

SMALLER FISH ARE SPAWNING

Egg Taking Crew at Spencer Creek Note Size of Trout

Smaller fish than in years past are running up Spencer creek to spawn, according to word received here yesterday by District Game Warden Marion Barnes from Deputy District Game Warden Phil Moteschenbacher, in charge of egg taking operations at the Spencer creek hatchery.

Two hundred fish that are now in the fish trap in Spencer creek average between 10 and 14 inches, according to Moteschenbacher's report. It is thought that the spawning fish are the first of the artificially hatched rainbow trout that were planted in the creek several years ago.

Mr. Moteschenbacher plans to leave the Spencer creek hatchery for Diamond lake on the fifteenth of this month to take charge of the hatchery at Diamond lake.

MIDLAND ORGANIZES LARGE SEWING CLUB

One of the largest school sewing clubs yet organized in Klamath county was formed last week at Midland. Members include several girls who have had one and two years of sewing club experience, so embrace the three divisions of sewing to accommodate the membership. All agree that the total "13" has no power to influence the luck of their club and the enrollment which aggregates that number, is considered a good not an ill omen.

Mrs. Jennie L. Seveck of Midland is the local leader, Helen Atchison, president; Anna Burnett, vice-president; Esther Atchison, secretary, while Mary Seveck, Naydene Gregory, Dalpa Spence, Juana Soto, Andrea Palacio, Ida and Mary Del Fatti, Pauline Burnett, Opal Hooper and Catherine Burnett complete the membership.

SCOUT LEADER RESIGNS

SPOKANE, Wash., March 10.—G. H. Oberhauser, boy scout executive of Region 11, comprising Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, with headquarters here, has resigned to become executive of the Portland, Oregon boy scout council. It was stated in a dispatch to the Herald today from Portland.

Mr. Oberhauser became regional executive a year ago.

SCOUTS IN TRIM FOR YEAR'S WORK

Scoutmaster Reports Many Boys Ready for New Activities

Klamath Falls troop of Boy Scouts met last night and plans for summer activities were discussed. A charter for those who are now members, was drawn up. There were seventeen who signed the paper. An organization of 24 members is planned for Monday night of next week when they will meet in session, making three patrols. According to Julius Mueller, newly named scoutmaster, this is an ideal number to start the season's activities.

No definite meeting place has yet been selected for the activities of the scouts, this and the meeting night to be decided upon at next meeting. The enthusiasm shown by the Klamath Falls group give promise of exceptional constructive work and recreation throughout the summer, according to the scoutmaster.

RED CLOVER HAS PROVEN SUCCESS

accurately calculated, giving the following results:

Operation	Per Ac.	On field of
Water, operation and maintenance	$1.35	$ 4.50
Taxes, interest	1.25	4.18
Interest ($100 value at 8%)	8.00	26.72
Irrigation Labor	1.50	5.01
Seed	1.40	4.68
Seeding	1.50	5.01
Harvesting: mowing 1/2 day with team, shocking, raking, hauling and stacking (1 day, 5 men @ $5.00), 3 teams @ $3.00	10.18	34.00
Threshing	10.18	34.00
Cleaning	3.00	10.02
Total	$39.56	$132.12

Production: Seed 519.4 lbs. per acre; 1735 lbs. per field of 3.34 acres.

Value @ 20c lb. 103.88 347.00
Net Profit 64.32 214.88

Inasmuch as Mr. Hill has not yet disposed of this season's crop, a 20c per lb. price was placed rather arbitrarily as a wholesale price, which should be very close to that figure, over several year's period.

In addition to the returns on his clover seed there was a certain valuation attached to the remaining straw, which was not considered, although nearly 4 tons per acre remained after threshing out the seed crop.

Inasmuch as a yield of nearly 520 lbs. per acre was secured, at a total cost of $39.56 per acre, including every charge such as interest on investment, labor, etc., leaving a net return of $64.32 per acre at a 20c per pound valuation, it was one of the best paying crops on Mr. Hill's ranch during the year. Mr. Hill believes in diversification, his other crops being potatoes, alfalfa, grain and some livestock and poultry.

In view of the fact that a large amount of our commercial seed is imported annually from foreign countries, the prices on red clover seed should be staple for years to come, a good return being assured, from year to year. Along with diversified farming, now rapidly gaining headway throughout the Klamath Basin, this crop should gain rapidly as five or ten thousand acres could be produced here annually, resulting in a considerable higher farm income.

Mr. Hill plans on putting in a twenty acre field the coming spring and if a total of 100 acres is planted in the Klamath Basin this year, a clover huller can be secured, which should greatly increase the amount of seed produced per acre and reduce the cost of harvesting.

How to Talk

Article No. 2

SOMEbody has asked me to what source I attribute the constant growth and development of our language.

To the newspapers, I say. A new word would have a short life if the newspapers did not take it up. It would die a-borning, as the saying goes, and certainly never would get into dictionaries.

You know there is something rather enchanting in the style of newspaper copy that attracts all kinds of readers. Newspapers are easy to read. Without realizing it, we often familiarize ourselves with a new word used by our favorite newspaper. In this way we add to our vocabulary—without giving the newspapers credit for it.

Those who write of sporting events have supplied us with a abundance of expressive terms during more recent years. Baseball, golf, tennis, and other outdoor sports each have a language of their own. The newspapers popularize it—and then no modern dictionary can be complete without it.

The old tradition that claims newspaper English as an exclusive institution no longer holds good; for that which we read in the public prints is instantly adopted by the people who justly take claim to it as their own language.

This also lays bare the secret of the dictionary maker. He does not make the words, but simply takes them after they have been made by the people themselves—through the newspapers, I might add.

The language of today, always ready for immediate use, will be found in the New Universities Dictionary. There is no question about it. This dictionary is the latest—and undoubtedly the greatest volume of its kind produced.

New discoveries and inventions create new words and give new meanings to many old words. Hence the publishers were forced to discard their old plates and make an entirely new dictionary throughout, in order to keep abreast of the times and ahead of those that still dwell in the dead past. So here is a NEW dictionary that eliminates obsolete words and has incorporated thousands of new ones—a dictionary for moderns—THE dictionary of TODAY!

In addition to the enlarged vocabulary, with its latest definitions, there is in this volume separate dictionaries of the latest terms in radio, football, aviation, tennis, golf, synonyms for crossword workers, baseball, etc., etc., and an entire section on how to write and speak correctly, called "Everyday Errors." This department, so helpful to dictionary users, cites many common errors in the use of words and phrases, and tells how to correct them—a valuable course in English that will be appreciated by readers of all ages.

WOMAN TRAINER IS BIG SUCCESS

SEATTLE, Wash., March 10.—Called in by Coach Callow to prescribe and supervise a scientific diet for oarsmen at the University of Washington, Miss Dorothy Kuebler, assistant professor of nutrition, just followed good household practice. During the two seasons that she has been in charge, the husky crew has won the intercollegiate championship at Poughkeepsie, and she is feeding them up again to defend the title on the Hudson in June.

"We do not give the crew men a special diet," Miss Kuebler says. "They are served a well balanced menu that all people should follow in order to keep healthy and in good condition. Fresh fruits and vegetables, milk, cooked and dry cereals, cooked meats, special steaks and other wholesome foods constitute the main part of the fare. No rich desserts or pastries are served and highly seasoned dishes, fried potatoes and other foods fried in grease are taboo.

"The men are given coffee in the morning if they so wish. Toward the end of the season the menu becomes more simple, and is made up of foods more easily digestible. Greater quantities of fresh fruits and vegetables then appear on the tables."

FUNERAL OF MRS. PIERCE

Attended by Many People

SALEM, Ore., March 10.—The First Presbyterian church of Salem was thronged this afternoon with friends and acquaintances, many of state wide and more than state wide prominence, who came to pay tribute at the funeral of Mrs. Laura Pierce, wife of Governor Walter M. Pierce, who passed away early Sunday. The church about the casket was heaped high with flowers that came from hundreds of persons and organizations, and a little later in the afternoon the grave in City View cemetery was left a veritable floral mound.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Kelley left for Grants Pass, to attend to state highway matters under his supervision.

Cod Liver Oil in Sugar Coated Tablets For Puny Kids

Forget the nasty tasting, stomach upsetting cod liver oil and give the thin, puny, underdeveloped children McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets if you want to give them a good appetite and put pounds of good, healthy flesh on their bones.

Doctors know all about them and so does all good pharmacists all over America, for they are in great demand, because they are not last-guards but allow results in a few days.

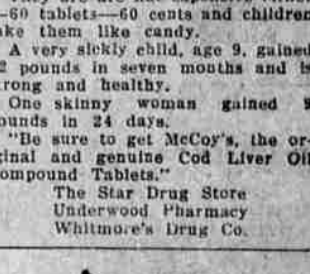

They are not expensive either—50 tablets—60 cents and children take them like candy.

A very sickly child, age 9, gained 12 pounds in seven months and is strong and healthy.

One skinny woman gained 9 pounds in 24 days.

"Be sure to get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets."
