"If it's put on with a brush—we have it"

WITH greater activity in prospect in Klamath Falls than ever before, everyone is interested in building, either for a home or for an investment.

To aid those who are interested, The Evening Herald will publish each week a picture of a different house, together with a description and floor plan.

Watch the paper each Saturday. You are sure to find the house you have in mind. Save each of these pages. When you find the house you want, one that suits your fancy and pocketbook, we will supply you with the complete plans, details, specifications and material lists.

THE ADVERTISERS ON THIS PAGE HAVE SIGNIFIED THEIR WILLINGNESS TO COOPERATE IN THIS MOVE. THEY ARE REPUTABLE FIRMS, WORTHY OF YOUR PATRONAGE WHEN YOU BUILD, AND EACH IS A SPECIALIST IN THEIR LINE. YOU WILL DO WELL TO CONSULT THEM WITH YOUR BUILDING PROBLEMS.

One of the principles of design to be observed in small-house work is that the design should be simple. This means plain, pleasing lines; well studied proportions; symmetry; and repose. Incorporate these principles, and the results are pretty sure to be pleasing. In Reading these principles have been observed. The plain roof, the narrow-gable cornice; the triple sash at either side of the entrance; and the porch-roof with curved ceiling, all typical of the colonial, are the features that give this home the charm it has. The plan itself, though the house is only 29x38-6, is, so well arranged that little, if any, room is left for improvement. The house contains three rooms; living room, bedroom and kitchen. In addition, there are a generous-sized bath and service hall. A kitchen-porch keeps rain and snow from the kitchen door and steps. The kitchen itself is especially well arranged for easy work, there being ample room for the dining-table at the front under the window. On special occasions the dining-table could be placed in the living room. There are good wall-space and linen and clothes closets. A back-stair leads to the attic, which could be used for storage. A half-basement provides room for fuel and vegetables.

Concrete for Permanence Economical - - - Everlasting

If you build for a home or for sale purposes, you cannot afford to overlook the advantages of concrete construction. Before you build, let us tell you of the savings that may be effected by the use of concrete.

If you build to sell, concrete construction makes your task easier. If you build a home to live in, you want it to last. Concrete serves your purpose.
