Uncensored Observations

Gaunt and haggard, his body swaying back and forth in perfect drunken technique, his steps tripping and his mouth hanging loosely half open, an unkempt and unshaven man poured himself past City Patrolman Wilson last night. To Wilson's judgment, the man was so palpably intoxicated that he hustled him off to the police station and propelled him into the city jail.

Hardly had the poor man passed the threshold of the jail door, than his body straightened, his mouth closed with a snap, his eyes gleamed with intelligence and his step became firm. "For a snake," he snapped, "where is some food? Where is the garbage can?"

His brother prisoners had just completed a meal. He cleaned their plates off till they glistened. He picked up scraps and in general cleaned up the jail of all available food. Then he laid him down to sleep and this morning was discharged from jail without any charge being pressed against him.

He had been hungry. He could not get work. He had been cold. He followed the ruse employed by unfortunates for years past and, simulating drunkenness, was placed in jail, where food and shelter were assured.

Tom Dezell, secretary of the California Oregon Power company, was quoted incorrectly in a local newspaper the other day, he claims. Mr. Dezell was asked, according to the quotation, what he thought of a woman's gym, and he was quoted as saying that he knew nothing of it. "Oooh," said Tom, "how should I know whether there should be a woman's gym. What do I know about a woman's physical culture?"

According to latest reports, Jack Murphy of Mars Barber shop has joined the show troupe and his initial appearance will be made on Amateur night at the Pine Tree. However later reports from the girls assure Uncensored Observations that Murphy is in no way an Amateur and if "Snooky" doesn't watch out he will be doing the cross word puzzle act by himself and looking for movie girls on the side.

Portland once had its half million dollar cow pasture. Klamath Falls still has its Main street frogs. Not only that, but Klamath Falls has the distinction of having a Main street cabbage patch.

ALL YE THAT ENTER HERE
LEAVE ALL
HOPE BEHIND

This is the plaintive and funeral thought inscribed upon a piece of card board and hung over the entrance to the new vault in the basement of the county court house in which will be stored all liquor confiscated. Tom Tracy, court house janitor, started a bit of scuffling on his own, and after a close investigation found the author of the sad bit of blank verse to be none other than County Jail Trusty Carlson, otherwise known as the "Big Swede."

MRS. PIERCE CALLED BY DEATH

Wife of Governor Succumbs in Salem Following Extended Illness

Mrs. Walter M. Pierce

SALEM, Ore., March 8.—Mrs. Walter M. Pierce, wife of Governor Pierce, died at the family home here Sunday at 9 o'clock a. m. after an illness of more than two years. She was 54 years old.

Mrs. Pierce's death had been expected many times since the inauguration of Governor Pierce in January, 1923, and her attendance at the inaugural ceremonies was the only appearance she has ever been able to make to the state house since her husband had occupied the executive chair.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church of this city, with Rev. Ward Willis Long officiating. Interment will be in City View cemetery.

Born in Oregon
Laura M. Pierce was born in what is now Wheeler county, near Monument, in central Oregon, May 30, 1871. Her parents were pioneers, her father, Peter Rudin, crossing the plains in '49 to the coast. Her mother came in '52. In early girlhood she moved with her parents to Milton, Oregon, where she attended the public schools. Her parents moved to Walla Walla in 1887. She graduated at Whitman college in the class of '91, preparing herself then for a teacher, and graduated from the Ellensburg State Normal school in the class of '92.

She was married to Walter M. Pierce in September, 1893, and moved to Pendleton, where her husband was then county clerk of Umatilla county. She lived in Pendleton, where four of her children were born, until 1907, moving then to the Grand Ronde valley, where she and her husband lived until he was elected governor in November, 1922, since which time she had been a resident of Salem.

Old Man Winter Slips a Surprise Across on City

Old Man Winter stuck another feather in his cap this morning, when Klamath Falls residents woke to find the earth covered with the proverbial "mantel of white" and baseball mitts and gloves sneaking back to their covers, still warm from the hibernation of the past winter.

One lone robin sat in a tree this morning, very fat and sleek from a southern winter. Sometimes people envy the birds that can winter in the south, just pack up their feathers and go. However this Robin Redbreast was the "early bird of the season" for he took for granted the few warm days and flew north, getting to Klamath Falls just in time to enjoy a week-end winter house party. The trouble is now, where can he find a house to tuck his weary head?

EASTERNERS TO BUY SAW MILL

A deal will be completed in a few days whereby the Campbell-Towle Lumber company of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, will take over the saw mill plant of Edgerton and Adams near Yonah, Edgerton and Adams had contracted to cut eight million feet of lumber during the coming season for the Campbell-Towle people, from the Campbell-Towle Cherry Creek holdings, but the company has taken over the mill and will handle its own lumber.

The Campbell-Towle company is a corporation formed of shareholders of the W. J. Campbell Lumber company for the handling of the Cherry Creek holdings of the W. J. Campbell Lumber company. The W. J. Campbell Lumber company, besides being one of the largest distributors of lumber, operates a hardwood mill near Oshkosh, Wisconsin, and a pine mill at Priest River, Idaho.

There has been considerable interest among lumbermen here as to whether or not Campbell-Towle would operate here this season since the visit of W. J. Campbell and Delwin Towle last January. No authentic announcement had been made up to last night, however.

W. C. Mattson, who has represented the W. J. Campbell company in this section for several years, will manage the Campbell-Towle enterprise in addition to his regular duties.

The sawmill itself is equipped with a six foot band head rig and shogun feed, and has a capacity of fifty thousand feet per shift. The mill was originally built by the Sprague White Pine Mills Co., from whom Edgerton and Adams acquired it.

The mill will probably be in operation about April first, according to Mattson.

MORE RIOTING

NILES, Ohio, March 9.—Six men are under arrest here today and three more are held in Warren City jail on charges of fighting, carrying concealed weapons and suspicion as a result of two clashes at street corners here late last night.

Counterfeit $20 Bill Passed at First National

A worn and tattered $20 bill was shoved across the counter to one of the tellers of the First National bank recently. There did not seem to be anything strange about the bill, except that it was old and dogeared.

The bill was sent to the federal reserve bank and from there to Washington, where a new bill would, under normal circumstances, be substituted and returned. But instead of credit for their bill, the First National bank received a notification from the treasury department at Washington that the bill was a counterfeit and that the local bank was the goat. Some of the oldest employees at the bank can not remember when a counterfeit bill was received at the bank.

DIVISION HEADS ARE APPOINTED BY FAIR BOARD

Preparations Laid for Large Exhibit Next Fall; New Departments Created

Superintendents of divisions for the exhibits at the annual county fair met with the fair board Saturday afternoon in the office of the county agent. Several new divisions were created and superintendents appointed, among them that of poultry products in charge of T. N. Case and potatoe, Henry Semon. Mr. Semon as president of the Klamath Potato Growers' association will be best fitted to install and influence large exhibits of netted gems at this year's fair from among members of the association, as well as exhibits of other varieties, it was said.

To fill the vacancies made by the resignation of Mrs. McClure and Mrs. Wattenburg, who for several years past have so successfully conducted the culinary and domestic arts exhibits at the fair, Mrs. Harry Goeller will be asked to head the domestic arts, with Mrs. Robert Adams of Merrill, while by the courtesy of H. N. Moe, Miss Wilson of the women's wear and embroidery departments of Moe's store will act in advisory capacity. Mrs. T. N. Case has been unanimously elected to the superintendency of the culinary department, her assistant to be named by herself at a later date.

New Personnel

The personnel of exhibit superintendents exclusive of the above now stands as follows: Best cattle, L. A. West and F. L. Pope appointed to fill the vacancy occasioned by the removal of Warren Patterson to Grants Pass; dairy cattle, Clyde Bradley and C. C. Lewis, newly appointed; hogs, Roy Nelson and Hans Nlander; sheep, Will Hammond of Merrill and Rex Ford, newly appointed; poultry, Dr. F. M. Trout of Malin and as his assistant Dr. J. R. Cooper, who has lately come to Klamath county from Cincinnati, and will establish a poultry farm near North Klamath; by making potatoes a special feature and division the herculean task of Walter Zetsman, with Fred U. Grenson in managing the farm crops division, which has the largest number and diversity of exhibits at the fair, will be somewhat lightened and by unanimous vote a paid clerk to record entries was designated for this division; fruit, W. S. Slough; bee products, N. E. Woodhouse, the veteran bee man of Merrill; domestic art, Mrs. Ackley; flowers, Mrs. Charles Martin and Mrs. H. N. Moe; boys' and girls' club work, Frank W. Sexton; C. A. Henderson, county agent, was asked to assume general supervision of all exhibits.

To Revise Premiums

The secretary of the fair board was instructed to make appointments with the superintendents of different divisions when the premium list will be gone over and revised. In all livestock divisions it was decided to make the classes conform to those of the Pacific International insofar as was practicable, so that owners of herds showing at the county fair here will have their animals in groupings that will enable them to enter subsequent county fairs and the Pacific International. Other county fairs throughout Oregon are adopting this plan and it will tend to stimulate more owners showing at the big event late in the fall.

It was decided to embody advertising in the premium list this year and to debar professional exhibitors from showing in open competition against products from the homes and farms of the county, although space may be allotted them for exhibition purposes only upon application to the secretary at least a week prior to the opening of the fair.

A general business meeting followed which lasted until late afternoon. One of the most pertinent questions being that of the appointment of an advisory board acting in conjunction with the present Fair Board. Permanent improvement of the driveways and barnyards was authorized. Mr. Moe was asked to speak to the Business Men's Association and ascertain their views on the subject.

Mickey Neilan Has Fight With Man Who Dances With Spouse

CULVER CITY, Calif., March 9.—Culver City police early this morning were called to a boulevard cafe here to quell a disturbance said by eye witnesses to have started between Marshall Neilan, motion picture director, and an unidentified man who was dancing with Blanche Sweet, film actress and Neilan's wife.

According to witnesses the fight started when the stranger struck Neilan after the director had objected to the manner in which he accompanied Miss Sweet over the dance floor.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD MEETING

Steps for More Vigorous Work to Be Outlined Early This Summer

WASHINGTON, March 9.—As the first step in a movement for a more aggressive and continuous campaign in behalf of basic party principles, a conference of democratic leaders from the various states, in the early summer has been proposed by Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York with the endorsement of other party leaders.

The results of a canvass of all democrats attending the national democratic convention last year were given by Mr. Roosevelt in a letter published today, to Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, prominent chairman of the convention, as showing a preponderance of opinion that the party organization should operate on a more continuous and unified basis.

TRIO OF SPEEDERS HALED INTO COURT

Men Returning From Keno Dance Nabbed While Traveling at High Speed

One hundred and forty miles an hour was the aggregate speed which brought about the arrest of three automobile drivers and their subsequent appearance in court today. All three came to grief on the Ashland-Klamath Falls highway between this city and Keno, and two of them were speeding their way home from the dance at Keno during the early hours of Sunday morning.

The three men were Laverne Carter, charged with speeding 50 miles per hour, Robert Morris, charged with driving between 45 and 50 miles an hour, and Carl Davidson, charged with driving 40 miles an hour.

The arrest of Carter brought about the arrest of Morris. Officer Knowles, who was also on his way home from the Keno dance, when La Verne whizzed past him like a flash of light. Knowles was hot on his trail immediately.

Davidson, perceiving that everybody seemed to be doing it, stepped on it also and followed Knowles closely. Eventually Knowles caught up with Carter and while he was about it stepped out into the middle of the road and nabbed Davidson too.

Chin Sliced Off in Cutting Affray; He Carries It in Hand

LOS ANGELES, March 9.—It was an odd night at the receiving hospital here last night. First Louis Garcia came in carrying in his hand a portion of his chin which had been sliced off by an opponent in a knife affray. Surgeons sewed the piece of chin back into place and told him they thought it would stick, then turned to take care of Homer Land, 25, who had walked in with a bullet hole through his head. Despite the fact that Land appeared only slightly worried by the bullet, which had entered his throat and had come out at the top of his head, surgeons said his condition was critical. He had been shot in a street fight.

Rail Surveying Outfit Thought To Be In County

Thought to be employed by the Hill lines, a crew of from 20 to 25 men are surveying a line along the eastern side of Klamath marsh, according to reports received here today from timber cruisers who were cruising a section of timber in the big marsh country Sunday.

G. A. Bellman, local realtor, accompanied the cruisers on their trip Sunday and stated that the men were busy surveying a line on about south range 9.

Although nothing could be definitely learned here concerning the identity of the surveyors, it was considered probable that the crew was working for the Hill lines. That the Hill lines will build south to Klamath Falls is now a definite fact, following recent announcement to that effect. Among railroad circles it is considered probable that the surveying crew is making a preliminary reconnaissance of the Klamath country for the northern lines.

MARAUDING DOGS KILL FIVE SHEEP ON REEDER FARM

Blood Crazy Canines Bring Down Fine Animals, Including Big Ram

The call of the will beckoned Saturday night to a band of dogs of the Pine Grove district and in answer to the call a pack of marauding canines attacked a band of fine sheep owned by U. E. Reeder and Orin Reeder. Five sheep were killed, including a blooded ram owned by Orin Reeder which had won first prize at the last county fair.

Tearing, slashing and snapping, the dogs, crazy with blood, killed and wounded till their lust was satiated. They attacked the grand old ram, literally tearing his hind quarters to pieces. A ewe, with two lambs, turned to fight the pirates, but a quick footed car slipped beneath her lowered head and slit her jugular vein.

Terrified, the ewe crowded into one corner of the fence and the pack of blood crazed dogs attacked them from the rear. Their lust satiated, the dogs finally left. Yesterday morning and today three more ewes died from the effects of the canine attack. Several other ewes are badly torn.

That the dogs were simply out on a lark was evident from the fact that none of the animals were eaten. No lambs were killed.

SUMMERS SCHOOL CLOSED

An outbreak of scarlet fever at Summers school led to the closing of the school today while the class rooms were thoroughly fumigated. While there was but one case reported, it was deemed advisable by the county health unit and the county school superintendent's office to take proper precautions.

GEO. NEUNER IN OFFICE TODAY

New United States District Attorney Takes Over New Duties Today

PORTLAND, Oregon, March 9.—George Neuner of Roseburg, today became United States District Attorney for Oregon, succeeding John S. Coke, formerly of Marshfield, who resigned to enter private law practice in Portland. The ceremony of swearing in the new official was witnessed by a crowd of attorneys and others.

After paying a tribute to Judge Coke, Judge Wolverton asked District Attorney Neuner if he had anything to say.

"It would be presumptuous upon my part to say anything about this office and its duties," said former district attorney of Douglas county and the man who brought Dr. Richard Brumfield to the bar of justice. "I am mindful of the duties connected with this office, and I feel my inability to carry out the work as ably as Judge Coke has done. But I hope to have the strength to carry on with all the power and earnestness that should go with the office."

He will be faithful to my oath of office.

"Judge Coke did his duty well and I will do all in my power to be as considerate and courteous as he was."

"I assure the court that I will discharge the duties of this office earnestly and conscientiously, and I will ever be faithful to my oath of office."

Judge Wolverton then congratulated the new officer. "I feel the court will not regret that you have been placed in the high position you now occupy."

Western Union Office Manager Resigns From Position on Saturday

According to announcements made today, A. C. Dimock, for two years the manager of the Klamath Falls Western Union telegraph office, has severed all connections with the company and plans upon assuming a responsible position with a large cereal organization in Portland. Word to this effect was received Saturday but was not made public until this afternoon.

Until a permanent manager is selected by the head office, Victor D. Carlson, who is acting as temporary manager and district relief manager, will remain in charge of the Klamath Falls office. The new manager will probably arrive in the city within the coming week, according to the city office.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

DE KALB, Ill., March 9.—Jacob Haisch, inventor of birbed wire and said to be the oldest bank president in the United States, today celebrated his ninety-ninth birthday. He is president of Haisch State bank.
