Workers' Eyesight

Only those with perfect eyesight can do perfect work. The skilled worker therefore has vital need of good sight. It behooves him to take care of it, if he would preserve his skill. Eyesight has a cash value because it effects the quality of our work, and also because imperfect eyesight means imperfect health. Many nervous disorders are due to defective sight, and all skill quickly deteriorates when the nerves are affected. If you are a skilled worker don't take for granted the condition of your eyes. Have them tested. If they are right all well and good, but otherwise you can take steps to avoid trouble. We will tell you the plain truth, no more, no less.

Come in and have your glasses adjusted, no matter where you got them. We grind our own lenses from the rough glass to the finished product. We also repair any kind of glasses.

OWENS VALLEY FARMERS HERE

California Farmers Looking Into Klamath County Ranching Prospects

As a result of the efforts of Sam Head, who has been interesting the residents of Owens Valley, California in Klamath county as an available place in which to locate and invest, F. M. Dearborn and Ed Farrington of Bishop, California, arrived here last Tuesday. These men represent a number of farmers who are seeking a new location, following the sale of their property to the City of Los Angeles.

Since last Tuesday Dearborn and Farrington have been making a careful investigation of the various sections of Klamath county and are returning to their homes today, carrying with them a wealth of information for those who sent them here. In speaking of his visit Mr. Dearborn said:

"Ever since the City of Los Angeles appropriated the waters of Owens river, the farmers of the valley have been trying to secure a settlement. Negotiations have been carried on almost continuously.

"First one representative and then another would appear on the scene, the last stating that he was not bound by the acts of the former. Promise after promise was made, only to be forgotten or ignored as soon as the city's representative left. Finally the people got tired and took charge of the headgates and turned the water into the river. When the state refused to interfere and when Los Angeles saw that the time was at hand to settle, it did so, or at least made a start.

"As a result, hundreds of families are looking for a new location. A former resident of Owens valley, Sam Head, in whom the people have confidence, brought Langell's Valley to the attention of some of the Owens Valley people, and as a result Mr. Farrington and myself came here. I am frank to say that we found conditions better than he represented them to be. I am taking back soil from four of the valleys and such other data as will furnish my friends and neighbors with the information they may need to help them reach a decision.

"The farmers down there are selling their fruit lands to Los Angeles for $750 an acre and their alfalfa land for $375 an acre. Those who may decide to come here will be financed and will be an addition to the citizenship of your county that you will be glad to have. Personally I like it here and hope to return to make it my home."

The type of people living in the Owens valley is one that Klamath county needs. They are progressive, independent, experienced and comfortably fixed financially. Climatic conditions and methods of agriculture are almost identical and if they come here it will mean one of the greatest steps taken towards the ultimate development of Klamath county as a dairy section. Owens Valley is about 75 miles long and 7 miles wide and the population is in the neighborhood of 5,000. With the right kind of cooperation with Mr. Head, most of this population can be transferred to Klamath county.

Western Atmosphere Sought by Producers

Wild Western Atmosphere! That is what a number of "producers" of movie thrillers from California are looking for, and according to those in charge of the Mallin Round-Up and barbecue, scheduled for Sunday afternoon, they are going to get all the "atmosphere" they are looking for and a little more too.

The stage is set, the actors all primed for their parts, the horses are 'rarin' to go for the first Rodeo, pett though it may be, of the year. The morning will be spent in putting through their paces, a number of untamed ponies that the California men wish to obtain for a few new Western thrillers, Indian bucks from the reservation have volunteered to step their stuff on the backs of the bucking plutos. At noon, the tables will groan with good things, for beef will sizzle and Odeur d' Good Things will permeate the air. The remainder of the day, will consist of stunts for which prizes are offered in several features. A number of Klamath Falls residents are planning to attend the Sunday affair which gives fair promise of being one of the most interesting of the spring.
