

The Evening Herald

Issued Daily, except Sunday, by The Herald Publishing Company, Office: 119 N. Eighth Street, Klamath Falls, Ore.

E. J. MURRAY Publisher
W. H. PERKINS News Editor

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Klamath Falls, Oregon, under act of March 3, 1879.

Member of the Associated Press
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use of republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

The Evening Herald is the official paper of Klamath County and the City of Klamath Falls.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
Delivered by Carrier		By Mail
One Year	$6.50	One Year	$5.00
Six Months	3.50	Six Months	2.75
Three Months	1.95	Three Months	1.50
One Month	.65	One Month	.65

TUESDAY, MARCH 24, 1925

WHEAT PRICES

Only the inexorable economic law of supply and demand, fixes the price of wheat. We are constantly assured this by the Chicago Board of Trade and its members, its bankers and its press propagandists, who reap fortunes buying and selling the world's food supply.

It was a world wide scarcity, we were gravely informed, that three times in the past three months sent the price of wheat over $2 a bushel. Likewise it must have been an undiscovered surplus that sent it tumbling down again, as fast as it climbed.

Almost daily for the past month, the fluctuations have been so violent as to force legitimate purchasers to withdraw from the market until it has been stabilized. Meanwhile the consumer is mulcted excessive and unnecessary prices for wheat products, without benefitting the producer, who long ago sold his crop.

There is no secret concerning world production of wheat, crop conditions, market demands, etc. Reliable international figures are compiled reflecting the actual output and consumption. A short crop means higher prices, but it does not necessarily mean spectacular rises and sensational declines within a few minutes of each other. These are due to the grain speculators, who play the wheat pit like a gambling game and win or lose fortunes like roulette players, the only difference being that the public loses as well as the gamblers.

Many efforts have been made to control marginal speculation in grain and substitute a stabilized market, as for other products, but so far the grain gamblers have successfully resisted regulation and maintained their get-rich-quick swindle with its lure of great fortunes magically won and as speedily lost. Until the production is controlled, the marketing can not be.—Capital Journal.

HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24.—A new bedtime story, reminiscent of Grimm's Fairy Tales or the folk stories of Hans Christian Anderson, has reached Washington along with the arrival of the new German ambassador, Baron Ago von Maltzan, and his young wife and daughter.

"The highly romantic and fanciful nature of the yarn already has served to inspire an unusual interest in the athletic, blond diplomat who is to represent here the affairs of the new German republic.

About 350 years ago, or in 1588, the story goes, the Baroness Eva von Maltzan, from whom the present ambassador is descended, while lying in her great canopied bed following the birth of a son, dreamed that there appeared before her a tiny little man with a long white beard.

"Good lady," the little man said, "I am a gnome, a goblin. In the old days my people lived among men and helped them. But man has become unkind, and we are migrating northward.

"We stopped in your castle to rest and are living under the floor of your bedchamber. My granddaughter has been taken ill. Oil from your lamp is dripping through the floor and falling on her bed. Please move your lamp."

The baroness awoke. She looked around, but saw no one. But the next night she had the same dream.

On the third night, the little figure appeared again. "Twice, lady," he said, "I have begged you to free my grandchild from the oil dripping on her bed. Now she is worse. For the last time I beg you to move your lamp."

Impressed by the little man's earnestness, the baroness awoke, rang for her maid and ordered the lamp moved.

Eight nights later the midge-eyed gray-beard came again, smiling and happy. His grandchild was well again, he said, and they were leaving.

"I leave you a necklace," he said, "as a token of our gratitude. Treasure it. So long as it passes from son to son in your family it will bring good fortune. When a pearl changes color, the head of the family will die. Should one be damaged, misfortune will come."

And with a bow the gnome disappeared.

The baroness awoke. And in her fingers was a beautiful string of pearls.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

To the Editor:
The officers of the American Legion are desirous of thanking those that participated in the Legion auto show that served to make it a success and which was held last week under the auspices of Klamath post No. 8.

The Evening Herald,
The Klamath News,
Paul Johnson,
The California-Oregon Power Co.,
D. D. Van Fleet,
The Shrine club,
Cofer, Bell and Houston,
Patterson, Mallett, Sablin and Southwell,
Mrs. Fred Cofer,
G. A. Wirtz,
Houston's and Borel's orchestra,
Misses Lindsey, Dunham, Francis and Jenkins.

The merchants for assisting in the style show.
FRANCIS R. OLDS,
Commander,
H. E. GETZ,
Adjutant.

DIVORCE GRANTED

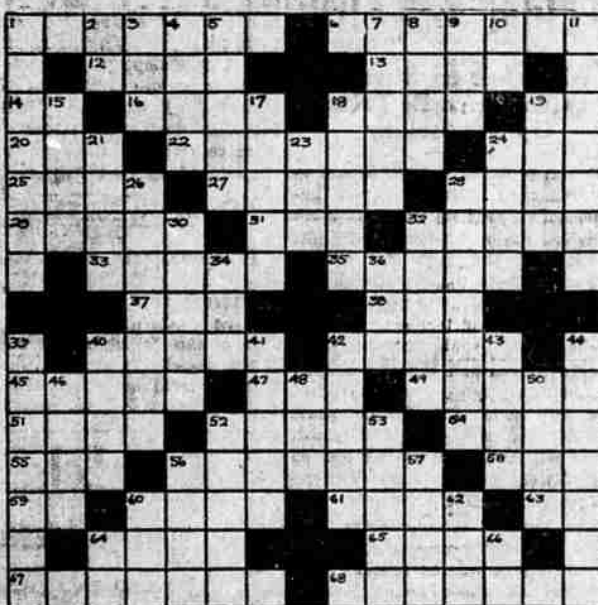

Mrs. Myrtle L. Widby was granted a divorce from Jack L. Widby in a decree signed today by Circuit Judge Leavitt. The plaintiff sued on grounds of cruelty and the defendant failed to answer the charge.

New Jersey man struck a match to see if he had any gas. Now he hasn't any car.

HERE'S A CHANCE TO DISTINGUISH YOURSELF, CAL

TODAY'S CROSS WORD PUZZLE

HORIZONTAL

- Hastening.
- Accomplice; partner in crime.
- To relieve.
- A mixture or hodgepodge.
- Fourth note in scale.
- A secluded or narrow valley.
- To stop.
- Like.
- Metal in natural state.
- Newspaper heads.
- A card with a single spot.
- To let.
- Suffered.
- Wingless insect found on some dogs.
- Polite form of addressing a woman.
- Color of blood.
- Chamber where justice is administered.
- Fish net.
- Invisible vapor into which water is converted when heated.
- Born.
- Tree (Ulmus).
- Four gills (pl.).
- Rekindled.
- Portico designed to afford a sheltered meeting place for the public (pl.).
- Also.
- Nose of a dog.
- Minute opening in skin.
- Not truly.
- Encircled.
- Opposite of cold.
- Those who invade for purpose of plunder.
- Meadow.
- Preposition of place.
- To murmur, as a cat.
- A chair part.
- Three-toed sloth.
- Learned.
- A cutting.
- Moves up and down on a balanced plank.
- Bears witness.

YESTERDAY'S SOLUTION

STORES SPEARS
ERRORS OATEN
NE EGOTIST MA
OAM SPIRE FLR
ATOM ERE LATE
L DEAN SOON S
BILL ROTE
I COLD PESA E
SPUN APE ESX
ELM ODORS YAP
TO EVOKING SE
STOVE E AEGID
ESSENE UDPMST

VERTICAL

- Amendments of what is defective, vicious or corrupt.
- Point of compass.
- To annoy by petty fault-finding.
- A small island.
- Wants.
- A plank.
- A measure chiefly for cloths.
- A morsel or bit.
- Toward.

Looking up is a fine habit. St. Louis, a man doing it bumped his nose on an awning.

program by the KOA Orchestra, instrumental and vocal.
KPO, San Francisco, 8 p. m.—Piano solos by Ruth Ludwigan, Soprano solos by Athae Flenn, Haritone solos by A. McCellan.
KLX, Oakland, Calif., 5 p. m.—Studio program by the Western Auto Supply Co.; 9 p. m., American theater Organ recital.
9:10, KLX and KGW, will jointly broadcast a debate between the teams of the Oregon University, affirmative and Stanford University, negative, on the question of: Resolved that the exclusion act of 1924 should be so amended as to admit Japanese on the same basis as Europeans.
KFI, Los Angeles, 8 to 9 p. m.—Evening Herald Radiolians; 9. Ex-aminer program; 10. Patrick Marsh Orchestra.
KIH, Los Angeles, 8 p. m.—Dr. Mars Baumgardt, lecturer on astronomy.

The Musical Department of the Sacred Heart Academy

Will present the music pupils of the senior class in their Annual Recital Tonight at 8 o'clock, White Pelican Hotel

Admission 50c
Tickets on sale at
Earl Shepard Music Store
Star Drug Store
H. J. Winters Jewelry Store

(Tickets also sold by the pupils of the academy and the young ladies of the parish)

OUT OF THE AIR

Program For Wednesday
KOA, Denver, 7:10 p. m.—Studio

THROW AWAY Your Old Dictionary

It's now out of date, and here's a new one to take its place. No words that are out of use—no obsolete words—no "filler" words taken from technical glossaries—which naturally makes room in this enlarged vocabulary for the latest words of everyday use—of which there are thousands of new ones—expressive, forceful words, with which everybody should be familiar. The publishers abandoned their old printing plates, so let the babies play with that old dictionary now, and get your new one through this offer in

The Evening Herald

The Popular Coupon Plan Places It Within Easy Reach of Every Reader

KEEP UP WITH OLD FATHER TIME

In these days of lively sports, games, and amusements we are looked upon as back numbers if we don't know the language of Golf, Radio, Football, Aviation, Tennis, Baseball, Automobiling, Polo, Lacrosse, and other modern activities. You'll find dictionaries of each one of these, and many others, in this educational volume. So the older folks can keep up with the young folks—and the youngsters will be enabled to use the proper terms in their sporting endeavors—with this Dictionary of Dictionaries always at hand.

Clip Your Coupon and Get Yours Today

MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED

Cross Word Puzzlers Need This Enlarged Dictionary

Even this little off of the top gives an idea of the size of this book.

TODAY'S COUPON ON PAGE 2

