

FONTANA'S MACARONI

When you try Fontana's—FIRST, notice how well the macaroni elbows, noodles, or whatever the product may be, is packed. SECOND, observe the uniform high quality. No "split" or "fractured" lengths, tubes or elbows, in a Fontana package. THIRD, see how quickly Fontana's responds to cooking. Not a bit of starchiness. The exclusive Fontana way of making, converts the starch into a wholesome element. FOURTH, taste the richer flavor. It's always present, even when you "warm-up" left-overs.

POULTRY EXPERT EXPECTED SOON

H. E. Cosby Will Confer With Klamath Egg Producers on Problems

Arrangements have been made for H. E. Cosby, poultry specialist of the Oregon Agricultural college, to spend two days with poultrymen of Klamath county. C. A. Henderson, county agent, announced today. Mr. Cosby is widely known by poultrymen throughout the state and efforts have been made for the past year to secure his services here. Mr. Cosby's schedule while in Klamath county will be as follows: Open meeting for all poultrymen and others interested, will be held at the Mt. Laki church at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 5th; Friday morning at 9:30 a. m., March 6, a group of poultrymen from the southern end of the county will meet with Mr. Cosby at Dr. F. M. Trout's, Malin, and at noon of the same day a meeting will be held at the Case poultry farm near Klamath Falls, where a cafeteria lunch will be served by Mr. and Mrs. Case. This schedule will give every poultryman an opportunity to attend at least one of the three meetings and it is hoped that no one will overlook the chance to meet Mr. Cosby, in order to give him a full understanding of our conditions here which are somewhat different from the problems facing the poultrymen of the Willamette valley. Owing to the rapid increase of poultry raising in Klamath county, it is desirable that this territory be placed on Mr. Cosby's regular schedule for further work in every phase of the poultry industry, such as feeding, breeding, culling, etc., which are taken up throughout the year by the Agricultural College. Any poultryman who contemplates continuing in the poultry business should aim to be present for at least one of the meetings.

At the Mt. Laki meeting on March 5th the matter of signing up sugar beet acreage will be taken up by Robert Odemeyer, local representative of the Sacramento Valley Sugar company, who has recently arrived here from the company's headquarters at Hamilton City. Mr. Odemeyer will be located here during the planting, growing and harvesting season of beets and it is advisable that all people contemplating growing beets this year be present at the Mt. Laki meeting if possible.
