

TEST AIRPLANES FOR TRIP NORTH

G.S.L.O. Norway, April 3.—Successful tests have been carried out by the first of the two airplanes which Captain Roald Amundsen will use in his flight to the North Pole. The trial was conducted at Pisa by Lieutenant Stetrichsen, who is to pilot one of the machines when the actual flight is made.

A second airplane, now nearing completion, is to be tested shortly and should it pass the test both machines will be packed and shipped to Spitzbergen. Captain Amundsen intends to start on the flight to the Pole about June 1.

SQUIRREL POISONING PROGRESSES RAPIDLY

With farmers of the Klamath basin firmly convinced of the necessity of controlling the ground squirrel menace and with 2500 pounds of poison all ready distributed among farmers to be scattered near the holes of the rodents, campaign against the pest for this year is well under way. County Agent C. A. Henderson announced today.

In many sections of the county poisoning operations have been started and thousands of dead squirrels lying in fields testify to the effectiveness of control measures.

O. C. & E. RAILROAD SURVEY IN PROGRESS

Sufficiently confident that petition to the interstate commerce commission for permission to build a road from Sprague river east to Lakeview, will be granted, the Oregon California & Eastern railroad company have ordered a survey and location of this projected extension.

A surveying party, headed by Herbert Booth of Spokane, arrived in Klamath Falls this week and has started the survey work. It was learned that an effort will be made to encourage the completion of a spur from Dairy to Bonanza. Grading on this section has been completed by Bonanza residents.
