LEAVE $400,000,000 IN EUROPE
HAMBURG, Mar. 12.—More than 200,000 Americans visited Europe during the year 1924. It is estimated by the Hotel Proprietors' Federation, and each traveler spent, on an average, the sum of $2,000. This means that a golden trail of some $400,000,000 was left behind by these visitors from across the Atlantic, and mostly in England, Switzerland and Italy.

Swiss tourist business around the Lake of the Four Cantons has almost reached pre-war dimensions, according to a circular issued by the Lucerne Cantonal Bank. There was an increase of 22 percent in 1924 over the number of guests registered in 1923. The bulk of the business was furnished by tourists from England.

INDUCED TO VISIT HOME
WARSAW, Mar. 12.—With the object of making it easy for Poles established in the United States to revisit Poland, Polish consular offices in America have been instructed to give them visas valid for six months. In addition these visitors are given a guarantee that during their visit they will not be called up for military service, no matter what their age may be.

PORT TRAFFIC GROWS
MARSEILLES, Mar. 12.—Freight and passenger traffic at the port of Marseilles in 1924 exceeded pre-war figures for the first time since the armistice. The total tonnage was 21,144,351, or 43,531 tons more than in 1913.

Passengers entering and leaving the port numbered 771,009, as compared with 566,164 in 1912.

OUT OF THE AIR

By JULIUS MUELLER

Manager Radio Dept., Baldwin Hardware Co.

San Francisco is really the only city in California that can radiocast itself with a clear conscience. Los Angeles heralds itself as "The White Spot of America," and shuts out congressmen and lawyers, Oakland announces it is the place where "rail and water meet," and folks figure it is the jumping off place. But San Francisco is "The Home of the Rum Fleet," and as such is entitled to as much consideration as any station in radio fame.

The Radio Service Bulletin for February, as published by the Department of Commerce contains a complete list of radiocasting stations of the United States, giving all the new stations, changes of call letters, and their new wave lengths, frequencies and power, up to January 31, 1925. This publication may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government printing office, Washington, D. C., at five cents per copy.

SCIENCE LEARNS FROM SAILOR

HAMBURG, Mar. 12.—The German Naval Observatory acts as a clearing house for all information on naval matters, and prides itself on its efficient accuracy. To this end it interviews the officers of every ship that comes into Hamburg in order to check its theoretical information with the practical experience of the man who goes to sea.

CHILD MATINGS HELD TO BE HARMFUL

NEW YORK, March 13.—After investigating the problem of child marriages the Russell Sage foundation in a report made public today says its study disproves the idea that there is something idyllic about such youthful unions.

The investigators' conclusions are opposed to marriage at too young an age, because of the physical and mental immaturity of the contracting children; or because in the case of a girl child, married to an older man, neither may ever know the meaning of genuine comradeship in the marriage relation.

The foundation report disclosed that there are 700,000 persons in the United States who were married when under 16.

As railroads, automobiles, telephones, the telegraph and newspapers come to these lonely sections, the investigators believe it probable that child marriages will decrease. It was found, according to the report that in certain isolated communities there were not only very early marriages, but so many inter-marriages among the cousins of one family, strain that sometimes three-fourths of the inhabitants of a village have the same surname.

"The foreign habit of early marriage does not persist after the first generation," the report says. "In fact the foreign girls of the second generation are actually marrying at a later age than native girls."

Mrs. Longworth called at the state department just across the street for her brother, Kermit Roosevelt, in the rear of the auto was a market basket which Mrs. Longworth said cost 65 cents and in the basket was little Paulina.

COMPANY WANTS ACTION ON ROAD

Pelican Bay Concern Is Anxious to Have Snow Cleared Off Highway

United States Bureau of Public roads has been requested to take immediate steps toward the clearing of

Who is Your Skinny Friend Ethel?

Tell him to take Cod Liver Oil for a couple of months and get enough good healthy flesh on his bones to look like a real man.

Tell him he won't have to swallow the nasty oil with the nauseating fishy taste, because the McCoy Laboratories, of New York are now putting up Cod Liver Oil in sugar coated tablet form.

SNOW OFF THE DALLES-CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY

North of Klamath Junction, it was learned today. The request comes from the Pelican Bay Lumber company which is anxious to have the road in good shape so that traffic between their logging camps and Pelican City will not be impeded.

About two feet of snow lies on the ground, near San Creek hill, Horace Bridgeford, manager of the lumber company said today. Inasmuch as the saw mill of the company starts operation next Monday, activities in the logging camps must be started soon and logs must be coming into Pelican City by April 1.

By agreement with the state, the bureau of public roads must maintain the stretch of macadamized highway north of Fort Klamath Junction till next fall. Hence the clearing of the snow is entirely out of the jurisdiction of the local highway forces.

No answer had been received by the lumber company this afternoon it was said.

One of the debutantes tells us she either has to go without enough clothes or go without men.

Two were injured in St. Louis when an auto driver thought a girl looked better than the road.
