

MANY MEASURES PASS AT SALEM

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Ore., Feb. 25.—During a lull in the storm house yesterday afternoon, house bill 422, defeated last Saturday, was reconsidered and passed.

The measure, introduced by the Jackson county delegation, provides for the election of two precinct committees instead of one in precincts of counties other than Multnomah.

It is virtually a pre-primary county convention scheme, providing for the drawing up and laying down of party platforms and the selection of candidates.

Representative Cowgill explained that the bill did not interfere with the present primary law and that the people of his county were as one in desiring its passage.

In a lengthy list of house bills passed by the senate were all the principal appropriation bills of the session, aggregating $6,523,306.50.

The largest appropriation item was that of $3,072,717 for the regular state institutions located at Salem, Pendleton, Roseburg and the blind school in Portland, which were embodied in one bill and totaled $3,072,717.

The quarter mill road tax was repealed.

The bills for repealing the half millage tax under the bonus and loan act, amounting to half a mill or about $500,000 and the bill for suspending state aid to the accident commission amounting to about $175,000 for the biennium passed. The senate killed bills to increase the salary of the state superintendent of schools and the state dairy and food commissioner.

Among bills passed by the senate was:

House bill 325, game code amendment, making open season of birds and deer uniform throughout the state. Changing opening of deer season from August 20 to September 10, etc., reducing bag limit on birds.

There will be no legislation at this session to strengthen the blue sky law. The senate yesterday killed by indefinite postponement the Bailey house bill, which was prepared by Oswald West, and several days ago the Joseph bill was killed. The Joseph bill had the support of W. E. Crews, state corporation commissioner.

Senator Beale's bill which proposed an appropriation of $125,000 for the establishment of 20 branch normal schools in the state was defeated in the senate. Senate bill 48, providing for the appointment of two public school inspectors and senate bill 196 providing for teacher training centers in 10 Oregon high schools also were killed.

FIGHT SPIRIT PREDOMINATES

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Discouragement of what was termed the gladiatorial spirit, which has been reported creeping into the British schools, was urged recently by Dr. H. Crichton Miller in an address to members of the British Association of Physical Training on the subject of "Hygiene for Adolescents." Educationalists, he said, sought simplification of life in generalizations, and the physical training expert was liable to believe that every body needed physical training. Dr. Miller however, did not believe this to be universally true, and there were certain youths for whom physical training was bad.

Referring to Greek mythology, Dr. Miller spoke of Narcissus who fell in love with his own reflection in the waters of a spring. There were Narcissians today who made themselves the object of their own love and who cultivated their own bodies to an extent which was actually dangerous. He challenged the generalizations on which he said many physical culturists based their enthusiasm. Dr. Miller contended that generations hence self confidence among school boys would be based entirely upon the values of intellect and character.

Today the physical animal fac-

Second Tilden, Say Experts

A second Bill Tilden is what the experts say about Horace Orser, recently crowned junior indoor tennis champion. Orser started playing at 7, under the direction of his father. In action, he reminds one of Tilden, lacking, of course, the finesse of the champion.

tor predominated, and consequently a great many adolescent boys were going wrong in their character development owing to their physical make up.

Dr. Miller advised the association members not to think merely in terms of chest expansion when dealing with individual requirements of their pupils, but rather of character.

"We have here in London a stadium accommodating 120,000 persons which has been used for a boxing match that was all over in 60 seconds," asserted the speaker. "This should furnish us something to think about. Even in schools, the way in which watching a game of football is considered as part of school loyalty far greater than playing the game, is a serious tendency"

Forman III—Isadore Forman of Portland who is a house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. Sugarman, visiting his fiancée, Miss Harriett Sugarman, was taken to the Klamath General hospital last night, suffering from a severe attack of influenza. His condition was somewhat bettered today, and it is thought that the case will not prove serious.

U. S. PLEASES FRENCH ACTOR

PARIS, Feb. 25.—Americans are all heart. Firmin Gémier, great French actor, director of the Odéon theatre told the American Club of Paris in relating his impressions upon his return from the United States. He went over upon the invitation of the state department as a return for the French government's courtesy in asking James K. Hatcher to play in Paris two years ago. "I want to go back and I will," said M. Gémier. The American theatres are well equipped and I can do there the things I dream of."

The American audience, the speaker said, is keenly responsive. "Your countrymen are sensible, extraordinarily so, almost as much so as the French, and their emotion is deeper." To illustrate this he told of watching a Molnar play in New York, in which occurs a highly emotional scene. The audience, after three minutes of tension, just at the curtain was falling, began to laugh. M. Gémier, puzzled, inquired of theatrical men about this and was told it was because the American playgoer's sensitiveness to emotional appeals was so thorough that he could not long sustain it, and laughed as a natural reaction. "That is why," he explained, "your speakers, discussing the most serious subject, throw in two or three jokes."

M. Gémier praised American theatres, American simplicity and honesty of expression, and above all the freedom from government control of art.
