A delegation from Crescent, including George Stonebraker, F. M. Cleaves, Roy Mallory and William H. Burke, were present at the hearing Saturday to protest against the toll road. They claimed that it was not only unjust to charge toll on a road which was open nearly all year but also that the surrounding country would gain an unsavory reputation due to the toll that tourists would seek other roads to gain their objectives. The contract between the county court and Fred Duke, will not be signed until an arrangement more satisfactory to all parties concerned can be made.

TAXPAYERS FLOCK TO PAY 1924 TAX

With the deadline set at April 6, taxpayers are flocking in droves to the sheriff's office to pay taxes due for the first half year of 1924. The rush has necessitated feverish work on the part of the tax collectors and employment of extra help during the busiest hours.

The last day for paying taxes is designated as April 5 but inasmuch as that date is on Sunday, the sheriff's office has set the deadline ahead to April 6 at 5 p. m.

On April seventh penalty and interest on delinquent taxes for the first half year of 1924 will go into effect. The law stipulates that a three per cent penalty be fixed for delinquent taxes, which would be increased to five per cent after five years of delinquency, and also that interest of one per cent a month be charged for each month of delinquency.

MANY LIGHT FLU CASES HIT CITY

Further evidence of the widespread epidemic of influenza—minus any pneumatic complications—was manifest today by a weekly report made by the county health physician.

The report discloses that during the past seven days thirteen cases of influenza have been reported to the health office. Many of the influenza cases are not reported, according to Dr. Newsom. In fact many of the cases are not even attended by a physician, so the number of cases reported into the county health office is no criterion of the exact number of sicknesses from influenza in the county.

Seventeen cases of contagious diseases brought seventeen quarantines during the week, the report showed. Four cases of scarlet fever were reported.

The Scotch average nearly an inch taller than the Irish. But then the Irish were kept down for 700 years.
