

Hints for the Home Gardener

Annuals for Foliage Effects

Many annuals are as valuable or even more valuable for their foliage than their bloom and are very useful in the garden. Some of them owe their entire beauty to brilliantly colored foliage. The prickly popples, argemones, now coming in fine double hybrids and ranging from white to light yellow, have gray tones with white veins in addition to their silky bloom. They are always ornamental.

The most brilliant of the foliage annuals is the aramantus, a glorified pig weed which has arrayed itself in gorgeous garments. Burbank has produced some wonderfully brilliant types of this plant. Hanging from dark purple to glowing scarlets, these easily grown annuals make brilliant display.

The canas of stately foliage and gorgeous bloom are not hard to raise from seed if the hard, shot-like seeds are filed thin on one side and soaked in warm water for 24 hours before planting. They bloom the first season from seed.

The "dusty millers," cineraria maritima and centaurea candidissima, can be raised in quantity for edgings from a single packet of seed. The euphorbias, close relatives of the brilliant poinsettia of holiday season, give two showy annuals, the old-fashioned green and white snow-on-the-mountain and the Mexican fire plant, heterophylla, a miniature poinsettia with brilliant scarlet heads of leaves. The feverfew and nasturtium come in bright golden leaved forms useful for their foliage alone.

The coleus, most brilliant of foliage plants, may be raised as easily from seed as from salvia, a relative, and the purple leaved perillas, so much used in the park are also very easy to grow in quantity.

Of the ornamental grasses, the annual pennistums are much used and are handsome edgings. They are Abyssinian grasses with feathery plumes and bronzy foliage. They grow as readily as lawn grass and make quick display when they have been given a good start.

route, authorities state that the road is the most direct and would hence save the state much expense any change of the road location in maintenance. Those opposing held that inasmuch as the road has already been built from Dairy to Bonanza, graded and surfaced, it would be a waste of money to not use the highway and build another highway.

LAKEVIEW ROAD LOCATION IS NOT FIXED

Definite decision Held Up Until Commission Meets, Is Word Received

Decision as to where the Klamath Falls-Lakeview highway between Dairy and Beatty will be located has again been postponed. It was learned here today on the return of C. C. Kelly, division engineer of the state highway department. The question will be taken up at the next meeting of the commission, April 28.

Two moves are before the commission; one to take the stand that the state highway should be located through Bonanza as originally planned, and the other to relocate the highway by taking a route a few miles east of Dairy and then striking direct to Beatty, without touching Bonanza. ROASTED COFFEE IS PERISHABLE

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—Recent research by government experts here has revealed these hitherto unknown facts about your morning beverage:

Coffee is at its very best point the instant it cools after leaving the roasting cylinder. It is subject to immediate and continued loss of aroma and strength as the gases ooze out which were formed within the coffee bean during the roasting process.

It is subject to rancidity of the oils and fats produced in roasting, exactly as butter and lard will turn rancid by contact with air, and air cannot be completely excluded in any known practical method of packing coffee.

Consequently, the sooner any coffee goes to the customer after it has been roasted, ground and packed, the better the flavor.

Consequently, also, roasted coffee which is not fresh is not good property in the long run, no matter how cheaply bought.

CONTRACT AWARDED

SALEM, Ore., April 4.—Contracts amounting to $216,939 for the construction of the boys' training school near Woodburn were let yesterday by the state board of control. Settergreen Brothers of Portland obtained the general contract for $129,670 in a field of nine bidders.

Axel Johnson, trimmerman at the Ewauna planing mill, lost a thumb and forefinger on a trimmer saw this morning. The forefinger was completely severed by the saw and the thumb so badly mangled that amputation was necessary. Johnson was trimmerman on the green chain at Ewauna last year.

ANTLERS TO MEET Junior Organization to Attend Church in a Body

Members of the Order of Antlers, Juvenile club, will meet at 10:30 tomorrow morning on the steps of the Elks' temple to get their pictures taken for the high school annual. They will then march in a body to the Episcopal church for services.

SHASTA VIEW

H. E. Wilson was a Klamath Falls visitor Saturday and Cecil Hunt came home with him and spent Saturday night and Sunday with his friends Lester and Earl Wilson. Lester took him to his home Sunday evening.

Mrs. P. H. McCanna received word Monday of the serious illness of a son in Weed and she with her son Phil started there Monday afternoon.

Miss Carroll who was ill with flu last week is able to be in school again this week.

Lula and Bert Lee are staying with Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas and attending school while their parents are at the Mike Murphy ranch for a month or two. Mr. Murphy purchased the Applegate ranch last year.

Mr. Walker of the Denver office of the Reclamation Service was in this place the first of the week where he was giving instructions and illustrations on the land classification. Mr. H. E. Wilson has charge of this in this section and was under his tutorage.

State Engineer Cooper, Fred Fletcher and Chas. Maupin dined at the H. E. Wilson ranch Monday. Mr. Cooper is going over all the ditches in the Shasta View and Malin districts inspecting same.

Oswald Brown and Alfred Smith who have charge of the cattle for the California Oregon Power company took the cattle from the Tule Lake feed yards and will feed them in Poe Valley for a time. They were dined at Harry Wilsons as they passed through this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Micka were Klamath Falls visitors Thursday.

Earl Wilson, Frank Toffel and Tinsman Creig were in Klamath Falls Tuesday evening.

The funeral of Mrs. Stamply of Poe Valley was held Wednesday. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eisner a few days ago. Mr. Eisner has one of the Tule Lake homesteads.

A "giant stride" had been installed on the play ground of the Shasta View school and the children are having great sport.

BILL HART SIGNS PICTURE CONTRACT

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 4.—With the definite announcement yesterday that William S. Hart, would make his second return to the screen under the banner of United Artists, that organization was preparing today for a series of conferences, beginning next Monday, at which still further enlargement of the group will be considered.

Since its organization about five years ago under the leadership of Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford and Charles Chaplin, United Artists has grown to include Norma and Constance Talmadge, Rudolph Valentino and now William S. Hart. In the face of this growth, however, according to Joseph Schenck, chairman of the board of directors, the organization finds itself unable to maintain a regular schedule of releases, and is faced with the necessity of enlarging its membership in order to build up its aggregate production.

CHOCOLATE SHOP TO OPERATE FOUNTAIN

Klamath Falls will soon have the use of one of the most attractive sweet shops in southern Oregon, with the opening of the fountain of the Chocolate Shop, owned by P. J. Zissos at 524 Main street. Zissos has already established a reputation as a candy maker and the new fountain will be another step toward the perfection of his shop.

The fountain, which came to an approximate cost of $4000, will be put in use the early part of next week. It is iceless and the process of keeping fountain materials cold, will be done by electricity. According to Mr. Zissos, there is only one other fountain in Oregon. Fourteen booths have been installed in the shop, for the accommodation of 56 persons.
