The Lengthened Shadow

It has been said that an institution is but the lengthened shadow of a man. Or it may be of a group of men.

No where is this exemplified with greater force than in a bank. Public confidence is based not alone upon the bank's capital and resources, but upon the character and integrity of the men behind it.

The American National Bank in its many years of service in Klamath Falls has won the confidence of the people of this community to a remarkable degree. Added to the conservative, upright character of its management, is the priceless asset of good will.
