff, poorer by 177 head of cattle than when he left Klamath Falls some weeks ago. Mr. McAuliffe with approximately 300 head of cattle was driving them south. His entire herd was on an island of the Sacramento river when the river swelled to a raging torrent. For six days and six nights, McAuliffe managed to keep his herd together, clustering the herd around several knolls where the island was not inundated. The peak of the flood had been reached and the waters were just beginning to recede when the nervous strain on the steers proved too much and they broke loose into the swirling waters of the flood and struck out for shore. Even so, the cattle could have made the grade, McAuliffe said, if it had not been for fences, wires, railings, and the like which were in the river. The poor beasts became entangled and drowned in the flood waters by the score. McAuliffe saved a little under half of his herd. Cattle owned by Luke E. Walker were surrounded by the flood waters down the river a short ways from McAuliffe's unfortunate herd.

Back From U. of O.—

After a visit of three days on the University of Oregon campus County Treasurer Vera Houston, Miss Eloise McPherson, head of the music department at the Klamath County high school and George McIntyre, connected with the First National bank, returned from Eugene last night. All three of the local residents formerly attended the University of Oregon. They have been away since Friday night.

Visiting Parents—

Horace G. Shidler Jr., is in the city from his home in Hollywood. He is here for a brief visit with his parents. Since leaving Klamath Falls in 1920, Mr. Shidler has been in the real estate business in and around Los Angeles and his undertakings have proven very successful. His home in Hollywood is classed among the show places of the city. While living here, he was engaged in the electrical business. Mr. Shidler was in the air service during the war and was in one of the machines brought down by the enemy. He landed within the lines and was in a German hospital for months. He was held as a prisoner until the signing of the Armistice.

Correction—

In yesterday's "Main Street" wherein was given the opinion of Klamath Falls merchants, F. M. Lucas of Lucas Furnishings was misunderstood in his declaration. "I am in favor of law enforcement and a clean town," said Lucas today.

At The Arcade—

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ohles of Chiloquin are among the out of town visitors in the city today.

Eatability

If you bought bread for 5c a loaf it would be sure to be worth a nickel.

That is the reason that our bread sells for 15c because there is 15c worth of good bread to each loaf.

Are you enjoying this addition to your meals?

If not demand it from any first class grocer and you'll see what you have been missing.
