

GOVERNOR WILL PUT STATE ON BUDGET BASIS

REAL TIGHT, N. C. April 23. — Every department and institution of North Carolina has been placed on a budget basis, as a result of legislation passed by the 1925 general assembly. The act exempts the state highway commission, which always has operated on its own funds as a separate portion of the government, and which will continue as heretofore.

The governor, under the new law, becomes the real financial head of the state. He is vested with the power of drawing up, after consulting with the budget commission, the revenue and appropriation bills each two years, and he is charged with responsibility to see that appropriations are balanced by revenues.

Department heads are brought directly under the governor's control by the new law. He has been given the power to investigate the cost and methods of operation used by every department and institution, and may recommend to the legislature such changes as he feels are necessary to effect economies in government. He may order drastic reorganization of departments if he feels that thereby the state's monies may be saved.

Heretofore numerous independent appropriation measures for individual institutions have been passed by each legislature. The result has been that the general appropriation bill seldom, if ever, carried amounts covering all state expenses. In addition a number of institutions, and practically every department, had the power to draw on the state treasurer for funds and this resulted in large overdrafts of the general funds. As an outcome of this policy it has been estimated by a state auditor that at the close of the fiscal period, June 30, 1925, the state will face a deficit in its general fund of close to $9,000,000.

Broadcast Drama With Music

Broadcasting a radio play, with musical accompaniment, all in one operation is the latest achievement of WLS, the Sears-Roebuck station, Chicago. Ralph Emerson, one of the most famous pipe organ performers of the country, whose evening recitals are among the outstanding features of the station, supplies the accompaniment to special radio plays broadcast by WLS Theater, under the direction of Harry Saddler. So the big organ will not drown out the voices of the performers, a specially constructed studio near the Chicago lake shore has been constructed, which enables the two groups to work harmoniously together. By the use of two microphones, one for the group of players and the other down among the organ pipes, the two sounds are brought together by a special wire connection. The organ has a hundred stops, ranging from a cannon roar to the blow of a traffic cop's whistle. It is this realistic touch to his music that has made Mr. Emerson one of the most popular entertainers of WLS.

The new policy will become effective July 1, 1925. After that date all departments and institutions will have to keep expenditures within the definite amount fixed in the appropriation bill for their operations.

The state highway commission derives its revenues from the four cent tax on gasoline and the auto license taxes. Out of this income the sinking fund for the road bond issues is cared for, as well as all operating and maintenance expense of the commission.

How Radio Helps the American Farmer

How the radio is helping the farmer and his family to farm better, live better and sell better is being impressed every day upon Samuel R. Guard, Director of the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, in letters he receives from farmer listeners-in on WLS, the Sears-Roebuck station, Chicago. How WLS, which has become known as the "voice of the farm," is reaching most isolated points is indicated from a message from Kirtley, South Dakota, from a farmer 50 miles from the railroad and 10 miles from a telephone. He tells of the aid the market and weather reports have given him in his farm work. Another farmer of Bureau county, Illinois, tells how WLS service enabled him at the last minute to save $175 on a single shipment of hogs.

From far and wide come communications to Mr. Guard of the commercial benefit of the Foundation's station reports and educational talks by agricultural experts. The farm service of WLS starts at 9 o'clock in the morning and is continued throughout the day until 6 p. m. The earliest and very latest information on live stock, crops and weather conditions are broadcast to rural America, and at night, when the farmer is at his fireside, he listens to educational talks on every phase of farming by men who are in a position to give him the information and advice which enable the farmer to help himself.

The practical value of radio to the American farmer cannot be over-estimated," said Mr. Guard. "Not only does WLS, the farm station of America, assist the farmer in a practical way, but it helps the farmer's wife and the farmer's children in their Boys' and Girls' club work. The Homemakers' Hour, a daily feature of the station, gives the farm woman just what she wants to know and furnishes entertainment for the entire family."

TRACK MEET TO BE HELD MAY 9

Entry Blanks Mailed to All Schools and Must Be Signed by May 4

Detailed plans and preparations for the Klamath County Field and Track Meet have been pretty well worked out and will be ready for the meet at the county fair grounds, Saturday, May 9, is the latest report from those in charge of this annual event.

Enrollment blanks were mailed out to all the schools of the county Monday of this week. These blanks the teachers of the various schools will use to mail to the enrolling clerk a certified list of those students participating in the meet. The enrolling clerk desires to call attention to the ruling that all these enrollments must be mailed to him on or before May 1, as the list goes to the printer May 4.

Posters for the track meet have been placed at the office of the county superintendent. School districts that have not already supplied themselves with these posters should get their allotment the first time they are in Klamath Falls, or should request them by mail if they cannot be secured by a personal call by the teacher.

Since much of the success of the meet depends not only on the committees in charge of it but also on the teachers in all the schools of the county, those in charge of arrangements desire to urge all teachers and principals to see that their school is represented at the meet, no matter how small the school may be, and that these entrants receive as much training as time and facilities permit. With all Klamath county participating it is hoped this will be the biggest school event of the year, and that it will lend a fitting climax to the year's work, not only in an athletic way, but in the development of mutual good will among the various schools.

SEEK BODIES

NEW YORK, April 22.—Officials of the Kokusai Steamship company, owners of the freighter Raifuku Maru, which went down yesterday south of Halifax, with her crew of 38, today announced that the Japanese consul Matsunaga at Ottawa had asked the Canadian government to send a ship to the scene in the hope of recovering the bodies. It was said that one of the company's ships would be dispatched to the scene from Boston and that a Canadian boat had shifted her course to save the scene today.
