AT THE LIBERTY

As the American bombardment of Yorktown grew more and more deadly, Lord Clowes saw that surrender was inevitable, and that meant he would lose the girl for whose love he was ready to sacrifice everything, even his own honor. Desperate, he bound and gagged her, and drove off with his victim in a coach under the artillery fire of the two armies. There, between the lines, with bombs bursting on every side—See Marion Davies in "Janice Meredith." Final showing tonight at 8 o'clock at the Liberty Theatre.

The feature picture coming to the Liberty Theatre Friday is the type of a western picture which everyone enjoys seeing. It stars Jack Hoxie who has already become a great favorite with photoplay fans because of his genuine acting in his three features preceding this latest picture which is entitled "The Sheriff of Hope Eternal."

Not only is this a strong clean western picture, but there is an element of comedy in it capably handled by William Dyer who impersonates the part of Judge Clayton in the small community of Hope Eternal.

AT THE PINE TREE

"COMING THROUGH" ANOTHER "HE-MAN" ROLE FOR MEIGHAN

They said he eloped with her for her money. The girl's father even hired thugs to "get" him. Tom didn't blame him, but he "came through" in spite of them all.

Never before has Meighan had such a role as that of Tom Blackford in the Paramount picture, "Coming Through," a screen version of Jack Bethea's mining novel, "Bed Rock," now playing at the Pine Tree Theatre.

This picture has another big "he-man" role for "Good Luck" Tom—his best to date. Tom's a chief clerk in the offices of a big steel corporation. His father-in-law, the president of the concern, sends him down to Colton, the toughest of mining camps, hoping that he may get rid of him through some "accident". But Tom makes good and wins the love of his bride.

Lila Lee is leading woman in "Coming Through," which was directed by Edward Sutherland, until recently Charlie Chaplin's assistant. Wallace Beery, Laurance Wheat, John Milern, Frank Campeau and others play in support.

DWELLERS OF HILLS TELL ABOUT COUGARS

SEATTLE, Feb. 26.—Cougars of the mountains of western America, like tigers of the jungles of India, don't kill human beings until too old to obtain food otherwise, according to pioneers in the Cascade and Olympic mountains. The views of these old timers were given in a symposium gather by a Seattle news paper after a cougar killed a boy near Wenatchee, on the eastern side of the Cascade Mountains in Washington.

James Oberg related that 35 years ago a cougar followed him to his father's door. The elder Oberg killed the animal, which proved to be gentle.

Another cougar that 32 years ago fell upon a child lagging behind his parents on a trail had dull teeth and claws worn to the fur. A post mortem showed nothing in the stomach but part of a leather halter.
