

How about pyorrhea?

It lurks unsuspected in the mouths of four out of every five. In its early stages, remedial measures are simple. Left alone, it ravages work damage to the teeth and health which can never be undone. For your health's sake—have your teeth examined. We charge you nothing for the service.

Your Lingerie

The modern woman wears silk, not just because it is better looking, but because it is real economy to do so.

You will never know real lingerie satisfaction, however, until you have tried "Lux-Shu-Ri Knit" brand—clinging, soft and lovely, made to conform to your figure.

You may have this satisfaction for the same price you now pay for ready-mades.

HOYT IN TOWN
George S. Hoyt, Fort Klamath rancher and well known in this city, was a visitor in Klamath Falls last night to call on friends. With the advent of spring, the country around the Fort is beginning to open up. Grass is beginning to show signs of life and the snow line at the extreme northern end of the Klamath Basin country is day by day stealing farther north toward Crater Lake.

RIVERS FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

Coroner's Investigation Discloses no Blame Placed on Co-Workers

Funeral services for Alfred Rivers were held this morning at 10:30 at the Whitlock undertaking parlors. Rev. T. A. Meryweather officiating. Rivers' body has been held since his death Thursday for instructions from relatives in New York as to the disposition of the body. Word was received that his relatives were unable to pay for the transportation of the body or even for the burial here. Accordingly, the lumberjacks of the county took charge of the body through a fund which they maintain for cases of this nature and which is handled by Mrs. Claude Holton, wife of Woods Superintendent Holton of the Lamm Lumber company.

Rivers was a stranger here, although he has spent the greater portion of his life in the logging and lumber camps of the west. Before coming here this spring he worked in camps in and around La Grande, Baker and Enterprise.
